

LEBANON MEN WORK HARD FOR NEW ROAD

Committee of 15 Go Before the County Court Yesterday in Interest of Highway.

SENATOR M. A. MILLER PLEADS FOR NEW ROAD

Members of Local Commercial Club Accompany Lebanonites --- Means Much to Linn Co.

To urge the necessity and explain the importance of the proposed new Cascadia road, fifteen prominent business men of Lebanon and the same number of members from the local Commercial club went before the county court yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and for two hours, the principal speakers of the two committees expounded facts in regard to the necessity of building the road.

This is considered one of the most important and necessary strips of proposed road construction that has come up before the Linn county court in some time. The road is proposed in a petition which came before the county court at the last session, calls for a highway from Shea's farm at Foster, thence running for a distance of 6 miles along the Santiam river to Neneers place. This would make it run on a level with the river, thereby doing away with the present road, which runs over deep cuts in the hills and which is reputed to be practically impassable in seasons of the winter and extremely hazardous in summer. From an order of the county court the road was surveyed and viewings appointed to investigate its feasibility and their report has been filed with the court and it is understood that it is favorable to the proposed new highway. It is estimated that its construction will cost approximately $15,000.

It is held that if this road will be constructed as proposed, it would mean that the splendid summer resort of Cascadia would thrive, people from far and wide visiting there every summer, sight-seers from abroad would go into the mountains for the benefit of the scenery and to visit that remarkable shrine of nature, Clear Lake and other places of interest. People from across the mountains would come into this county to trade, instead of going as they now do, to Eugene and Lane county by way of the McKenzie route. An enormous trade from the other side of the mountains would result, it is held, as has in times before happened before the road facilities became so imperative to danger and inaccessible to travel.

When interviewed in his room at the Hotel Hammel, Hon. M. A. Miller, chairman of the Lebanon contingent said that he had been advised by authoritative officials of the Southern Pacific railroad that that road would inaugurate a railroad service to Cascadia and other points in that section, conveying passengers by a substantial automobile transportation system from the nearest railroad points provided that a change in the highway for the better would be made.

"We can't quite conceive the good result that would be obtained from this road," said Mr. Miller. "It would increase trade, it would bring thousands of tourists into this section, and it would serve as the first step towards the safe exploration of beautiful tain sections."

An now it appears that this new highway is to become a realization for it was intimated that the county court would act favorably on the proposition.

TEBAULT REAL ESTATE CO. TO MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

J. C. Galbraith to Erect a New Building at Corner of Fourth and Lyon Street.

J. C. Galbraith, owner of the old Brandeberry property, corner of Fourth and Lyon streets, will start the erection of a modern brick building on the lot on the south side of the house, Monday morning. The dimensions of the building will be 16 x 34 feet.

It is expected that the building will be completed by May 5 at which time it will be occupied by the real estate firm of the Tebault Real Estate Co., Inc., which is now located on the opposite corner.

The new building will only be one story high but will be modern and up to date in every respect. It is the desire of the real estate firm to move in better and more adequate quarters, and through its enterprising spirit, Mr. Tebault prevailed upon Mr. Galbraith to erect the building on which a lease will be taken.

Mrs. Cochell and grandson went to Lebanon this morning for a visit. Servigley Morris, of Lapa, Calif., arrived this morning on his way to Lebanon on a visit with his brother and family. Mr. Morris is a former Linn county man, a pioneer of 1852, and tries to come back once or twice a year.

COUNTY COURT WENT TO HARRISBURG THIS MORNING

Matter of New Road at That City Calls the Attention of Road Masters.

Judge Bruce McKnight and Commissioners T. J. Butler and O. H. Russell, composing the Linn county court, went to Harrisburg this morning to personally investigate the matter of a petition asking for a new road leading out from that city.

The county court remained in session here all day yesterday. The afternoon session was partially consumed in hearing the appeal of the large delegation from Lebanon and the local commercial club in the interest of the proposed new Cascadia road. At the morning session many bills were audited after which the court took up the matter of several road petitions, with the result that they will personally investigate the road matter at Harrisburg.

Many road supervisors of the county have been in attendance during this term of the court.

STOCKHOLDERS TO MEET MONDAY TO ELECT OFFICERS

Meeting of Albany, Gun and Country Club Will Convene at Court House.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Albany Gun and Country Club at the court house Monday night at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing permanent officers for the association.

The stockholders of this club met at the Commercial club the middle of the week and adopted the by-laws and all other preliminary work has been done toward perfecting a permanent organization with the exception of electing officers, and it is hoped that all of the stockholders will be present at this meeting.

The organization of this club has met with great success and nothing came up to hinder its rapid completion, which all goes to show that local sportsmen have taken a keen interest in the proposition.

The leading attraction of the past week, for many people, was the Chicago Grand Opera Company, which gave four performances in Portland at the Orpheum Theatre this week. It was a rare treat for the music lovers of Oregon to be able to hear so many of the well-known artists at the same time. Madame Louisa Tetrazzini, Mary Garden, and Caroline White were greatly appreciated by the audiences and all three played to packed houses. The smart set of Portland were all out and arrayed in their very best and with the gorgeous gowns and rich and costly jewels, the appearance made was surely one of splendor hard to describe. The men must not be left out for they, too, with their dress suits, added much to the beauty of the occasion. Among the Albany people going down were: Misses Flora Mason, Louise Blackwell, Winnie Austin, Aileen Leech, Claire Tillman, Mae Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sox, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pollock and son, Mrs. J. W. Cusick, and Dr. H. M. Ellis.

An unusual affair of the past week, was the one given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John A. Shaw, 530 West Third street; the grandmother's of the First Presbyterian church, acting as hostesses. These women kept open house to about one hundred young ladies of this city. A domestic science table was presided over by Mrs. Washburn and Mrs. Shinn, where the dainties of home cooking could be purchased for a small fee. A unique feature of the afternoon was the guessing contest. Fifty-five advertisements were taken from the local papers, the names of the advertisers cut off and the guests were requested to fill in the names of the different advertisers. This idea served to show how amny people were familiar with home advertisements. Indeed this was an interesting afternoon to the ladies who attended. The grandmothers who entertained were: Mesdames J. K. Weatherford, J. A. Shaw, C. W. Seers, Lewis Miller, D. P. Mason, Stermer, J. W. Cusick, Woodcock, Lee, Trumbull, Coffey, and Porter.

Mrs. J. C. Irvine was the hostess to the members of the Monday club this week. Dr. Franklin presided. The subject of the evening was a paper on "Demonology," read by Dr. W. P. White. Other speakers were Dr. Sharp and Prof. Flo. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Leitha McCallough.

SUIT TO FORECLOSE LIEN IS POSTPONED

Damage Case of McGilvery Vs. Watson Was Set For Trial This Morning.

ABSENCE OF MAIN WITNESS FOR PLAINTIFF IS CAUSE

Involves Sum of $570 For the Erection of Addition to Magnolia Laundry Building.

To foreclose a lien for damages incurred in the erection of an addition to the Magnolia laundry building, which he alleges he was authorized to erect by a contract from the defendants, the damage suit of A. W. McGilvery against Mrs. M. E. Watson, as set for trial in Judge Galloway's department of the circuit court for this morning did not come up because of the absence of an important witness for the plaintiff. A. L. Simpson, manager of the Magnolia laundry, is the witness and when an officer of the court appeared at his place of business this morning with a summons, Mr. Simpson could not be found.

The suit involves a sum of $570 which the plaintiff alleges is due him for the material and labor and painting of the new addition on the east side of the laundry building located on East First street. The defendants in the case are Eugene people and are Mrs. M. E. Watson, Richard G. Watson, Henry C. Watson, and Katherine Watson.

In the complaint it is charged that in October, 1912, the plaintiff and defendant entered into an agreement, whereby it was agreed that the plaintiff was to furnish material to erect an addition to the east side of the Magnolia laundry building. The terms agreed upon according to the complaint was that the plaintiff should furnish all labor, material and paint the new structure, for which he was to receive the sum of $519 plus a commission as contractor, of 10 per cent making a total of $570.90. The job was completed October 29, 1912.

In reply to this the defendants filed a demurrer alleging that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for suit against them. In answer they virtually deny every allegation in the plaintiff's complaint, with the exception of a few points, stating that the said contract was for the construction of the addition given to Andrew Taucher and that it was entirely unknown and unauthorized that the plaintiff A. W. McGilvery, had anything to do with the construction of the building.

In short it is claimed that the subject of the suit arose over the fact that Mrs. Watson the owner of the building authorized the improvements to the establishment as stipulated in a contract to Andrew Taucher. It seems that Taucher relinquished the contract to McGilvery, who in conjunction with Taucher went ahead with the work, making additional improvements, which it is understood, were not contained in the contract. It appears that A. L. Simpson, the lessee of the building, figures in the case in this point, as it is alleged that he authorized the additional improvements over which the difficulty arose. The case is now postponed until the May term of Judge Galloway's court. Hewitt & Sox are attorneys for the defendants and Gale S. Hill represents the plaintiff.

Mrs. Leininger was hostess to the members of the Priscilla club on Thursday afternoon at her home 824 Ferry street. At the same time the hostess entertained a few friends for her mother, Mrs. Miller. The afternoon was passed in sewing, after which a dainty collation was served by the hostess assisted by Misses Mildred Ellis and Eleanor Bruce. Mrs. Leininger complimented on this occasion besides the Priscilla club members, Mesdames C. C. Page, A. H. Hart, Hand, Laughland and Goff. Mrs. Miller's guests were: Mesdames Trumbull, Washburn, Crosby, D. P. Mason, Shaw, Hart, Woodcock, C. M. Monteith, Stermer, Merrill and J. W. Cusick.

Miss Flora Mason returned Wednesday from Portland after a week's visit with friends and relatives.

Last Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian church, the boys of Miss Margaret Jack's Sunday school class enjoyed a "cob-web" party. The evening was passed in playing games and light refreshments were served.

Tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the parlors of the Hotel Hammel, the faculty of the Albany College will tender a reception to the members of the graduating class of 1913 of the Albany High school. At 8 p. m. a banquet will be given in the banquet room, followed by toasts given by many prominent men of our city and Dr. Parsons of Eugene.

The Modern Travelers met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. S. E. Young of 628 Ferry street. Two very interesting papers were read, one on "Scenic Places in New Mexico," by Mrs. C. V. Littler, and another on "Possibilities of Universal Peace," by Mrs. A. H. Martin. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. Allen Ritchie of Portland arrived yesterday morning for an over-Sunday visit with his parents of Fifth and Ferry streets.

The Golden Rule

48 BUSY STORES

We have come to stay for the reason there is room here for a store of our kind. Our business methods spell economy for you in the fullest sense of the word.

We will make your almighty dollar do a double duty.

We operate 48 busy stores in eight different states.

We buy factory outputs only. We eliminate the jobber entirely. This means a saving of 25 per cent to you.

Our margin of profit is the wonder of many merchants. They cannot see how we do it. We believe that a nimble sixpence is better than an idle shilling. Our stocks are always new. Mail orders from those living at a distance will be promptly filled on the 24 hour schedule. We do an enormous mail order business in other cities, simply because we can quote as low and in many cases, lower prices than the Eastern mail order houses. The reason so much money goes to these Eastern mail order houses is because the home merchants haven't got the right prices. So we step in here and offer you the best brands of staple and novelty merchandise at as good and better prices than our Eastern friends. The power of selling right lies in the power of buying, and our business is eagerly sought for by all the large Eastern mills and factories, as we contract for gigantic quantities of merchandise for our 43 stores, and bring them to you fresh new and snappy values at a direct saving of 25 per cent over our competitors.

Come in, one and all, there won't be any music or flowers. We haven't got the swellest looking store in this good town, but we will give you the swellest merchandise for less money than you have ever bought. Every article is a genuine bargain. There are no leaders or catch penny articles here and there to draw you on, but everything in the store is honest value, one price every day, week and month, and with such weapons we aim to get your confidence.
