BEATING BACK

(By Guy Fitch Phelps)

Man of the tan and the tundra Pal of the pass and the pine, Hear what my heart says to your heart,
And I'll hear what yours says to mine.
And here's what my heart is saying,
And here's what your heart has said:
The feet of the young spring are straying O'er the bars where the giants are playing,
And the nuggets leap out of their bed.
That the big game is spread on the border,
The gamblers are eager to play;
And the sluices of freedom are sweeping
The black sand of custom away.
There's your place and my place among them,
Sit up and we'll buck them to win,
For the gold of endeavor is better Than the selfish man's treasures of tin.

ERE YOU CONDEMN

By Grace E. Hall

Each man doth err not once but many times, Full well we know 'tis true; the strongest fall,
The bravest falter. Oft, alas! the cromes
That fill the day's account shock, most of all,
The one who fell, who never knew,
maybe,
The weakness handed down, the well-worn link

That snapped beneath the pressure instantly,
Before the mind had time to pause and think,
To weigh, consider and decide at will
The everlasting consequence for ill.

Ah, who shall say where real sin first began

In his own life? The frailties of man By man were given name and gauged by law;

Thus some sins, bearing titles, have an awe Because of what they're called; but each man lives

The fundamental traits his breeding gives,

Plus what environment in him has wrought,

Though e'en in choosing this he figured not

Till time had furnished him with ample years,

And sent him forth to reap through toil and tears.

Suggestion oft may 'rouse to furious bent

A sleeping demon by some forebear sent,

May spread an evil that shall sear and blast,

Although by judge and jury calmly passed.

Not by the name assigned, but by their blight

Should sins be truly measured. In the light

Of justice, some controlled by strictest law

Could often be considered but a flaw In man's behavior, measured fair and square

With others left unlisted everywhere!

'Tis difficult to vow what net is worst,
Or how far-reaching is the thing accursed;
Who then shall cry, "For shame!"
since all men err ?
Let each man count his own, when sins occur!

SLEEPING SICKNESS APPEARS IN ITALY

ROME—Sleeping sickness, or sleeping headache, as the Italian scientists prefer to call the malady which has appeared in Rome and several other Italian cities, is believed by Professor Giuseppe Sanarelli, the distinguished Italian bacteriologist, to be the same as that which followed other waves of influenza. Pope Benedict XIII died from influenza in 1730.
The after effects of the epidemic at that time were so baneful that his successor Benedict XIV waived the fasting of churchmen during Lent and similar action was taken by Pope Leo XIII in 1890, when there was another wave of influenza, or la grippe.

Professor Sanarelli, who has been studying the disease, says that the best way to avoid sleeping sickness is to keep the powers of resistance up to the highest point, as it seems to attack chiefly persons who are in a run down condition. He also warns the public not to be unduly alarmed about the disease, and says he is unwilling to concede it is highly communicable or contagious until the actual cause of the malady is determined. And he does not think the germ will be discovered until after extensive experimentation with the brains of monkeys, such an expensive work that it can be carried out only with the aid of the millions of some philanthropic millionaire like John D.

Rockefeller.

Why More Small Cars Come Equipped With Goodyear Tires

Last year, more small cars, using 30 x 3-30 x 3 1/2, or 31 x 4-inch tires, were factory equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

This is plainly a result of the high relative value produced in these small-car tires by Goodyear's enormous resources and scrupulous care.

They represent the same intense endeavor to supply utmost satisfaction in tires that has laid the basis for the marked preference which exists everywhere for Goodyear Tires in the larger sizes.

This real Goodyear value in tires is available for your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at our nearest Service Station.
Go there for these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure
Fabric, All-Weather's road $20.00 30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Any Road $17.65

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30 x 3 1/2 size in water—$3.90 proof bag.

Save Time—Fuel and Food Cook With Electricity

Electric Ranges are such efficient cooking mediums that they actually save two-thirds in fuel over the fuel consumption of the ordinary kitchen range.
Foods cooked Electrically suffer much less shrinkage than those cooked by other fuels. In addition, cooking being reduced to an exact science, there is less spoilage.
