Armed With Inexperience.

When the average youth receives a neatly printed diploma from his local school he honestly and candidly believes that he is better equipped to battle with the problems of life than the members of the school board or any other venerable and highly respected denizen of his home town.

When the same young man receives his L. L. B. or M. D. from the State University he is firmly convinced that opportunity is the only barrier which might by some hook or crook prevent him from attaining first rank among the really great men of the country.

He then buckles on his armor of conceit and inexperience and marches off to some inland village to assume the aggressive in the battle for wealth and fame. He soon learns that the young men with diplomas and an unlimited supply of confidence in themselves are numerous, and that the average man doesn't inquire whether or not he was a member of the Sigma Cata fraternity, nor do they often appear to be interested in the fact that he has received a diploma from some recognized institution of learning. They ask him how many years of actual experience he has had in his chosen profession and unless he can point to some business or professional success in the past, they are invariably slow to trust him with any important business transaction.

Fame is a jealous mistress. Wealth doesn't pursue the average young man at a very rapid rate. To acquire either is a slow process and comes only after years of patient toil.

Confidence in one's self is a good thing for any young man to have. But there is a difference between confidence and conceit. Confidence pushes a man forward and conceit pulls him backward. The latter is the rock upon which many a young man has wrecked the ship of opportunity. As soon as the graduate learns that he doesn't know anything about the problems of life, he has a chance of making good. The sooner he is able to forget his college days, the sooner he will begin to make progress in mounting the ladder of wealth and fame.

The Payroll Problem.

Having unlimited confidence in the possibilities for the future growth and development of Albany, the local business men propose to exert every effort towards the establishment of a permanent payroll.

Backed by the largest and most productive body of agricultural and timber land in the Willamette valley, and particularly favored as a railroad center, the business men believe, and have a right to believe, that with the establishment of one or two large manufacturing enterprises, Albany will become one of the largest and most prosperous cities in the entire state.

To induce a large and substantial manufacturing establishment to locate a plant, requires money and the burden of raising the funds should not be borne by a few of the more generous and more progressive citizens. Every taxpayer in the city should be willing to contribute his share towards a greater Albany and should consider it a privilege to make the contribution.

Factory contributions are not donations to charity. They should be figured as a permanent investment. You get a dollar back for every nickel expended, and by making a liberal contribution you get yourself a place among the more progressive citizens of your community.

In taking the initiative in this matter of promoting manufacturing enterprises, the Commercial Club has proved its usefulness to the people of Albany and is entitled to the support and friendly co-operation of every taxpayer who has the interest of the city at heart.

Post Office Elections.

In the town of Neligh, Nebraska, the two rival candidates for the post office have agreed to submit their case to the patrons of the office and abide by the result of the ballots cast at a semi-official election. The voting will be conducted under the supervision of the democratic county central committee and the loser agrees to withdraw from the race as soon as the result of the vote is announced.

This plan appears to the Democrat to be worthy of careful consideration by rival applicants for postmaster in the various towns in Oregon. The patrons of the office, and not a small and select coterie of politicians, should be permitted to decide as to the qualifications of the various candidates.

School Inspection Day.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction has designated June 16th as the Annual School Meeting day. On this date all of the patrons of the various schools in the state are expected to visit the nearest school house, investigate conditions, suggest improvements and make some definite plans for the future.

The schools of Oregon are no better or no worse than the schools of other states. There is always room for improvement and unless the patrons take the necessary steps to improve conditions under which the younger generation receive their instruction, no progress will be made.

Every resident of Linn county who believes in the proper education of the young should make it a point to visit the schools on June 16th and make some suggestion which may assist in increasing the efficiency of the common schools of Oregon.

Miss Wilcox, of the cloak department of Young's store left yesterday for Portland where she will spend a few days visiting with friends and attending the Rose festival.

George M. Gragg, a prosperous farmer of near Monroe, transacted business matters here today.

CROOKS' RECEPTION SPLENDID EVENT

President and Mrs. Crooks Received Large Number at Their Home Yesterday.

SOCIAL SPIRIT WAS EXCEEDINGLY MARKED

Rev. William Parsons of Eugene Will Deliver Address Tomorrow Morning.

The reception held yesterday afternoon by President and Mrs. Crooks to the friends of Albany College at their home was a highly successful social event. The rooms were beautifully decorated with roses. The attendance was probably larger than on any similar occasion. The social spirit was very marked as the animated throngs mingled greetings, laughter and more serious converse until nearly time for the senior class play. President and Mrs. Crooks and Mrs. Elliott welcomed the guests most pleasantly and dispensed most cordial hospitality. Miss Ina Hansen and Miss Mary Irvine assisted in serving delicious refreshments.

The freshman class of Albany College took leave of their freshman year with a freshman breakfast under walnut and elm trees on a grassy spot on the campus this morning. President and Mrs. Crooks were their guests, and a delightful time was had together.

Among Albany College trustees from out of town who have arrived to attend the annual meeting of the trustees today are Mr. John McDonald of Wallowa, Mr. Fletcher Linn, Rev. A. M. Williams and Rev. H. N. Mount of Portland, and Rev. William Parsons of Eugene. Rev. Parsons is to deliver the commencement address tomorrow morning.

Tomorrow morning faculty, trustees, alumni, and graduates will meet at the college and march in academic procession to the First Presbyterian church for the annual commencement exercises. There will be excellent music, a splendid address by Rev. William Parsons, D. D., of Eugene, announcements, and conferring of diplomas by Pres. Crooks. It is hoped that the people of Albany will manifest interest in the College by an attendance that will fill the church. The hour at the church is 10 o'clock.

GOV. OSWALD WEST GRANTS REQUISITION PAPERS

Sheriff Farris of Smith Center Kansas Has Arrived for Prisoners.

Yesterday morning, according to local authorities, Governor West granted requisition papers to the Governor of Kansas for the detention of Louis Yarger, age 19, and Mrs. May Kirtley, age 26, who are wanted in that state on a white slavery charge.

Yarger and the Kirtley woman were arrested in Lebanon last week by Deputy Sheriff Richards upon instructions from Sheriff Bodine who had received word from the Smith Center sheriff. They were taken into custody, from descriptions given at the Hotel Lebanon where they had registered as man and wife, were brought to this city where they have since been held in the county jail.

Sheriff Farris arrived this morning and will take the prisoners back east with him to face the charge. It is believed that the Kirtley woman deserted a husband and child in the east to come west with Yarger. They were bound for Sweet Home where it is believed that they have relatives.

CANNING SEASON BEGINS AT BROWNSVILLE TOMORROW

Cannery Will Begin with Strawberries; A Busy Season Is Expected.

The Brownsville Canning & Preserving company will commence the season with strawberries tomorrow according to a letter received here this morning. An unusually busy season is expected as there is an unprecedented large berry crop this year.

The Brownsville cannery handles most of the Lebanon berries besides the local output. According to the statement made in the letter the cultivation of loganberries is rapidly assuming the proportions of one of the leading industries of this section of the valley and last year the cannery paid one man $267.15 for loganberries grown on a 3x300 hill in a quarter acre patch.

Ferry Street Gets Oil.

The progressive property owners residing on Ferry street between Ninth and Eleventh streets today oiled the street and the same is now in first-class condition.

EXCAVATION WORK ON BUILDING SITES PROGRESSING

Large Crews of Workmen Are Busy on K. of P. and Library Basements.

Excavation work is rapidly progressing on the Library and Knights of Pythias temple building sites. The former is located at the corner of Third and Ferry and the latter is at the corner of Lyon and Third streets.

Large crews of workmen have been kept busy on both jobs since the initial operations were started and this mode of procedure will continue until the work is completed. The work on the K. of P. temple was commenced several weeks ago while the library work was started only a week ago. The library building is to cover nearly a quarter block while the other building will cover exactly this area. Basements covering the entire sites are being dug for both buildings and from the progress thus far made it is apparent that the work will be completed on the K. P. basement within another week.

PERSONAL MENTION.

County Fruit Inspector D.W. Rumbaugh, accompanied by H. S. Jackson of the bacteriological department of the O. A. C., returned this morning from Halsey where they went to inspect some fruit trees in that section. Mr. Rumbaugh reports that the trees of that section are in splendid condition.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Anderson, of Portland, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Pirtle yesterday.

District Attorney Gale S. Hill, a prominent Elk of this city, was one of the principal speakers at the dedication of the new Elks' temple in M'Nimville which occurred Saturday night.

This afternoon Mrs. Geo. Taylor and Mrs. Grant Pirtle left for Portland for a few days' visit and to attend the convention of the Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pfeiffer left this morning for Centralia, Washington for a visit with their son-in-law, Rev. Frank Dorris.

E. M. Howard, a well known resident of Salem, spent the morning here meeting old acquaintances and attending to business matters.

Mrs. Straus left this morning for Portland to attend the Grand Chapter of Eastern Star Lodge.

Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Tracy left this morning for Portland to attend the Grand Chapter of Eastern Star Lodge. C. G. Scott of Salem is stopping at the St. Francis hotel attending to business matters here today.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT CLUB MEETING

Business Men Discuss Proposed Rail-Road from Albany to Timber Belt.

THE GATES-QUARTZVILLE ROAD WAS DISCUSSED

New Wagon Road in Benton Co. Proposed and Club Urged to Support Movement.

At one of the best attended meetings of the Albany Commercial club held during the past month a large volume of important business was transacted last evening.

The meeting was called to order by Vice-President F. P. Nutting and after the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved the routine work of the club was disposed of by the board.

One of the most important matters under discussion was the construction of a proposed road from Albany to the timber belt.

Manager Stewart read brief extracts from three Lebanon newspapers, all of which agreed that Mr. Andrew Porter in his talk at a Lebanon banquet had said that he would build his road from Albany through Lebanon to his timber on the Santiam.

Mr. Hammer brought up the matter of the improvement of the road from Gates into the Quartzville mining district and Mr. Gilbert also urged that the club should use its influence towards getting a new road opened up near Mr. Vanderpool's in Benton county. Both matters were referred to committee on good roads.

PROMINENT GRANGER FAVORS IDEA OF COUNTY PARK

Commends Suggestions Contained in Recent Issue of Democrat; Urges Action.

Editor Democrat: We wish to commend you for the position you have taken in regard to the court house square.

Would it not be a healthful and pleasant place for the many children of Albany to have their evening play upon the court house lawn?

Would it not be happiness for the parents of such children to be there also, not only to look after their children but to have a little social outing after their day's work is done?

Would it not be a better place for the grown up sons and daughters to spend their social evenings than it is to go alone into Bryant's Park, or loiter on the steel bridge or spend their evenings at the schoolhouse veranda?

Would it not be an excellent place for band concerts, social entertainments, etc.?

Why go to the mountains or to the coast when you can have an outing at home?

Again, would it not be a pleasant place for the rural people to meet their friends and have their lunches?

If the court house square belongs to Linn county, we should not be barred from using the same for purposes above mentioned. Away with the obnoxious explanation, "Keep off the grass."

From the standpoint of a large city, Albany is yet in swaddling clothes. Remember you must have the rural trade. Remember also that the farmer has the telephone, the rural delivery, the daily paper, the parcel post, the catalogue, from supply houses from all over the Union.

The cognomen "hayseed" need no longer be applied to him. He knows, as the grange song goes, that "The farmer feeds them all." Albany should not forget that the bridge across the Willamette at Corvallis affords the people in Orleans precinct a good opportunity to trade in that city. Lebanon, a future rival of Albany, has a square in which the farmer may hitch his team. They have their watering troughs ever filled with sparkling water fresh from the Santiam. I was told that the city will soon install drinking fountains. All things being equal, the city or establishment that merits the farmers' trade will hereafter receive the bulk of it.

F. M. MITCHELL.

John Marrs, state Fire Warden of Lacombe, transacted business here this afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Thompson, son and daughter, of Jamesport, Mo., went to Newport Saturday for several weeks' outing. While here they are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Smith.

Passing through the city yesterday morning by automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Speer of Tangent, former residents of this city were on their way to Portland to attend the Rose festival. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hudson of Tangent.
