

BOYS, GIRLS URGED TO ENTER CONTEST

L. P. Harrington, State Field Industrial Worker, Delivers Interesting Address.

POINTS URGENCY OF PRACTICAL TRAINING

Great State Wide Contest to Determine Who Can Do Things Is Being Launched.

Continued from Tuesday, May 27.

L. P. Harrington, state field industrial worker, in his addresses before the students of the Albany public schools in the interest of a state wide contest to determine what the school children can do and primarily in the interest of the Linn county Industrial Fair which is to be held at Scio during the Linn county fair the fore part of September, when the largest school exhibits in the history of the county will be installed, has talked interestingly of the work as planned which will no doubt prove interesting to mothers and fathers of school children.

During one of his addresses, Mr. Harrington said in part: "We are asking boys and girls to be interested and to help in a great state wide contest to determine who can do things that count the best. The common duties of the home, for the girl and the boy, are of prime importance and are emphasized in this manual contest.

The practical side of education is being given the attention it deserves. Oregon has taken an advanced position in this great nation wide industrial and agricultural school movement. Linn county is awake to this very important educational movement. The county superintendent, Mr. Jackson, has secured $600 in cash prizes for the boys and girls of the county who prepare and send in their products for the county contest.

The state offers some very fine prizes for the things that boys and girls can raise or make. What is of more importance than home duties, cooking and sewing for girls, the care of poultry and stock for boys, also the use of tools and for all, caring for a garden.

"School credits for Home Work," when the system has been introduced, is proving a great incentive to the boys and girls in this industrial work.

There are five prizes for county exhibits, the first prize being $100. Could Linn county get any better advertising than to win one of these prizes?"

HIGH SCHOOL LAD COLLAPSED ON STREET YESTERDAY

Becoming suddenly sick while in Woodworth's drug store yesterday afternoon, Virgil Parker started to go out on the street for the benefit of the air and as he reached the door he suddenly collapsed and fell in the doorway in a faint. Friends rushed to his assistance and he was carried into the store. Fearing that his condition was serious, Dr. H. J. Kavanaugh was called and after a short period the young man was restored to consciousness.

Parker is a member of the graduating class of the high school and was a member of the cast of the senior play, and it is believed that the strenuous work which the young man has been doing to complete the term is responsible for his condition. It was reported at the high school this morning that he appeared to be perfectly well this morning and was able to attend school.

Hugh Fisher went to Portland today.

News Beginning With This Head Is From Daily Issue of WEDNESDAY, MAY 28.

A peculiar incident happened in Dawson's drug store shortly before noon today.
