

O. A. C. PROFESSOR GAVE GOOD ADDRESS

Hundreds Hear Illustrated Talk on Civic Improvement at Presbyterian Church.

SPEAKER COMPLIMENTS ALBANY ON PRESENT SHOWING

Points Out 2 Essential Things in Beautifying City: Uniformity and Unity.

In building up a pretty street, two things are essential, according to Prof. Peck, of the O. A. C., in his address at the United Presbyterian church last night, uniformity and unity by adjoining property owners. Uniformity calls for the same kind of a tree in the parking and system in shrubbery and plants, and unity calls for adjoining owners uniting in their work in such a way that each will have the benefit of the other's improvements.

Prof. Peck was introduced by A. L. Fisher, president of the Fifth street improvement club, and spoke for an hour, illustrating his talk with landscape pictures, all eastern slides, a pleasing speaker, thoroughly in command.

The neighborhood Albany on the splendid start along civic lines, already being one of the prettiest cities in the state. Fifth street, with its electric line presents a fine appearance, but needs some trimming at places. The upper block may be made very attractive or ruined by poor management. The Fifth end of the courthouse should have an attractive entrance, one with an inviting appearance. Headers should never go nearer the sidewalk than the line of the house, left back to make the view more open, and it is well to keep shrubbery and plants back. At the east end is a block about opposite the Madison street school building that would make a good garden for students, with possibilities of a pretty place. The high school building between Third and Fourth streets would be improved by some Boston or other ivy up the sides and flowers and shrubbery, now just set down in a lawn.

Along general lines speaker classified landscape gardening as formal and natural; the former showing straight lines or curves in the setting of shrubbery and plants, the latter things in groups. Simplicity is the keynote of the best results.

Among the ivies he considers the Boston Ivy best. The English ivy cannot be controlled. Ivy should not go on wooden buildings, but up wire frames near the building.

Business in settings is always objectionable. The grass plot is the main thing, with proper details in the setting of shrubbery.

It would be a good thing if trees could be controlled by a city. Any-way streets should be organized and a uniform tree selected. He considers the Norway maple, because of its slow growth, the best. Horse chestnuts are a poor tree for parking, but nice set back. A mixture of trees in the parking has a bad effect.

Expensive homes are not necessary for a pretty place. Just common houses may be made very pretty by proper ornamentation, with such things as morning glories, trailing cucumbers, vines, even hops, etc.

The address was listened to intelligently by those fortunate in being present and the sentiment was general that some strong practical lessons had been presented for consideration to Albany.

W. W. Crawford, of Lewiston, is in the city on business.

REPORT FROM PORTLAND UNION STOCK YARDS GOOD

Cattle Market is Steady. Hog Trade Surpassed All Records, Sheep Business Slow.

Receipts for the week have been Cattle 1525; calves 278; hogs 2786; sheep 4896; morses 23.

Cattle market steady to strong all week. The general run of steers has been above the average in quality, the bulk selling $7.75 to $8.25. Several loads of California grass cattle sold at higher prices. The steers in this shipment brought $8.75, the heifers $8.00 and the calves $9.00. Outlet has been very good and the market seems to be on very sound basis. There is a poor demand for stockers and feeders on account of the high water, which condition will be eliminated in the near future.

The hog trade surpassed all records since 1919 for a single week. Prices made a sheer gain of 30c in seven days. Market opened strong Monday at $8.00, which was a 20c gain over the previous week, and by Friday top quality light sows were selling strong at $9.00. Receipts have been very liberal but buying has been on a large scale and the supply was quickly absorbed.

Transactions in the sheep house have been very few due to the light receipts and slow demand for mutton. Extra choice yearlings are worth $4.75 to $5 and ewes $4.50. The lamb trade is in very fair shape and prices for spring stock in had a good outlet, prices ranging from $6.00 to $6.75.

CORVALLIS PEOPLE ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Will Take Active Part in Program for Corvallis Day, July 17.

LARGE CROWDS WILL ATTEND FROM THERE

Secretary Murphy of Corvallis Commercial Club Writes Interesting Letter.

The Corvallis people are enthusiastic over the Albany Chautauqua and that they will take an active part in the program set aside as Corvallis Day, which has been designated as July 17, is indicated in the following letter received this morning by Manager Stewart, of the Commercial club:

"I am in receipt of your letter of the 26th instant stating that the 17th of July will be 'Corvallis Day.' Our local daily papers will give that fact considerable publicity and we will do our part to advertise your Chautauqua. A committee has been appointed to arrange a program for the Corvallis day exercises. As soon as the committee is ready to give the matter any publicity the program will be sent to you or the Albany papers so that publicity may be given to it there."

"I presume that you have read that Corvallis and Eugene were to assist Monroe to celebrate the arrival of the P. E. & E. from Eugene to Monroe. The date set for this celebration was indefinite but about the tenth to the fifteenth. Believing that the Albany Chautauqua is worthy and that Corvallis should plan no events during that period, I took up the matter with Mr. Mark Woodruff, publicity agent of the P. E. & E. and quote herewith his reply: 'I have had the Monroe celebration matter up with Mr. Strahorn and can assure you that we will not fix the date for that affair until after July 20 when the Albany Chautauqua adjourns. We are glad to co-operate with you in this, and I will try to take in the show at Albany myself.'"

"I trust you will be able to prevail upon the railway company," continues Mr. Murphy's letter, "to delay the departure of their late trains to Corvallis so that the evening programs may be witnessed."

FLAG DAY WILL BE OBSERVED SUNDAY AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Exercises to Be Conducted in Sunday School; Music Suited to Occasion.

With practice exercises, Flag Day will be observed at the Christian church tomorrow at both the morning and evening services and during the Sunday school.

Special exercises will be conducted in the Sunday school and at both of the regular church services the pastor will preach on patriotic topics. Rev. E. W. Emerson, pastor of the church, enjoys an enviable reputation here as an orator with a wide scope of knowledge at his command. With touching pathos and refined humor, Rev. Emerson as a patriotic orator is hard to excel and those who attend the services tomorrow may expect a strong and forcible message and one that will be intensely interesting.

The choir music is especially arranged for the occasion. The morning worship will commence at 10:30 o'clock and the evening services will commence at 8:00 o'clock.

But for the prompt response of Dr. W. B. Cook, a veterinary surgeon of this city, a valuable colt belonging to Winfield Churchill, a prosperous farmer residing near Plainview, would have bled to death yesterday after an unsuccessful attempt of a neighborhood doctor to perform an operation on the animal. Noticing that the colt was suffering, Mr. Churchill consulted a doctor residing near Plainview who upon examining the equine decided that an operation was necessary but was unsuccessful in his attempt to perform it.
