

MAD MULLAH HAS BAD REPUTATION

Leader in "Holy Wars" Has Been Making Trouble for Many Years

NEW YORK, March 1.—Mohammed Bui Abdullah, the "Mad Mullah" of Somaliland, against whom British and Italian forces recently have been successful with tanks and aircraft, but who, himself, escaped, has caused trouble for the British for many years.

He began stirring up the natives of Somaliland in 1896, after making a pilgrimage to Mecca, and his "holy wars" sometimes have attained considerable success. In 1899 despatches said he was leading an uprising in the interior of Somaliland, and it was suggested that "a military promenade" be taken against him. That "promenade" grew into a desultory campaign which took three years and cost the British government $15,000,000. Even then, his power was only temporarily broken by the battle of Jidballi, for he fled with the remnant of his forces to Italian territory, destroying wells as he went and thus making pursuit impossible.

While he was only one of the lesser religious chiefs of his country, his pilgrimage to Mecca and his zeal in preaching the Moslem faith augmented his influence until he had collected a large army, in which were some of the best fighting tribes in that part of Africa.

He preached war for the protection of Islam and advocated the extermination of whites, and with the increase of his power began a crusade, aided by dervishes, which finally extended over the whole of Somaliland.

As the result of an agreement reached in December 1905, between Great Britain and Italy to offer the Mullah an assignment of a settled sphere in Somaliland, together with grazers' rights in certain parts of British and Italian territory, he undertook to observe peace toward Britain and Italy.

His next outbreak of consequence was in 1910, when he started a ferocious campaign against the sultanates under British protection, and slaughtered hundreds of tribesmen friendly to the British. Wide areas were laid waste and towns razed. The natural obstacles of the torrid desert country, combined with the Mullah's fanaticism won out, and the British decided to evacuate the country, for the time being. In 1915 he was again reported to be stirring up the tribesmen against the British, and his adherents were scattered by British forces.

"Mullah" in Somaliland means "leader" and because of Mohammed Bui Abdullah's fanaticism and his campaigns for extermination of whites, he—a religious leader—gained the title of "Mad Mullah."

GIFTED OPERA STAR TO APPEAR TONIGHT

Miss Josephine Martino Protege of Caruso Will Sing Here

With Miss Josephine Martino, one of America's most gifted singers, and three other high class artists appearing at the Methodist church in the Lyceum course the fourth number in the course bids fair to make a high record for the entertainment of Albany people.

Miss Martino is one of the well known Edison artists and is described as having a golden voice. During her musical career she has had a rapid rise. The great Caruso has taken a special interest in her voice and proclaims it one of the best. She is a young woman of exceptional personal charm as well as one of the sweetest singers in Grand Opera today.

The accompanying artists consist of a violinist, cellist and pianist, each one of them highly accomplished. Ellison-White company guarantee this performance will be of unusual attraction. Performance opens tonight at 8 p. m. in the Methodist church. Admission 75 cent and students 50 cents.

HORRORS OF HUN SUB WARFARE TO BE SHOWN HERE

An opportunity for the residents of Albany to derive an intimate comprehension of the ghastly terrors of the war-fare waged on the Atlantic by the "Huns" under-sea craft during the late war will be given here. Scenes showing the firing of the death dealing torpedoes, the explosions under their helpless prey, the drowning of hundreds of innocent victims and the ruthless shelling of escaping life-boats will all be authentically shown tomorrow at the Globe Theatre.

The management announced today that three reels of the official films taken by the photographer of the notorious U-35, pet of the Kaiser's submarines, which were captured by the British at the conclusion of the crafts most sanguine trip will be shown here tomorrow. Nothing ever equalling these pictures has been filmed. They were made with a studied intent to give a thrill to even the most blood loving "Prussian" for whose consumption they were intended and to whom, their portrayal was intended to give confidence in the ultimate success of this most brutal and barbarous form of German "Kultur".

The photographs were all taken from the deck of the submarine and show the destruction of hundreds of allied vessels. It was while returning to her home port that the sub was captured in the nets of the British and the films, which formed the basis for some of the indictments against German naval officers, were captured.

Returned From Marshfield—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Scott, returned from Marshfield last night where Mr. Scott had been called on business matters.

Moved To Eugene—W. D. Elkins, of East 7th street, is moving to Eugene to reside where he has a position.

Accepts New Position—J. L. Bunn, who has been a clerk at the St. Francis hotel for the last year, left for Centralia Washington this morning where he has accepted the position of clerk in the Wilson hotel. He is to be succeeded here by E. H. Green, who comes well recommended.

Nothing displaces fine and sheer white goods for the dress-up frocks of little girls. This year they are better thought of than ever, because it is the day of sheer cottons—fashion is smiling upon them. But always pretty cotton frocks of fine batiste, organdie, swiss or net are among the things that are counted on for the children's party dresses. They stand unchallenged for distinctness and for elegance. To match up with the beauty of these fabrics we must select fine, narrow laces, and fabric and lace are to be set together with fine hand stitching. Then everything is as it should be.

In the picture a little maid of eleven years or so wears a frock of fine white batiste employing narrow val lace and a little embroidery for its adornment. There is nothing unusual about it; it is merely a fine specimen of its kind and is sure to meet with welcome recognition. The frock has a short, baby-waist and a straight skirt. About the bottom of the skirt a row of insertion is joined to one of edging with a very narrow band of embroidered swiss and lengths of insertion are let in the skirt as shown in the picture.

Swiss in short panels joined with val lace insertion makes the little sleeveless overbodice finished with a lace edge. Both insertion and edging, joined with a narrow band of swiss embroidery, like that on the skirt, make the neck finish and sprays of fine embroidery appear on the two panels at the center of the front. Every needlewoman will know that it requires accurate, careful sewing to put this little frock together in the right way. But the result pays for the trouble. There is not so much work, but it must be of first quality. There are simpler ways of setting the lace and batiste together. Some frocks show rows of insertion running around the skirt at intervals of six or eight inches. This is not so difficult as it requires only straight lengths of the goods with the insertion whipped to the edges. Even an amateur may be sure of the required accuracy by following this model.

Very pretty swiss and net frocks rely upon tucks and frills of the same materials for their trimming. Tucks at rather wide intervals above three-inch hems and frills, finished with narrow hems at the neck and finishing the short sleeves, emphasize a desired simplicity in these frocks. Girdles and sashes of narrow ribbons seem to be long of them. Occasionally the frills are edged with very narrow lace.

These sheer frocks are to be worn over petticoats of the same fineness, or over silk slips. Organdies in light colors vary the choice and are used for lovely frocks. Only the first of the new offerings in party frocks for spring have arrived, but it is quite safe to use them as models to copy. Something different but nothing prettier will follow them.

"ONLY ONE THING BREAKS MY COLD"

"That's Dr. King's New Discovery for fifty years a cold-breaker"

NOTHING but sustained quality and unfailing effectiveness can arouse such enthusiasm. Nothing but sure relief from stubborn old colds and ourishing new ones, gripe, throat-tearing coughs, and croup could have made Dr. King's New Discovery the nationally popular and standard remedy it is today. Fifty years old and always reliable. Good for the whole family. A bottle in the medicine cabinet means a short-lived cold or cough, 60c. and $1.20. All druggists.

Regular Bowels Is Health

Bowels that move spasmodically next—should be healthfully regulated by Dr. King's New Life Pills. In this way you keep the impurities of waste matter from circulating through the system by cleansing the bowels thoroughly and promoting the proper flow of bile.

Mild, comfortable, yet always reliable, Dr. King's New Life Pills work with precision without the constipation results of violent purgatives. 25c. as usual at all druggists.
