Corvallis Seen of Spectacular Events Yesterday Performed by Cadet Soldiers.

RAIN DELAYS EARLY MORNING PROGRAM

Ceremonies Open with Regiment Passing in Review Before Captain Merry.

Throngs of visitors from all parts of the valley, went to Corvallis by automobiles and over railroads, yesterday to witness the spectacular government inspection of the military department of the Oregon Agricultural College and to enjoy the other festivities arranged for their benefit. The day was truly a gala one for Corvallis, and President Kerr and a corps of college instructors assisted by leading Corvallis people proved themselves to be affable hosts in receiving vast crowds of visitors who crowded every spot of the big campus.

The morning program was marred to considerable extent by persistent showers and finally drove the military participants and spectators to the big armory, where a big portion of the ceremony was carried out. However, Old Sol made a gracious and appreciated appearance before noon and the campus and baseball grounds were in fine shape for the afternoon ceremonies.

The realistic maneuvering of the contending armies of the Reds and the Blues in the sham battle was the feature of the day. The battle took place on the campus in the afternoon between the two battalions of the cadet regiment constituting the armies.

The Red army was commanded by Cadet Major W. L. Dutton and the Blue army was under the command of Cadet Colonel C. P. Moffit. The Red army was making its way from Newport to Albany and was engaged by the enemy on the college campus and after the entire forces conducted a series of maneuvers the hostilities were declared off, amidst the cheers and yells of hundreds of spectators. It was a most realistic sight to watch the two forces maneuvering on the campus. An advance guard, constituting the Blue army discovered the enemy as they entered the south end of the campus and immediately reported the case to the commander of their main body. Major Dutton deployed his men across the entire north end of the campus, concealing them behind trees and bushes. In the meantime the advancing Reds detected a patrol of the enemy and immediately deployed in line of skirmishers and conducted a series of advances across the entire campus into the ambushed lines of the enemy when the battle ensued.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the ceremonies were opened when the O. A. C. regiment in column of companies passed in review before Captain W. T. Merry, general staff United States Army, inspection officer; Colonel G. E. Young, Captain J. H. Page, Lieutenant J. C. Fairfax and R. T. Snow, all of Vancouver Barracks, and Lieutenant C. F. Endicott, of Portland, and Captain C. A. Murphy and Lieutenant S. E. Trask, of the Oregon National Guard. Formal inspection of the regiment by Captain Merry followed and the remainder of the forenoon was devoted to competitive drills.

The Bodie banner, a trophy awarded annually to the prize company, was won by Company F, Captain Rowley Crut, of Wellen, Or., commanding.

DR. RUSSELL WALLACE TO LEAVE FOR EAST MONDAY

To Take Post Graduate Course in Surgery and Study New Treatment.

For the purpose of taking a post graduate course in surgery and to study the new serum and vaccine treatments recently introduced into the medical world, Dr. Russell Wallace will leave Monday morning for the East. He will be away for two months after which he will return here to resume his practice.

From here the doctors destination will be direct to Rochester, Minn., where he will consult with the renowned physicians and surgeons, Mayo Brothers. He will spend some time there studying the methods and observing these well known authorities operate in different cases. Dr. Wallace will then go to Chicago, where he will spend a month at the different hospitals of the metropolis. He is to specialize in surgery.

Miss Gertrude Taylor, Miss Elsie Bann and Neil Bain went to Eugene this afternoon to attend the Junior Prom which will be given this evening by the class of the University.

O. A. C. WON OPENING GAME FROM WASHINGTON FRIDAY

Visitors Humbled by Score of 10 to 5; Aggies Hit Opportunity.

The first of the series of the O. A. C.-University of Washington baseball games was won by the "Aggies" yesterday afternoon at Corvallis by a score of 10 to 5. Both teams secured 11 hits and were charged with 4 errors each but the Collegians landed on the Varsity pitcher for hits when they meant runs.

Coach Clark during the game offered three pitchers while nearly twelve hundred rooters saw Bennie Culver pitch his best game for the "Aggies." Boatman who pitched the first four innings for Washington blew up in the fourth after allowing the bases to be filled with two walks and by hitting two more. He was supplanted by Johnson, who went to the mound with the inning looking extremely grave as the man at the bat was registered with two balls and two strikes. He walked and then came Robbins, the O. A. C. crack centerfielder, who knocked out a clear home run. Robbins' home run was the feature of the game. Weltz played star for the visitors, connecting for four singles in five times at the bat.

SCHOOL HOUSE CANNOT BE MOVED TO MAKE WAY FOR ROAD

County Court Decides Thus, Upon Application of Scio People for Highway.

A school house cannot be moved to make way for a county road according to a decision rendered by the county court yesterday. The question arose over the application of R. Sheldon and others of Scio, and vicinity, for a road proposed to be located through the site of a rural school house near that place when a demurrer to the petition was filed by John Shibanek and others. The subject was discussed as to whether the court had a right to grant a road through the school property, making it necessary for the school house to be moved, and the court ruled that the road could not be located across the school site, unless a new location was selected for the school house by the voters of the school district in the usual way.

The petition for the highway was continued until the next term of court at the request of the petitioners who will institute proper legal methods in the endeavor to arrange for the moving of the school building.

UNUSUAL COINCIDENCE IN LINN COUNTY COURT

Ex-Judge Palmer and Ex-Commissioner Sprenger to View Ex-Clerks Road.

An unusual coincidence attended the granting of the road petition of Frank Crabtree and others by the county court yesterday when the viewers were appointed. Ex-County Judge H. M. Palmer and Ex-County Commissioner H. B. Sprenger were named as two of the viewers with County Surveyor Geddes, and the peculiarity of the incident is the fact that Mr. Crabtree had just relinquished the office of county clerk at the beginning of the year 1900 when Judge Palmer and Mr. Sprenger went into their respective offices, such serving from 1900 until 1904. Mr. Crabtree was elected to the office of clerk in 1898.

The petition was for a road in District No. 12.

OFFICE ACCOUNTS OF COUNTY CORRECT

F. M. Redfield, Who Has Been Experting Books, Filed Report This Week.

REPORT SENT IN THIS TERM COVERS CLERKS OFFICE

During First Term of W. L. Marks Incumbency Increase Indicates Much Business.

That the accounts of all the officers of Linn county are correct and that all of them have been accounted properly for all county money they have handled is shown by the final report of F. M. Redfield who has been experting the books of the various county offices the past week.

Mr. Redfield concluded his work this month and filed with the county court this week his reports on the books of the county clerk's office. He had filed reports previously on the other offices of the county and his reports show that there are no shortages in any of the offices of the county.

The report filed at this term of the county court covers the county clerk's office during the two terms of J. W. Miller as county clerk and the first term of County Clerk Willard L. Marks and shows that both of these officers have properly accounted for all money they have collected.

The report shows the remarkable increase in the volume of business in the clerk's office in the past few years. In the four and one half years Mr. Miller was clerk, from July 1, 1906 to December 31, 1910, he collected a total of $11,599.50 in county fees. In his first term as clerk, Mr. Marks received $7,886.65 in regular county fees.

The steady increase in the business of the county is shown by the following record of fees received by the county clerk's office for each of the past six years, the figures being taken from Mr. Redfield's report: 1907, $2,177.95; 1908, $2,719.50; 1909, $2,553.75; 1910, $3,078.45; 1911, $3,448.05; 1912, $4,438.60.

There is an increase of over a thousand dollars in fees in the year of 1912 over the record of 1911, and is strongly indicative of the rapidly increasing business throughout all parts of Linn county and exemplifies the fact that the county is enjoying a splendid growth.

Mrs. J. P. Stuart went to Eugene this afternoon for a visit with her three sisters.

O. H. Russell, the statesman county commissioner, returned home this morning, called home before the completion of the term of court.

Chas. South, the violinist, this noon returned from a visit with relatives at Independence.

F. J. Alexander, of Medford, has been in the city today.

Mr. Robyn Nelson, a prominent civil engineer of Castle Rock, Wash., arrived last night on a visit with his folks.

First Lieutenant L. R. Gilbert, of the local National Guard, was numbered among the Albany people who attended the sham battle at Corvallis yesterday.

W. Ira Hawley, of near Lebanon, was in the city this noon on his way home from Portland, where he had been for several days.

Grant Butcher, the well known boot black, came over from Corvallis this morning. He is now at work in the Seavers hop yard, and is enjoying outdoor life.

THE COMBINE: BELL TELEPHONE—WESTERN UNION

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH and HOME TELEPHONE CO. WERE ELIMINATED

HOW MONOPOLY HAS RAISED TELEPHONE RATES

The table below tells what the effect of monopoly has been. It shows what will happen if the Combine drives out the Postal Telegraph and Home Tel. Co.

READ THIS

In two cities of the same size, one with a Bell monopoly and the other with competition, the rates of monopoly are twice those of competition. Compare the figures below for yourselves, and tell us if we are not right. Shylock was modest compared with the Bell Telephone Company. No wonder the different cities are waking up and demanding why this is.

COMPETITION.	Population.	MONOPOLY.	Population.
Chicago	$84 (2,185,283)	New York	$228 (2,331,542)
Philadelphia	90 (1,549,008)	Manhattan
St. Louis, Mo.	78 (687,029)	Moston, Mass.	125 (670,585)
Cleveland, O.	72 (660,663)	Baltimore, Md.	174 (558,485)
Buffalo, N. Y.	72 (423,715)	San Francisco, Cal.	180 (416,912)
Indianapolis, Ind.	54 (233,650)	Denver Colo.	138 (213,381)
Los Angeles, Cal.	63 (319,198)	Washington, D. C.	168 (331,069)
Rochester, N. Y.	48 (218,149)	Cincinnati, O.	100 (364,463)
Memphis, Tenn.	48 (151,185)	Seattle, Wash.	90 (237,194)
Scranton, Pa.	42 (129,867)	Province, R. I.	80 (224,326)
Trenton, N. J.	36 (96,815)	Oakland, Cal.	84 (150,174)
Everett, Wash.	48 (24,814)	New Haven, Conn.	84 (133,605)
Springfield, O.	36 (46,821)	Hartford, Conn.	84 (98,915)
Decatur, Ill.	30 (31,146)	Alameda, Cal.	84 (23,383)
Wilmington, Del.	46 (87,411)	Berkely, Cal.	84 (40,434)
Jackson, Mich.	30 (41,483)	Burlington, Ia.	72 (24,234)
Johnstown, Pa.	30 (55,482)	Springfield, Mass.	63 (88,926)
San Diego, Cal.	48 (19,978)	Des Moines, Ia.	60 (86,368)
		Stockton, Cal.	60 (23,253)
		San Jose, Cal.	60 (28,946)
		Newport, R. I.	60 (27,149)
		Fresno, Cal.	60 (24,892)
		Portland, Me.	60 (58,571)
		Sacramento, Cal.	72 (44,696)

Subscribers of the Home Telephone Co. are now connected with Eugene, Medford and Ashland by Long Distance Postal Telegraph wires (Paid Advertisement).

Note that in every instance the rate in cities where there is competition is a flat rate for an unlimited number of calls. In many of the cities where the Bell has a monopoly, that company has tried to get away from the unlimited service rate and substitute a limited service rate. A glaring example of this is found in the City of Baltimore, where the Bell has a monopoly. Prior to January 1, 1913, the rate for business telephones was $125 per annum for an unlimited number of calls. On January 1st they abolished the unlimited call rate and inaugurated the limited service rate. Under the latter plan the business man who has 5,400 calls a year now pays $174 per annum as against $125 per annum under the old unlimited plan. He pays more for less.

Why should the Bell telephone rate in Chicago, having a population of 2,185,283, and where there is telephone competition, be $125 per annum for an unlimited number of calls, while the Bell telephone monopoly rate in Washington, D. C., having a population of but 331,069, is $168 per annum for 5,700 calls? And why should the Bell telephone rate in St. Louis, having a population of 687,029, and where there is telephone competition, be $78 per annum for an unlimited number of calls, while the Bell Telephone monopoly rate in Denver, having a population of but 213,381, is $138 per annum for 5,700 calls? Where the Bell has a monopoly its rate is regulated by its greed.

VAIL BOLDLY ADVOCATES MONOPOLY
In Boston, on February 18th, Mr. Vail, the President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, in an address before the Merchants' Club said: "Competition in public service systems cannot go hand in hand with State or National regulation or control. Regulation or control was intended to leave no margin in the permitted charges for service to pay the capital charges on duplicated plants or maintain two or more plants at a high state of efficiency when one would answer public requirements. This makes impossible those conditions under which competition thrives, but in its place brings about all the practical results and advantages to be derived from State or National ownership, without any of its attendant obligations or disadvantages of Government operation."
