

KENTUCKY STILL HAS MUCH LIQUOR

35,000,000 Gallons of Booze Remains with Prohibition Starting Tomorrow

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 16.—By A. P.—Kentucky distillers still held several million gallons of liquor today; the last day before constitutional prohibition was initiated, notwithstanding attempts to export it. Last unofficial figures were that 35,000,000 gallons valued at approximately $400,000,000 remained in bonded warehouses. Its fate was in some doubt. Unless confiscated by the government, it was said, much of it probably will be sold for medicinal purposes.

Whiskey interests of this state waited until early December in the belief that the President, the Supreme Court or Congress would lift the wartime prohibition ban. When the Supreme Court held the law constitutional and neither the President or Congress raised the ban, they prepared for shipment of their stocks to foreign countries, but were said to have been only nominally successful.

About that time some Kentucky interests announced, following a similar announcement in Chicago, that they would institute a suit in the court of claims, Washington, at this month or early February in an effort to secure reimbursement from the government for the whiskey that remained in the country after today.

One almost immediate result of the permanent ban clamped down today may be the closing for good of the 300 Louisville saloons that survived the wartime law by conversion into soft-drink dispensaries. A number of the proprietors declared today that they cannot operate under present profits and therefore expect to begin new businesses.

Meantime, the real work of prohibition enforcement officers began today. They were said to be ready to suppress all violations of the law in this state.

STEEDS OF ST. MARK ARE BACK

Bronze Horses From Facade of Venetian Cathedral Are Returned

VENICE.—The four bronze horses which adorned the facade of St. Marks cathedral have again been put in place after an absence of more than two years due to their transfer to Rome where they had been kept to avoid capture by the Austrians or destruction by air bombs.

The horses are regarded as the finest specimens of ancient bronzes and, according to tradition, grazed the triumphal arch of Nero. In the reign of Constantinople, they were taken by that emperor to Constantinople. They stood until 1204 when they were brought to Venice and placed on St. Marks cathedral. There the horses remained for almost six centuries.

Napoleon, after he had conquered Venice, took them to Paris to adorn the arch of Triumph in the Palace du Carrousel. After his defeat at Waterloo they were returned to their original place in St. Marks, where they remained undisturbed for a century.

The horses stand five feet in height and are the only ones in existence representing an ancient chariot quadriga.

Reed College Soldiers Get Welcome Bonus

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 16.—Ex-soldiers and sailors attending Reed college had reason to be glad they enlisted from the Beaver state today when the first installment of a $10,000 allotment was distributed by the college business office. Each man received $62.50 as a present from the state of Oregon as a reminder that his services in the world war were appreciated. This sum represents state educational aid payments for the months of October, September and November. Under the terms of the soldiers' aid act, each ex-service man from Oregon receives $25 a month during his attendance at college.

In Edward the First's time four abbesses were summoned to parliament, and in the reign of Edward the Third half a dozen countesses were summoned.

BUSINESS MEN OF JEFFERSON MEET

Officers Elected; Light Question Discussed and Solution Presented

JEFFERSON, Jan. 16.—Special.—The Jefferson Business Mens League held their semi-monthly meeting Monday evening at the Oregon State Bank. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Geo. P. Griffith; secretary, E. E. Howell; treasurer, Geo. C. Mason. Many topics of interest were discussed.

The one of greatest interest to the citizens was the light subjects. For several months past the lights have been very dim and the question brought up was whether it was lack of proper machinery or lack of power. The city electrician solved the question by stating that if they would give him the power that the city was paying for he would give them the lights and there would be no cause for complaint.

Leather Money Makes Cheap Shoe Soles

MATTIGHOFEN, Austria.—Residents of this community in Tyrol are using leather money as sales for paper shoes. Fractional metal currency disappeared some time ago and the municipality authorized a big leather factory to stamp out little round 10 heller pieces from scrap leather.

This served the local business requirements until the people found it cheaper to use the leather money as a soles for their shoes than to buy the leather soles.

AGED MAN IS GREAT INVENTOR

California Citizen Patents 46 Inventions; Makes Labor Saving Devices

Thomas Edison, Henry Ford and Luther Burbank had better look to their laurels. The Southern Pacific has among its inventive geniuses Frank V. Carman, superintendent of the Company's West Oakland mill. Carman recently patented his forty-sixth invention, thereby improving on his record of one invention for each of his forty-five years service with the Company.

He began his railroad career with the establishment of the mill in 1875, starting as a cabinet maker. Today at the age of 68, he is well and vigorous and still is working on many important problems and labor saving devices.

The plant at West Oakland under the Stores Department supplies all the mill work for the entire Pacific System, including all stations, terminal buildings, roadway signs, wooden bridges, tank material, etc. Of historical interest is the fact that Superintendent Carman personally did most of the interior inlaid work on the Stanford, Crocker, Huntington and Hopkins homes, and also of California's famous resort hotels like the Del Monte.

Carman's inventions all deal with problems affecting the output of his mill and by reason of which the Southern Pacific plant has become one of the most effective in the country, an output of ten million feet of lumber a year.

As an example a new machine for making spike plugs will turn them out 12,000 an hour, faster than they can be counted.

Other Carman devises automatically turn out stave or stakes lumber or stakes, trace profiles of worn rails, turn waste logs into cattle guards and other useful articles, simply and economically.

Automobile Man Dies In New York Wednesday

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—John Dodge, of Detroit, automobile manufacturer, died here last night from pneumonia.

The career of John F. Dodge paralleled in many ways that of a majority of Michigan's leading automobile makers. It began in a small machine shop, included many struggles against poverty and failure and its close found him one of the motor kings of the world with a fortune estimated at upwards of $50,000,000.

Dodge was born in Niles, Mich., 54 years ago. In 1886 he moved to Detroit and shortly afterward he was joined by his brother, Horace E. Dodge. For years the brothers worked together as wage-earning machinists.

In 1912 the brothers announced their intention of entering the automobile business on their own account. The enterprise was successful from the beginning and under the impetus of the war it grew until today the Dodge interests employ approximately 18,000 persons.
