INFLUENZA TAKES TIGHTER HOLD

Health Officer Reports 20 Cases Now in Albany; Caution Necessary

There are now about 20 cases of influenza in Albany, according to Dr. Jos. Myers, city health officer. All are light with the exception of Shalem Hurd, 1006 E. 10th St., who is developing some lung trouble. New cases reported over Sunday include Mary McClain, maid at the home of Dr. W. H. Davis; Shalem Hurd; Chas. Medin, West 9th St. The disease has not yet become epidemic in Albany, but local physicians and health officials are doing everything to prevent its spread. Continued caution, they say, is necessary to keep the disease within its limits.

W. H. Ellingsworth Represents Order at Detroit, Mich.

W. H. Ellingsworth, local secretary of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Rail Road Shop Laborers, left this afternoon for Detroit Michigan to attend a convention of delegates of the organization. Mr. Ellingsworth will be gone about three weeks, and will no doubt be found on the firing line for the good of his co-workers in Albany and elsewhere.

Allies Not to Recognize Any Hapsburg Monarchy

Paris, Feb. 2. (by A. P.)—The council of Ambassadors formerly denied the rumors that the allies would promote or organize the restoration of the Hapsburg dynasty in Hungary. They said that such a restoration would be at direct variance with the principles of the peace settlement.

HOLLOWAY SELLS FARMERS STORE

City Councilman Disposes of Grocery Business to Salem Men

The D. H. Holloway Farmer's store, one of the leading grocery stores in the city was bought Saturday by J. L. Busiek and three sons of Salem, who own and operate two of the leading stores in the Capital City.

The sale comes as a surprise, as Mr. Holloway has been in business here for about seven years, doing a successful business and being identified with the progressive movements of the city.

Mr. Busiek and sons are successful business men and will receive a hearty welcome here in business and social circles. Mr. L. L. Busiek will have charge of the store here while other members of his firm will continue business in Salem.

Mr. Busiek is a business man of the right spirit and comes to Albany to run a legitimate business and believes in the policy of honest business and co-operation in building up the business interest of the town. The new owners began business today and will sell for cash or deliver on the C. O. D. system.

Frank Ward at Head Of the Druggist Association

Frank Ward a prominent druggist of Salem, was in the city Saturday on a business trip and to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ward and other relatives here. Mr. Ward is working in the interest of the state druggist association at present and travels over the entire state. He has served for about six years on the state pharmacy board of examiners and enjoys the distinction of being one of the most prominent men of the state in the drug business. Mr. Ward is a native of this county and has many friends here who wish him continued success.

POSTMASTER MYERS STANDING BY HIS GUNS AND REFUSES TO BE OUSTED FROM OFFICE; WILL FIGHT

CHIEF POSTAL INSPECTOR TAKES CHARGE OF PORTLAND OFFICE AND ISSUES ORDERS, BUT MYERS HOLDS ONTO PLACE; IS MATTER OF LAW AND TO BE DECIDED BY LAW, HE SAYS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 2.—By Associated Press—Postmaster Frank S. Myers, who has been requested to resign, is still holding his position today although Chief Inspector Barclay, who came from Spokane to take charge, issued the orders to employees, Myers refraining from issuing orders.

Myers said today: Service to the people is the most important; that will not be neglected. The contest over the postmastership is a matter of law and will be settled by law. No charges have been made against me and I refuse to resign.

Democratic State Chairman Harvey Starkweather telegraphed Senator Townsend, chairman of the post office committee, saying that a "high handed attempt is being made to remove Myers to please a faction of the Democratic party in Oregon."

TRIAL OF BISBEE COUNSEL CLASHES MEN STARTS AT MONTESANO

Three of 210 Who Departed 1,180 Striking Miners Put on Stand

Tombstone, Ariz., Feb. 2.—(by A. P.)—Three of the 210 men accused of kidnapping in connection with the deportation of 1,180 striking copper miners and sympathizers from Bisbee to New Mexico, in July, 1917, went on trial today. Fred Sandberg and James Boyd, mine shift bosses of the Warren Mining district and Phil Tovereau, a Bisbee meat dealer, were the first defendants.

Chas. Ballard, editor of the Halsey Enterprise, and the Shedd Bugle, was an Albany visitor today. Mr. Ballard is entitled to the support of the citizens of his respective towns and is doing good work in giving the news.

36 Tacoma Radicals Convicted by Jury; Review Denied Astoria Reds

Montesano, Feb. 2. (by A.P.)—The defense invoked its first preliminary challenge against Thomas C. Conner, a former liquor dealer of Montesano. The attorneys clashed, Judge Wilson being forced to call them to order several times.

Able said Vanderveer is "trying the jurors in and endeavor to show prejudice." Vanderveer said he had a right to.

36 Reds Convicted
Tacoma, Feb. 2.—Prosecutor Aker is elated today over the conviction of 36 alleged I.W.W. members charged.

RUTH ST. DENIS TRACES INTEREST IN DANCING TO REVIVAL OF INTEREST IN RELIGION THAT IS SWEEPING WORLD

Yes, she's here—the only and original Ruth St. Denis, who will be seen at the Globe Theatre Tuesday evening with the Ruth St. Denis dancers who are touring the west giving a program of interpretative dances.

Miss St. Denis, or to be entirely correct we should say Mrs. Ted Shawn arrived here yesterday from Denishawn, where she conducts a classic dancing school. She is now stopping at the Hotel Albany. The nine girls and Mr. Ellis Rhodes, who compose the company, arrived here Saturday and are quartered at the St. Francis. They played their first engagement of the present trip at Klamath Falls. Tonight they will appear at Corvallis, where Miss St. Denis will be with them for the first time on the trip. She will travel with the company for about two weeks and then hurry back to Los Angeles where her work keeps her busy.

Miss St. Denis is rather older than we had expected to find her when we talked at the Albany Hotel this morning. Her hair is beautifully white and she has grey eyes and dark eyebrows. She talks interestingly and smiles often and is a most delightful woman to meet.

"Yes, I am really going to dance for you tomorrow night," she laughed. "At the opening of the program I will give a short talk on classic dancing and in the second part I will give two numbers. One of these will be a Greek dance from Orpheus, which was first played at the Greek Theatre at the University of California. The music is by Gluck. Our program is varied, beginning with the music of Bach, who is known as the father of modern music, and continuing the development up to the present time, including five numbers by Debussy. At the time Bach wrote there was no classic dancing, so the dances will interpret the spirit of the music in its simplicity."

Miss St. Denis is engaging in a new enterprise for her in her school work. She has always been on the stage heretofore and her work was of a different character.

"In the ordinary stage dances the principal part is given over to the stage settings and the action. The music was subsidiary. Now the music dominates the stage. We take no liberties with music."

The dancers presented are more along the lines of the Duncan Dancers and differ entirely from Pavlova, Kossloff and the Russian school. She is basing dancing upon scientific principles, not only emotionally but intellectually. The Russian dance is more physical and emotional.

Miss St. Denis was forced into her present line in which she is achieving success. Financial necessity did it. At the close of a brilliant season six years ago she found that she had debts of about $8,000, for the presentation of dancing shows is most expensive. It was a case of getting down to work. And she, and her husband worked. They appeared on the Orpheus circuit during the winter and conducted their school in the summer.

Papils come to them from all over the country. Some have had experience, some have not. Out of the nine girls on the present trip, the cream of the entire school, about two thirds are college girls. They are not regular stage people, but differ from the ordinary actress and hold themselves aloof from that part of the profession.

"The revival of the art of dancing is directly traceable in my mind to the revival in interest in religion that is going on at such a tremendous rate all over the world. Dancing is as pure as music, but there are still many people who do not believe so. But they do not think music bad. I'll give you my definition of dancing. Here it is: To dance is the impulse of spirit to move rhythmically, proportionately and perpetually."

And judging from Miss St. Denis' reputation as a dancer we believe she is about right. Albany is favored by having Miss St. Denis here in person, for she will not stay long with her company.

PYTHIAN SISTERS WILL ENTERTAIN

Splendid Talent Engaged for Program and Banquet Tonight

Several of Albany's leading musicians and entertainers will participate in the program which will be given this evening at the banquet in which the members of Alpha Temple of Pythian Sisters will entertain the members of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias. This banquet will be given at 6:30 tonight in the dining room of the Knights of Pythias building.

Those who will participate in the program are Professor Charles South, instructor in violin in the Albany College Conservatory of Music; Miss Alice Clement, director of the College Conservatory; Mrs. Harry B. Cusick, Miss Una Hall, Miss Florence Eastburn, Miss Marcell Austin, and Miss Ethel Magers, all of whom have delighted Albany audiences heretofore.

Prof. South will give a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Clement. Prof. South is considered one of the best violinists on the coast. He is a Linn County young man who studied abroad for several years, and who is attracting more than statewide attention. He began his work as a teacher in Albany College before the war during which he served in the navy, and resumed his position as an instructor recently.

Mrs. Cusick, who is one of Albany's most accomplished vocalists, will sing, Misses Una Hall and Florence Eastburn, who are also very pleasing vocalists, will sing a duet, and Miss Marcell Austin, a delightful reader, will give readings. Little Miss Magers, who is only six years old and who is a most accomplished juvenile dancer, will dance the Highland Fling.

This splendid program which is considered especially strong, was arranged for the Pythian Sisters, by Mrs. Percy R. Kelly.

Members of the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters are looking forward to a very pleasant evening at tonight's banquet. After the banquet and program Laurel Lodge will hold its regular weekly meeting at which a large class will be initiated in the rank of Page.

TWO MEN FINED BY GAME WARDEN

Blodgett and Jefferson Men Plead Guilty to Illegally Shipping Beaver

Histrict Deputy Game Warden Ed. S. Hawer last week had cases at Corvallis and Jefferson where two men pleaded guilty and paid fines for illegally shipping beaver skins out of the state.

The cases were heard down from the U. S. District court. Ray E. Davis, of Blodgett, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $27.50. Charles C. Payne, of Jefferson was fined $26.41, costs being included in both cases.

A third case was against Arthur Wiscinopski, of Blodgett, who was 12 years old when the alleged illegal killing took place in 1918. Mr. Hawer recommended that the case against him be dropped on account of his youth and because his father died last year, leaving his mother partly dependent upon him for support.

The men are alleged to have trapped the beaver in 1918 when the law permitted their being caught, but did not permit their being shipped out of the state. The furs were sent by parcels post to the Shubert fur company, where government agents took up the case and brought about the prosecution.

Miss Nelda Rickels of Lebanon Becomes Bride of Glenn Buck

Glenn Buck and Miss Nelda Rickels, two well known young people residing at Lebanon were married this morning at the Methodist parsonage by Dr. J. C. Spencer in the presence of a few intimate friends. The newly weds returned to Lebanon and will go from there in a few days to the state of Kansas where they are to make their future home.

PEACE TREATY TO COME BEFORE U. S. SENATE FOR DEBATE AGAIN

Republicans and Democrats Agree to Call Measure up; Lodge to Move to Suspend Rules Monday.

LONG WRANGLE SEEN

No Difficulty Anticipated in Getting Required Two-thirds Vote to Bring Debate to Floor Again.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—By Associated Press—Renewal of the Senate debate on the peace treaty next week was regarded as virtually assured when Republican leaders decided to join with the Democrats in a movement to bring the treaty back into the open Senate today.

Senator Lodge planned to give notice today that he would move next Monday to suspend the rules and proceed to the consideration of the treaty. The motion will require a two-third majority, but it is predicted that more than that number will support it.

Should Lodge's motion fail the Democrats will try another form the following day.

Another long period of treaty discussion is expected. Leaders are expecting reservations.

Agreement is Reached

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The House and Senate conferees today reached an entire agreement on the oil land leasing bill.

Open Forum To Meet Tomorrow

The Open Forum, an organization of East Albany men and women, will meet Tuesday evening in the meeting hall of Grace Presbyterian Church. Ex-county Judge D. B. McNight was scheduled to speak on the negative side of the Single Tax issue, but on account of his inability to attend this meeting the discussion was postponed. He will come later. The regular meeting of the discussion was postponed because of popular approval. The public is invited.

Revivals Close At M. E. Church

Yesterday was a great day at the Methodist church. It was the last day of the services which have been held during the last four weeks, and the congregation was told that the revival in Albany Methodism had just begun. As proof of that, at the close of the morning service he asked the people present to pledge themselves each to win at least one person to the Christian life and membership in some church before June, 1920. About seventy-five took the pledge. Five united with the church, making more than sixty since the beginning of the conference year.

Peace Definitely Concluded, Report

London, Feb. 2. (by A.P.)—Peace has been definitely concluded today between Estonia and the Russian Soviet government, a wireless from Moscow announced.

Edward J. Thrift Called by Death at Home of Parents

Edward Jackson Thrift a well known resident of near Oakville, passed away in this city this morning at 10:30 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thrift, following a lingering illness. He is survived by his widow and son William Boyd, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thrift of this city and five sisters and two brothers. The funeral service was conducted at 2:30 this afternoon, Rev. Wilson of the Oakville church officiating.
