VOLUNTEER ONIONS ACT AS TRAP FOR MAGGOT FLY

Protection Thus Afforded Weakens Attack of Young Plants in Regular Crop

Volunteer onions left in the field reduces the injury from onion maggots by 90 percent in the encouraging report of A. L. Lovett, entomologist at O. A. C. experiment station.

"It is the common practice in commercial onion production," says P. ofessor Lovett, "to go over the fields in the spring and remove all volunteer onions. Observations show that where these volunteer plants are left in the field they prove very attractive to the fly and it is on these plants they center their attack, leaving the young plants practically free from maggot injury."

"Such striking results were obtained in tests carried forward in British Columbia by Canadian entomologists and it is urged that our growers give the practice a trial."

"Leave 2 to 3 volunteer plants to every 100 feet in the row. Plants of a rather bushy growth at the surface are most attractive. Supplement this with a late thinning, removing at thinning time any young plants showing an infestation."

"After they are once thoroughly riddled by maggots the volunteer plants should be carefully removed, the adjacent soil examined and all maggots destroyed. In the absence of volunteer plants the seeding of one row of 'multiplier' onion about every 100 feet is suggested."

for a fair grounds. Erection of a central pavilion for industrial exhibits and administration and construction of five barns for stock exhibits will be undertaken at once. Estimated cost of these structures is in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Superintendents of the various departments of the fair will meet on March 13. Attempts to secure the conjunction of Benton county with the Linn county fair are in a fair way to succeed, it is reported. Several concessions have already been allotted by the fair board.

The fair board reports that every effort will be made to insure the success of the fair here and arrangements which will ultimately give Albany a race track and a racing program during the coming fairs are being inaugurated.

ALBANY WOMAN IS IN AUTOMOBILE GAME

Women can sell automobiles as well as men. This was proved yesterday when Mrs. Myrtle Owens, bookkeeper at the Highway Garage closed the deal with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blackburn, of Jefferson for a Hudson Super-Six. Mrs. Owens has long had the desire to sell automobiles and her pleasure in closing her first sale yesterday was a real one. She says that she is going to work harder and promises to make the other salesmen in the garage hustle to keep ahead of her.

HELD PROVERBS IN HONOR

Greatest Men in the Pages of History Have Left Testimony to That Effect.

That proverbs have always been dear to the true intellectual aristocracy of a nation, there is abundant evidence to prove. Take but these three names in evidence, which are in themselves a host. Aristotle made a collection of proverbs; nor did he count that he was doing herein aught unworthy of his great reputation; however, some of his adversaries may have made this a charge against him. He is said to have been the first who did so, though many others have followed in the same path. Shakespeare loves them so well that besides often citing them, and innumerable covert allusions, rapid side glances at them, which we are in danger of missing unless we are at home in the proverbs of England, several of his plays, as "Measure for Measure," "All's Well That Ends Well," have proverbs for their titles. And Cervantes, a name only inferior to Shakespeare, has not left us in doubt in respect of the affection with which he regarded them. Every reader of "Don Quixote" will remember his squire, who sometimes cannot open his mouth but there drop from it almost as many proverbs as words. I might name others who held the proverb in honor—men who, though they may not attain to these three, are yet deservedly accounted great.—Trench.

What the Hair Denotes.

A long and peaceful life is promised the owner of hair that grows low on the forehead and retreats up the head above the temples.

Coarse hair indicates humble birth and a coarse nature. Black, short, and curly hair indicates uncertain temper, a tendency to alcohol, and an amorous nature.

The darker the hair the more powerful the physical organization. Chestnut or brown hair denotes fairness in dealings, generosity, absence of deceit, but unhappiness in domestic life. Thick, straight and glossy brown hair indicates a robust constitution, energy, and eagerness in the pursuit of life; thick, coarse, and wiry brown hair, great determination of character; curly brown hair, a weak character, but natural ingenuity and ability; while dark brown long and smooth hair indicates faithfulness in love, many children, good health, and much happiness.

Freaks of Nature.

A cat that barked like a dog, recently exhibited at Boston, tops the list of numerous freaks discovered in this country. Recently, says the Detroit Free Press, a giant glow worm, 4½ inches long, was found in the Santa Cruz mountains. When placed in the dark a gorgeous effect was produced by the luminous rings circling its body. Mammoth fruit is of frequent occurrence, but in Southstake, Bath, England, a shocking case of plant over-eating was discovered. It resulted in seven daisies growing on one stalk. This freak, scientists said, was caused by fascination, which means over-eating. White blackbirds, canaries, linnets and sparrows have been seen and exhibited. The ocean, too, gives its share of curious freaks. A double-sided flounder, with both sides alike, duplicate fins and a misplaced eye, was caught some months ago.

Swamp Lands.

The swamp and wet lands of the United States are equivalent to three-fourths of the area of France. Much of the swamp land, however, is wet only after heavy rains and usually bears heavy vegetation. It is believed that large areas, if properly drained and cleared by public or private corporations, could be transformed into productive farms.

ULD BREAK OLD CUSTOM

Modern Girl Not Satisfied With Second Place, Even When Inscribed on Her Tombstone.

There's a certain old cemetery out in Jersey where, now and again, when visiting friends the writer strolls on Sunday. Many a story lingers about a neglected grave or a haughty headstone.

But two very-much-alive young people furnished her diversion one afternoon. They were engaged, that was plain, and proud of it. Theirs was a happy silence, broken by the girl's clear soprano.

"Do you know, George, what I've been noticing in this cemetery?" Apparently George did not.

"Why, on almost every tombstone marking the grave of a man and his wife, his name comes first, with 'and she' tucked modestly below. Take this": And she read aloud, "Thomas Springer. Died April 22, 1842. Age eighty-five years. His wife Annie, died June 2, 1888, aged forty-three years. You see even if the wife dies first her place on the tombstone is at the bottom. Isn't it queer?"

George had evidently not bothered much about tombstones. He'd been too busy looking at her. But it didn't really matter much, he thought.

"Oh, but it does," she argued. "It's another attack on a woman's individuality. Now, when I die, much as I care for you, I don't want my name to be a postscript on your tombstone."

Naturally George assured her that it shouldn't be, and they strolled on in tune with the infinite and the weather. It had been a glimpse of the twentieth century girl that would have amused Annie Springer, at rest beneath the moss-grown granite.

Integrity a Requisite.

Integrity is a prime essential to real success. One who is dishonest may pile up money, but riches are not important without honor and the respect of your associates. I try always to keep my word, no matter how trifling the circumstances, and never promise what I can't fulfill. I insist that none of our men make a contract that the company can't live up to fully. Any salesman discovered making an agreement in which is inserted a clause giving the company a loophole to escape from so filling the contract, will be given ten minutes' notice. This policy is so well understood that we never have to enforce the threat. I never forget that individual friendship, as well as corporation good will, is based on confidence; and the foundation of confidence is integrity.—Eugene G. Grace. In Forbes Magazine.

J. E. FARMER DIES IN PORTLAND AND IS BURIED TODAY

Funeral services over the body of the late J. S. Farmer, who died in Portland Saturday evening, were held this morning in that city from the Finley Funeral Parlors.

Apoplexy was the cause of his death. Mr. Farmer went to Portland for treatment for heart trouble two weeks ago and entered St. Vincent's hospital. During that time he had three strokes and succumbed to the last on Saturday evening. He was 57 years old and is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter.

Mr. Farmer came to Albany in August, 1918 and succeeded H. S. Logan as local agent for the Oregon Electric Ry. Co. During his residence here he made many friends who will regret to learn of his sudden death.

PORTLAND LUMBER MILLS SHOW FAVOR TO HOME BUILDERS

PORTLAND, Feb. 25.—By A. P.—Following the complaint from Walla Walla, Washington, of alleged discrimination being practiced by the Portland mills in selling lumber to local builders at prices lower than those quoted for export lumber, it was admitted here today by the millmen that a portion of their output is so disposed to stimulate home building operations.

NEGLECTING THAT GOLD OR COUGH?

Why, when Dr. King's New Discovery so promptly checks it

IT'S natural you don't want to be careless and let that cold or cough drag on or let new attacks develop seriously. Not when you can get such a proved successful remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery.

Cold, cough, gripe, croup does not resist this standard reliever very long. Its quality is as high today as it always has been—and it's been growing steadily in popularity for more than fifty years. 60c. and $1.20 a bottle at all druggists. Give it a trial.

Constipated? Here's Relief

Not that often harmful, always violent and temporary help that comes from harsh purgatives, but the comfortable, gratifying, corrective regulation of stubborn bowels so pronounced in Dr. King's New Life Pills.

Tonic in action, they promote free bile flow, stir up the lazy, thoroughly but gently cleanse the system of waste matter and fermenting foods, and give you keen zest for hard work and healthful recreation. All druggists—24c.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.
