FOOTPRINTS USED IN N. Y. NURSERY

System Put in Use to Keep Children Identified and Parents Satisfied

NEW YORK.—By A. P.—A system of taking foot-prints of children has been adopted in the New York Nursery and Child's Hospital to prevent infants born there from going to the wrong mothers. Its adoption was due to the fact that a soldier's wife who recently gave birth to a baby in that hospital at first denied that the child was hers. The young mother, who had been reading stories of accidental substitution of children at hospitals and similar public institutions, declined to nurse the baby.

"We brought all the proofs we could muster", explained the superintendent, "but the mother persisted in her hallucination. She became hysterical with grief and fright. Finally I brought her our records which showed that only a little colored baby and her own had been born in the hospital that day. That convinced her, but just think of what would have happened to that poor woman if other white babies had been born here on the same day".

In order to avoid a similar experience the superintendent engaged a finger-print expert to instruct the head nurse in trying the system on the babies. "We found we couldn't get good prints of their hands", said the official. "There feet, however, came out beautifully and for greater security the mother is finger-printed also".

Very young babies, it was said, may look just alike but their feet are quite dissimilar. One child, the superintendent declared will have a perfectly formed miniature pedal extremity; another's will print mostly vague criss-cross lines and still another will look like "an egg and five toothpicks".

Under the present system, which has been in operation nearly six months, the child's foot is inked and stamped on the hospital chart of the mother. Although he may not resemble any one in the family and though no one can tell where he got his nose or his eyes or his mouth or the color of his hair, a comparison of the footprint taken at birth it was said, will tell whose child he is from among the hundreds of infants in this New York institution.

CONVICT IS RILED AT COURT

Tells Judge Kelly He is Too Busy Serving Sentence To Plead

SALEM, Jan. 10.—Fraug Wagner, now serving a term of 40 years in the state penitentiary for robbing a store at Astoria, today was sentenced by Judge Jeroy R. Kelly of the Marion county circuit court to serve an additional five years for the robbery of two merchantile establishments at Silverton.

When arraigned, Wagner tore up his copy of the indictment and told Judge Kelly that he did not desire to plead as he was too busy serving out his 40-year sentence. Wagner intimated in court today that he would be willing to return part of the liberty bonds taken at Astoria should the officials see fit to reduce his maximum term to what he considered a reasonable period.

From Lebanon—Dick Allingham, one of Lebanon's well known citizens arrived on the morning train to transact business here today.

From Independence—Dr. M. Russell, of Independence, made an official call here last night registering at the Albany.

Elk City—W. M. Small, of Elk City, registered at the St. Francis last night while in the city on a business trip.

Sweet Home Visitors—Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Moorehead, pioneer citizens of the Sweet Home country, were Albany business visitors here today.

Returns From Trip—Dr. Wallace Howe Lee, returned from an out of town visit on the early train this morning.

THOUSAND PER ACRE IS PAID

ROSEBURG, Or.,—an. 10—Forty thousand dollars for a 40-acre farm in the Umpqua valley was the record sale for this vicinity today. The property, located at Winstons, seven miles south of the city, and owned by Dr. E. V. Hoover, was transferred to Harry Winstons, a prominent fruit grower, who already has extensive holding. Thirty-one are in prunes, some of which are in full bearing.

It is considered one of the most desirable fruit farms in the entire Umpqua valley and is equipped with a drying plant and everything necessary for care of the fruit.
