

The following editorial appearing in the Providence, R. I. Journal, is of interest to Oregon people, showing the effect of the recent football game on the east.

Football and National Unity
According to Mr. Kipling, East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet; and that may be true in the sense that he intended. But the twain certainly met at Pasadena on New Year's Day, when Harvard played the University of Oregon at football, and thirty-five thousand spectators from all parts of the country flocked to witness the match.

Raised have been many objections to long athletic journeys of the sort the Harvard team was compelled to take in order to compete in the Tournament of Roses. And possibly an event of this sort does not have a disproportionate emphasis on undergraduate rivalry. But on the other hand, it is worth a good deal for the people of the Atlantic seaboard to get, through the medium of the game and its attendant incidents a new glimpse of the Pacific Coast, and for the Pacific Coast in return to hear "Fair Harvard" sung to the accompaniment of a lusty band in the Pasadena grandstand, to listen to the cheers of the Crimson adherents and to be brought into touch, if only for a day, with the athletic and academic life of the East.

How much did the east know about the University of Oregon before this game? Perhaps it does not know very much now. The fact is that we have been very provincial in this part of the country, just as the people in other parts have been. We know a good deal, here in New England, about Cambridge and New Haven, but practically nothing of the college towns of the Far West, or the colleges themselves.

The University of Oregon was founded in 1876. It is a State institution, with a student attendance of two thousand. Eugene, the seat of the university, was settled in 1854 and at the last census was the fourth city in size in the state. One gazetteer thus describes it:

"Eugene, a banking city, capital of Lane county, Oregon, on the Willamette river, at the head of steamboat navigation, and on the Southern Pacific Railroad, forty-five miles south of Albany. It has iron works and machine shops, tanneries and manufacturers of wagons, furniture, leather, woollens, excelsior, sash and doors, etc. It is the seat of the University of Oregon and is partly surrounded by an amphitheatre of low mountains."

To most people in New England these facts are perhaps uninteresting. A good many of us flatter ourselves that we care only for the things "worth while," and remote college towns do not come within that category. But at Eugene a great host of young Americans are being prepared for their life work, as others are at Seattle, Portland, Berkeley, Palo Alto, Los Angeles and Claremont. And we are narrow-minded if we fail to develop a healthy interest in the higher education of that section of the country even if it is three thousand miles away.

Every inter-sectional game like the one at Pasadena on New Years, helps to strengthen our spirit of national unity, to make us conscious that we are socially, industrially and politically bound to the people of the farthest states, and that, in spite of neighborhood prejudices and interests, what affects one part of the republic affects every other.—Providence, R. I. Journal.

DINNER DANCE DANCE GIVEN AT HOTEL IS BY ASSEMBLY JOLLY AFFAIR CLUB ENJOYED

by Irene Hein Barrett

A very elaborate function on the weeks social calendar was a dinner dance given Friday at the Hotel Albany by Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Westbrook. This affair marked the formal opening of the new dance floor in the pretty dining room of the hotel. The members of the Assembly Club were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook at this time. The dining room was most attractive in ferns and Oregon grape. The pretty red and green color scheme was carried through. Oregon grape and ferns were entwined to form a chain were festooned from each corner of the room to the large pillars in the center. The balcony, where the orchestra was seated, was a tower of beauty, being almost entirely covered with ferns and Oregon grape. Japanese lanterns of red and green covered the lights and cast a pretty soft glow about the room. Four guests were seated at each table which was centered with a vase containing four balloons of red and green. These were the feature of the evening and each guest carried a balloon while dancing. The delicious dinner menu, served in eight courses, which was served, was a novelty.

MR. WORRELL AND MR. POWELL ENTERTAIN

Mr. Walton Worrell and Mr. Frank Powell were joint hosts this evening when they entertained a number of their friends with a dinner, the occasion being the anniversary of the birthday of both Mr. Worrell and Mr. Powell. This dinner is an annual event; this year it being given at the home of Mr. Worrell.

The dinner room table was prettily centered with a huge basket of red carnations. Covers were laid for 11 guests.

MISS YANTISS ENTERTAIN COLLEGE FRIENDS

Miss Irene Yantiss entertained several of her Albany college friends Thursday evening at a dinner party in honor of Miss Frances Downs. Miss Downs has been a member of the Freshman class in the college this fall and is leaving for her home in Portland today. Places were marked for Miss Frances Downs, Miss Gertrude Brade, Miss Ethel Irwin, Miss Irene and Miss Verna Yantiss, Mr. George Cheandle, Mr. Dan Lawrence, Mr. Lester Wilcox, Mr. Kenneth Seaven, and Mr. Randolph Kuhn.

MISS DOWNS HONOR GUEST

Miss Frances Downs was the inspiration for another delightful affair Thursday evening when the Freshman girls of Tremont Hall entertained the other Freshmen girls of the college. The affair was in the form of an informal gathering and luncheon given at Tremont Hall.

The smartest affair of the week was the dance given by the Assembly Club Monday evening. Moose Hall where the dance was held, was very prettily decorated with willows and scotch broom and brilliantly lighted incense lights and floor lamps. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of the following ladies; Mrs. R. N. Steelquist, Mrs. Ralph Cronise, Mrs. G. E. Fortmiller, Mrs. H. B. Cusick, Mrs. Dan Johnston, Mrs. Herman Abraham, and Mrs. Owen Beam. This was the third of a series of dances being given by this club, the next will be a masquerade ball, and will take place Feb. 22nd. The music was furnished by the local orchestra.

MISS VELMA DAVIS ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Miss Velma Davis was hostess to a number of her friends Wednesday evening at a covered dish supper. The pleasures of the evening were cards and needlework. Guests of Miss Davis were; Mrs. Floyd Shortridge, Mrs. Ralph R. Cronise, Mrs. Harry Van Huse, Mrs. Van Winder, Miss Pauline Burch, Miss Edna Laubner, Miss Vernita Proffman, Miss Stella Dorgan, Miss Claire Tillman, Miss Kate Stewart, Miss Christine Piper, Miss Volena Smith, and the hostess Miss Velma Davis.

H. D. W. CLUB MEETS THURSDAY

Mrs. F. C. Pate was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained the H. D. W. club at her home at 231 East Seventh Street. The pleasant afternoon was spent in needlework and music. The rooms and the dainty table from which the refreshments were served was adorned with a profusion of red carnations. Mrs. Walton Worrell, Mrs. O. D. Austin, Mrs. Charles Scholls, and Mrs. Clara Hand were additional guests.

LINER—ALDRICH WEDDING IS PRETTY AFFAIR

A wedding of much interest to Albany people occurred in Portland on Thursday of last week when Mr. Fred C. Aldrich Jr. of this city and Miss Grace Liner, of Portland, were united in marriage. The wedding was very quiet and simple and came as a great surprise to the friends of the young people. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Aldrich Sr., of this city. He is well known here, having spent most of his life in Albany and was graduated from Albany high school with the class of '16. He later attended Oregon Agricultural college and is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Liner of Portland. She graduated from one of the Portland high schools and later also attended Oregon Agricultural College. She is a member of Pi Beta Sorority. Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich Jr. made a short honeymoon trip to Albany visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Aldrich Sr. They will make their home in Portland.

NEOS NUPHIE CLUB GIVES SURPRISE PARTY

The Neos Nuphie club, and their husbands pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. Olin Nebergall Tuesday evening at their home on Madison Street with a delicious covered dish supper. A very pleasant social evening spent in cards and games followed the supper. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nutting and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hawton are new members initiated at this time.

LEGION TO HAVE SPECIAL JAZZ MUSIC

The American Legionners are giving another one of their popular dances tonight at the Albany armory. This dance promises to be a little better than usual, as the popular jazz Beta Theta Pi orchestra of the University of Oregon will furnish the music. This orchestra is very well known and recommended. It is one of the best on the campus at Eugene and plays for a large number of University dances. The floors of the armory have had special attention, and a large crowd is expected to attend. Many are coming from Eugene and Corvallis.

GRACE CHURCH MISSIONARIES MEET

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Grace Presbyterian church met with Mrs. D. O. McClain on Friday. The afternoon subject, India, was ably presented by several of the ladies. Mrs. I. G. Knoll leader was present with a certificate making her a life member of the Pacific Board of Missions in appreciation of her efficient work. Mrs. James Bryant made the presentation speech. Refreshments were served by the hostess. A special hour followed.

Boys and Girls Industrial Clubs Do Big Business

O. A. C. CORVALLIS—(Special)—Sixty-six thousand ninety-five dollars and two cents is the valuation placed on the livestock, corn, potatoes, garden truck, canned goods and other products produced by the boys' and girls' clubs of Oregon during the year 1919, according to H. C. Seymour, state club leader for Oregon. The net earnings were $33,995.40 after deducting for labor, rent, purchase of animals and all other materials.

Multnomah county led all the other counties of the state, with Clackamas, Coos, Douglas and Marion coming in the order named. All counties were represented. The figures are based on the reports of those who completed their projects, 2593 out of 13,600 fulfilling these requirements. Pork production shows a profit of $6625.75, cleared from 447 market

HAMILTONS

Style

Have you ever observed that some women do not look well dressed no matter how expensive their clothes? They seem to lack that something called style.

Style does not come from the clothing one wears, but from the figure that is underneath the clothing.

Some women naturally have a stylish appearance. It is the poise or balance of the figure that gives the easy, graceful movements when walking, stooping, turning, in fact doing anything that calls for the slightest muscular exertion.

The foundation of a correct figure is proper poise of the body maintained by the means of a properly poised corset.

MODERN CORSETS Front Laced

are poise designed. They are designed to bring out the latent beauty of form which is every woman's inheritance, and to add every possible touch of smartness. There is a style in a MODART for each type of figure.

A special fitting of the MODART Corset, which is free by our corsetiere, will prove to you their comfort and distinctly smart style.

hogs and 52 brood sows. Fifty-six members reported having finished purchasing registered hogs, which will be used next year in raising more pure-bred stock. Vegetable gardening ranked second in value, 470 members showing a profit of $6267.10. Poultry club members to the number of 293 raised 4702 chickens, 46 turkeys and 150 ducks and sold 2348 dozen eggs, making a total profit of $4,439.81. The canning clubs canned 9479 quarts of fruit, 3461 quarts of vegetables and 568 quarts of meat and fish, besides drying 434 pounds of fruit and vegetables, with a net earning of $3701.24.

The boys and girls of Portland enrolled in the bulk goat project report 64 goats cared for, which were valued at $2565.25, and making an earning of $2053.50. Rabbits numbering 3415 and valued at $5122.50 were raised by rabbit club members. Many of these rabbits were registered and are valued at from $5 to $50 a pair.

Motor Truck Repairs

All Motor Trucks eventually have to be repaired. Friction still exists. When figuring cost of repairs remember they are in direct proportion to first costs. All units of a six thousand dollar truck are based on its list price.

And every one of the six thousand dollars must carry its share of high production overhead—high sales cost. Every replacement part carries that same burden and its necessarily wide profit margin also.

Bethlehem Motor Trucks are neither underbuilt to meet a price nor overbuilt to justify a price. They represent the middle ground—the point where price and quality balance—the place where greatest value is reached. Their low repair cost is due to their stamina and to the low cost of repair units. Buy your Motor Truck on Facts.
