

BLOUSES

The new blouses in all their dainty beauty are now shown in our waist section. Georgette Crepe with its sheerness and transparency is the popular material used. Scarcely any other fabric can take its place in the feminine fancy, as it blends with the prevailing fashions, besides being daintily attractive and durable.

Some are prettily trimmed with lace, others with fine tucks and hemstitching, still others are hand-embroidered in contrasting colors. Short sleeves take a prominent place in our display.

Georgette, Crepe de Chine, Pongees and Voiles are all priced very reasonable.

Blackstone agrees then to secure his freedom from the box in plain sight of the audience within the space of a few seconds.

A record crowd saw the performance at the Globe last night and marveled at the ingenuity of the exhibition. The crowd was kept in a continual state of wonderment at the dexterity and ease with which the magician produced articles from space and the likewise facility with which he made them disappear.

At the performance tonight the audience is promised several special exhibitions that promise to increase the perplexities which were occasioned last evening. A sample of mind reading and the intricacies of a spiritualistic seance will be shown with all the accompanying phenomena.

bringing interest to bear upon the development of the Quartzville mines in this County.

Besides his wife he is survived by his step-mother, Mrs. S. E. Wynne, of Cottage Grove; two brothers, H. F. and A. L. Wynne, of Cottage Grove and three sisters, Mrs. Herbert Eakin, and Mrs. J. S. Benson, Cottage Grove and Mrs. J. A. Merryman, of Tacoma.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending the arrival of Mrs. Merryman from Tacoma. The body is at the Formiller Funeral Parlor and it is likely that the services will be held Thursday and that Mr. Wynne will be taken to Eugene for his final resting place.

In Austria, if a sprig of mistletoe be placed on a bed-room door, it is believed that the inmates will have sweet sleep and no nightmares.
