HOLMES IN "TAXI" A CLEVER COMEDY

Taylor Holmes, the renowned comedian of stage and screen, is at the Globe tonight in his latest success, "Taxi," a snappy comedy made from a magazine story by George Agnew Chamberlain. Here is a play of many comedy possibilities in which Mr. Holmes acquires himself to the very last opportunity.

"Taxi" was written principally for laughing purposes, although there is an engaging love story to cement the "heart interest."

Holmes plays the role of a taxi driver who makes all-night cruises around the districts where bright lights gleam, finally driving his way to happiness and fortune under the most unexpected circumstances. Mr. Holmes has established himself as a screen star through frequent appearances in such successes as "A Pair of Sixes," "It's a Bear" and "A Regular Fellow."

Readers desiring information concerning the motion picture world relative to players, addresses of film producing companies, scenario writing etc., may secure the same by writing to the motion picture editor of The Democrat. Enclose a stamped envelope if a personal reply is wished. The Democrat has concluded arrangements with the First National Exhibitors Circuit of New York, for personal answers to all questions asked.

PAULINE FREDERICK APPEARING IN "ZAZA"

There are few actresses in motion pictures, whose artistry, personality and talents have won for them a large following than that enjoyed by Pauline Wallace Reid in "The Love Burglar" one of the latest Arcraft successes which Messrs Hill and Hudson announces will be shown in this city in the near future.

Frederick, the charming Paramount star, who will appear in a splendid portrayal of the title role of "Zaza," which is at the Rolfe tonight.

This picturization of the celebrated French play, in which Madame Bernhardt appeared periodically for many years, it is said is one of unexampled magnificence. The role of "Zaza" is one that demands the best efforts of the actress portraying it and its exactness is of the order requiring the highest ability for its proper presentation. In this portrayal Miss Frederick rises to heights of power seldom reached by screen actresses in like portrayals.

Entertainment and musical program will be given tonight by the Corvallis high school orchestra under the auspices of the Albany high school band, at the Albany high school at 8 o'clock. Program will be as follows:

Echoes from the Opera by High School Orchestra; Minuet by High School Orchestra; Violin Solo by Helen Laumeister; Reading by Virgil Prindle; Banjo Stunts; Bowl of Roses by High School Girls Double Quartet; Miserere from Il Trovatore by High School Orchestra.

Chalk Talk by Raymond Bethers; Vocal Solo by Percy Blackstone; Clarinet Solo by John Whitmore; Morning Mood, by High School Orchestra; Gob-

Albert Roscoe, playing in the picture, "The Branding Iron" under the direction of Reginald Barker, has a peculiar pastime—boxing with his wife. Aside from being "handy with the gloves" Mrs. Roscoe is California state golf champion.

"Any man who thinks a woman wears pretty clothes to catch his eye and attract him is vain, conceited, egotistical and wholly mistaken," says Edith Roberts, the little Universal star recently seen in "Lasca" and "The Triflers." "It's just an old-time fallacy," she says. "Not one man in a thousand appreciates the difference between a Paris model and a Sixth avenue creation—and every woman knows it."

Miss Albany Let Us Introduce You To Miss Manhattan

She's a distinctly smart young lady—youthful and spirited—with an air of good taste about her whole costume.

Sometimes she calls on you in a trim suit, modishly displaying the season's newest silhouette, sometimes she makes her debut in a smart, useful-looking top coat distinctly swagger. Whichever it may be, it's always new, and well tailored from excellent materials.

Let us introduce you to Miss Manhattan the next time you come to our store.

The Light That Lies In A School Boy's Eye

looks holes thru' weak knees, thin seats and feeble elbows.

It's these three points of a boy's anatomy that kick up all the rumpus. Who ever heard of a boy being patched at the collar?

Here's a little trick that we use in buying for our boys. Perhaps you may want to put it into practice in buying for yours:

Choice Country Sausage
30c per pound

Our special for this week will be another offering of delicious country sausage. We are today butchering a fine, prime hog which we will turn into sausage for tomorrow's sale.

Choice Prime Beef

Again we are able to offer to the people of Albany the best beef that has come to this vicinity for some time. We have purchased a car load of corn-fed steers, large and fat, just in the right condition.

A roast or a boil from one of these choice critters will be better than turkey for your Sunday dinner. We also have fish, oysters and crabs.
