PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH
 Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.
 Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every "air" passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

GUADALUPE DRAWS MANY

Shrine of Virgin and Sacred Jerkin are Mecca of Sons of Incas

GUADALUPE, Mexico. — Fifty thousand Indians from all parts of Mexico have just completed their week of homage to their patron saint the Virgin of Guadalupe and their pilgrim age to the shrine of the Virgin here, as sacred a journey as ever was made by Mohammedans to Mecca or Hindus to the river Ganges.

This ceremony marks the 388th anniversary of the traditional divine manifestation which resulted in the conversion to Christianity of virtually all Indians in Mexico and led to the erection here of a magnificent cathedral, several chapels and the shrine. It has been a week of prayer, church-going and fiesta for the Indians.

The incident from which the ceremony had its origin transpired, according to tradition, in 1531 when an Indian is said to have met on the present site of Guadalupe village the apparition of the Blessed Virgin who imprinted her image upon the cloth jerkin the Indian was wearing. This miracle so impressed the Indians that a shrine was erected here and later the cathedral and chapels. Through the succeeding centuries this has been the Mecca to which nearly all Indians of Mexico turn for one week during the year.

The jerkin bearing the imprint is still preserved in the shrine, encased in silver, gold and gems.

"Guadalupe Day", as the celebration is called, is a strange combination of devotion and unbridled hilarity on the part of the Indians. Guadalupe is within easy access from Mexico City and the festival always attracts many foreign spectators from the capital.

TODAY'S EVENTS

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Lansing today celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary.

A general conference of all the Japanese associations in Utah, Nevada, Arizona, and northern California is to be held in San Francisco today.

Representatives of England, Estonia, Livonia, Poland, Lithuania and the Ukraine are to confer at Helsinki today on united action to meet the Bolshevist menace.

Whether Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska or Senator Underwood of Alabama is to be the Democratic leader in the United States senate is expected to be determined at a party caucus called for today.

Vital problems now confronting those interested in construction will be discussed at the annual convention of the National Association of Builders' Exchanges, opening today at Indianapolis.

A campaign for the education of women voters in New Jersey will be inaugurated at a State conference to be held at Newark today under the auspices of the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association.

The last night before the United States goes "dry" is to be celebrated with "watch night" services in churches throughout the land, together with special meetings of the W. C. T. U., and other organizations.

The first local elections since the beginning of the war in 1914 will take place all over Ireland today, and remarkable interest is attached to the results because they are expected to show how far the Sinn Fein party is holding its own.

Conventions Opening Today
 New York — National Wholesale Dry Goods Association.
 Newark, N. J. — United American War Veterans of New Jersey.
 Cairo, Ill. — Southern Illinois Retail Lumber Dealer's Association.

TRAFFIC IN WOMEN IS HIT

Redmen Think of Quitting Tribal Customs of Buying and Selling Spouses

JUNEAU, Alaska.—The Alaska Native Brotherhood is endeavoring to stop the practice of selling Indian women in marriage and the custom of collecting blackmail by the Indian clans. The organization has appealed to Governor Thomas Riggs Jr. asking for the enactment and enforcement of laws abolishing these two practices.

The Brotherhood is composed of Indians but includes many influential citizens of the Alaskan territory. It asserts that the tribal custom of selling women for marriage is contrary to the principles of the American government and detrimental to the rising generation of Indian-Americans in Alaska.

Sporting Notes

Efforts are being made in New Jersey to have the limit of boxing bouts extended from 8 to 12 rounds.

Rumor has it that Tom Jones, formerly manager of Jess Willard, is willing to supplant Tom O'Rourke as pilot for Fred Fulton.

Pitcher Hod Eller's announcement that he had quit the game for good must have made Manager Moran of the champion Reds sit up as quick as that.

The University of Pennsylvania is the first to award the varsity letter to boxers. Now that the lid has been lifted boxing should flourish in the college world.

In the person of George Vernot, the 18-year-old wonder swimmer of Montreal, Canada has a likely candidate for Olympic honors at Antwerp next summer.

No boxing bout since the Dempsey-Willard mill at Toledo last summer, has attracted so much attention as the Benny Leonard-Johnny Dundee bout scheduled for Jan. 16 at New Haven.

Now that the wrestling game is on the top wave of prosperity, fear is expressed in the east that the "sure thing" gentils will get busy and give the sport a knockout.

Jack Britton, the welterweight champion, is anxious for another match with Benny Leonard. And as Benny is just as anxious to add to his collection of kale no doubt Jack will be accommodated.

Frankie Mason, the Fort Wayne claimant to the American flyweight title, will meet Jimmy Wilde, the British champion, at Milwaukee the latter part of this month.

Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, claims to have picked Johnson to win over Jeffries, Willard to beat Johnson, and Dempsey to take the heavyweight crown away from Willard. And the Battler adds: "And then they say old Bat is nuts."

The New York Yankees have never won a pennant, but they are the champion big money spenders for talent. Stars bought by the Yanks include: "Babe" Ruth, $100,000; Carl Mays, $55,000; Frank Baker, $35,000; Lee Magee, $25,000, and Fritz Maisel, $12,000.

Ask a Man Who Reads It

Don't take my word for it. I know it's the best in the world—but I'm selling it, so I'm biased. Ask a neighbor who reads it. Ask your banker. Ask your county agent. Walk right up to him and say: "See here, what do you think of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

And when he has told you, as he will, that it is the biggest dollar's worth of information, instruction and entertainment on the market today, send $1.00 with your name and address to me and I'll put you on the list for a year. That's fair enough, isn't it?

I particularly want to get subscriptions started with next week's issue, because a big new series of articles about the Swine Breeds gets going then. Also, there's a splendid series about Cotton, and another, that will interest everybody, about Big Country Churches. Then there are some bully big tractor numbers coming along in February—too good to miss. And before long there will be some bank articles by Herbert Quick, and a rip-roaring new mystery serial. All these in addition to the regular weekly crop and livestock features. Never was such a big dollar's worth of helpful reading matter as you'll get if you subscribe NOW!
