Hundreds are Killed
The list of killed from the various towns in clashes between demonstrators and troops has mounted into the hundreds. There has been no direct confirmation of last night's reports of four hundred being killed in the bombardment of Kiel by a warship but there are apparently veracious reports of a hundred being killed and three hundred wounded at Dresden.

There have been probably over a hundred killed in Berlin suburbs and from a half a dozen to a score in other German centers where clashes have been reported.

BACON TAKES A DECIDED DROP

Nebergall Packing Company
Will Supply Product
to Stores

The high cost of living in Albany received a serious setback this morning following the announcement that practically all the local retail merchants would sell bacon for an indefinite period at 23 cents a pound. This is a reduction of over 100 per cent in the price which has been charged for the same article previous to this time.

The bacon will be furnished to the local merchants by the D. E. Nebergall packing company. This concern, which in the month of January last paid the stock raisers of Albany and the vicinity more than $23,000 and which has a monthly pay roll in excess of $4000 has undertaken to supply all the bacon that the residents of Albany want to buy at 23 cents a pound. The product will be handled through the local stores.

Announcement comes as something in the nature of a bombshell in the camp of the officers of the army surplus store which was opened in this city recently under the supervision of the Mayor and the city council. Both sides admit that the ultimate consumer is going to come out on top.

How long the price of bacon will remain at 23 cents a pound it is impossible to state at this time. The Nebergall Packing company avows that they will guarantee their product to stay on the firing line as long as the warring army bacon remains.

PIONEER JURIST DIES SUDDENLY AT THE DALLES

Judge Williams Galloway Stricken Visiting His Son

Judge William Galloway, one of the best-known jurists of the state and a resident of Oregon for 68 years, died yesterday at The Dalles while visiting a son, Francis V. Galloway, district attorney of Wasco county. Mr. Galloway was 75 years of age.

Born in Wisconsin in June, 1845, Judge Galloway came west across the plains by ox team with his father and mother at the age of 7 years.

He entered Willamette university at the age of 19 and was graduated with the class of 1868. Following his schooling he returned to Yamhill county, where he taught school for several years and engaged in farming with an older brother, Frank V. Galloway.

In 1874 he married Miss Emma Baker in Yamhill county, and in 1876 he was elected to the lower branch of the state legislature, serving for three consecutive sessions as a representative from Yamhill county.

In 1904 Judge Galloway was elected circuit judge of the old third judicial district and was re-elected in 1910. He retired from active participation in public life after the completion of his second term as circuit judge.

During his early days in Yamhill county Judge Galloway owned warehouses at McMinnville and was one of the largest grain operators in that section of the state at that time.

Judge Galloway is survived by three children, Charles V. Galloway, Portland; Miss Zilpha V. Galloway, a medical student of Portland, and Francis V. Galloway, district attorney of Wasco county.

James Bault, Aged 15, of Tallman, Arrested at First National Bank while Cash-ing Bad Check.

TELLER IS SUSPICIOUS

Investigates Instrument and Learns of Forgery; Boy
Held for Hearing in Juvenile Court Saturday.

As a result of a daring attempt to pass a forged check drawn on J. E. Jenks, warehouse proprietor at Tangent for the sum of $250, which occurred at the First National Bank in Albany Tuesday afternoon, a boy named James Bault, aged 15, in the county jail awaiting his summons to appear before the juvenile court.

The boy is the son of Elmer Bault, a farmer residing near Tallman. He was arrested in the lobby of the bank Tuesday afternoon shortly after he had presented what was an apparently a clumsy attempt to forge the signature of Jenks to a check made out to Eddie Peder. John Bryant, teller who received the check was suspicious of the signature and detained the boy until Jenks had been reached. Learning beyond a doubt that it was forged, the bank notified Deputy District Attorney Marks, who detained the boy until the police could be reached.

Following his arrest Bault at first denied the forgery but upon learning that Jenks had repudiated the check broke down and confessed. He refused to say what he intended doing with the money. The first story that he told was that he had sold a machine to Jenks and received payment by the check.

ALBANY COLLEGE IS GIVEN HONOR

Designated As One of Four State Institutions By Movement

Albany College has just been designated by the Inter-church world Movement of North America as one of the four Oregon colleges where they desire that young people be trained for places of World leadership about 100 colleges in the United States have been so designated. The Inter-church Movement made a survey of American colleges and it is on the results of this survey that the decision is made by the Inter-church people.
