AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, to simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful hair restorative. It is not intended for medicinal purposes.

Using up Left-Overs in Croquettes

There is a popular fallacy that croquettes are hard to make, chiefly due to the fact that they are always associated with deep fat frying, in the minds of most housewives, who are not aware that they may be browned in hot fat in the frying pan instead, and are just as digestible. Chopped left-over meat or fish or canned tuna or salmon may all be used with equal success. Here is a good rule to follow in preparing any kind of croquettes:

Mix the chopped meat or flaked fish with 1/2 the same proportion of cooked rice, moisten well with thick cream sauce, gravy or rice stock, season highly, add just enough fine crumbs to form the mixture into croquettes, roll in fine crumbs and set in a cold place till ready to fry. They are always delicious served with heated Tomato Sauce.

Economical Gingerbread

2 1-4 cups flour, 1 cup light molasses 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup boiling water 1 1/2 teaspoons ginger, 4 tablespoons fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup seedless raisins.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients and add the raisins. Pour the boiling water onto the fat and when melted mix with the molasses. Stir into the dry ingredients, beat well, pour into a shallow pan that has been greased and bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes.

This makes a fine dessert if cut in squares and served hot with lemon sauce. Stale gingerbread may also be utilized in this way by steaming it for 15 minutes.

A Splendid Meat Substitute

Aside from the expense of buying and serving meat every day there are many persons who prefer to occasionally vary the meat diet with a vegetarian meal or a meat substitute. To these the following recipe for Italian Loaf will strongly appeal:
