600 TO ATTEND C. E. CONVENTION

Albany to be Hosts to Crowd of Young People on Feb. 20-22

Six years ago the annual C. E. convention was held in Albany and proved to be an wonderful success. Homer Dowd was chairman of that convention and the citizen of Albany responded heartily to his appeal for financial aid and entertainment. This year the convention is under the direction of David Martin, of Albany College, assisted by Miss Bertha Lee. The committee wants to make this convention one of the best ever held in the state of Oregon, and it can be done if the people of Albany will respond as generously and as whole-heartedly as they have done in the past.

The young people of the city C. E. Union will canvas the city to find hostesses who will provide lodging and breakfast for the delegates from other towns. Miss Margaret Gibson, who is in charge of the entertainment of delegates would like to get the name and address of those who are willing to show their hospitality by carrying for as many delegates as possible.

The Chamber of Commerce has generously offered to assist in making this convention a financial success. The young people appreciate this offer but do not like to place the burden upon them entirely, therefore they desire the aid of the churches and all of Albany's citizens.

The plan is to make the U. P. church the convention headquarters for registration of delegates. The mass meetings will be held in the main auditorium of the First Presbyterian church. This church, as well as the Baptist church will be used for banquets on Saturday, February 21.

The State committee in charge of the program is securing the services of many noted speakers among whom are Dr. McAfee, of the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, Cal., and Paul C. Brown, International Intermediate Superintendent of the C. E. Society. The final draft of the program will be announced later.
