

MONTH OF MAY VOID OF FATALITIES

The Southern Pacific Company
Passes Through Without Serious Accident.

CONSIDERED REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENT FOR SYSTEM

Credit Given to Man with Pick and Shovel in Caring for 11000 Miles of Track.

Portland, Or., July 8.—(Special to Democrat.)—Officers and employees of the Southern Pacific company, from Julius Kruttschnitt down to the most humble section boss on the big system, are today being congratulated by the railroad men on the remarkable fact that a railroad system containing 11,000 miles of tracks, and with 40,000 men employed, could pass through a month without having a single fatal accident among the passengers or employees. It has just become known that the Southern Pacific company achieved this feat during the month of May.

In operating the tracks of this transcontinental railroad, hundreds of passenger trains are in use, and they hurry along with the lives of hundreds of thousands of passengers in their care every day, thousands of men are engaged in running the trains, directing them, waiting cars in yards, constructing new lines, and it seems nearly incredible that not a single life was lost either in travel or among employees engaged in hazardous occupations.

"Steel cars for passengers, safety appliances such as block signals, automatic couplers, and other safety appliances for the protection of the men, and sobriety," is the answer handed out by railroad men who commented on the May record of the Southern Pacific.

With the elimination of "booze" as an article of diet among train men has come an absence of dead men. The enforcement of the anti-drinking rules by the Southern Pacific management has brought about a roster of clear thinking and quick acting train dispatchers, engine men and train men, in whom the company itself has confidence and whom the public may safely trust.

What is considered a strong element in bringing about the absence of fatalities in May is the pride which the Southern Pacific company has instilled into every section crew. For years the company has awarded prizes to the section which was the best kept up, and naturally the ambition to earn this prize has brought about a better and safer roadbed, and for this reason much credit is given to the man of the pick and shovel.

CORVALLIS SPORTSMEN CONDEMN GAME RULING

Decision of Game Protection
Body Means Less Than 20
Days Shooting for Ducks.

Sportsmen of Corvallis and vicinity are warmly condemning a ruling of the National game protective commission fixing the open season for ducks and geese in this state from the ninety days between September 16 and October 16. This practically means less than 20 days shooting in the upper valley for these birds do not begin to make their appearance here until about Thanksgiving time.

The federal government has assumed control of the game laws relating to migratory birds and a National commission has been appointed with authority to promulgate and enforce rules governing their shooting.

The period named by the commission is satisfactory to the Portland shooters who hunt on the lower Willamette and on the Columbia river for that is the best season there, and it is believed here that the Portland shotgun men were instrumental in fixing the dates.

The Corvallis Rod and Gun club will cooperate with other organizations of the valley in the effort to have the ruling amended.—Corvallis Republican.

P. B. Sibley of Portland, and W. Throckmorton, of San Francisco, passed through the city yesterday by automobile enroute from the Rose City to California. While here they stopped at the Hammel.

C. McElroy, of Jefferson, transacted business here yesterday.

F. S. Fisher, of Corvallis, was a business visitor here yesterday afternoon.

Charley Rose of Brownsville, transacted business here yesterday afternoon.

James Dryden, of Corvallis, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

FORMER LINN COUNTY MAN RECOVERING OF BLINDNESS

Enjoys Having Wife Read the Democrat to Him; Has Been Consistent Subscriber.

The following letter received this morning may be of interest to some local people:

Klamath Falls, Ore., July 5.—Mr. W. H. Hornbrook, Editor Democrat:—Enclosed find P. O. money order for $6.25 to pay for G. W. McLane's Albany Democrat up to Oct. '13. He has had very serious trouble with his eyes and has been unable to work for more than three years. He can see but very little but we think he will get his eye sight back soon. It may be sometime yet before he is able to read but he enjoys having me read to him, especially the Democrat as we came from Linn county.

My husband was in the habit of visiting Albany every year or so and while there always called on Mr. Nutting and paid for his paper, so he was in arrears when taken sick.

Yours truly,
MRS. G. W. McLANE.

ALTHOUGH IN GUNNY SACK CAT MAKES GET AWAY

However It Is Again Caught and by-Standers Have Good Joke on Owner.

A funny story is being told today on a prominent business man of the city. Last evening a peculiar incident happened, when this said business man was driving along South Washington street. A gunny sack laden with something suddenly dropped from the rear of the buggy, and those who are telling about it declare that they did not have an optical illusion, but the bag really scampered across the street and disappeared. An effort was made to stop the driver, but he was going at a rapid gait and did not hear the shouts of several bystanders. Upon investigation, a cat was found in the bag and it later developed that the driver of the rig was intending to take the animal out in the country in order that he may be rid of it. The party who found the cat said that he is going to phone 209-R and ask if they want it returned.

13 ASSUMED BUSINESS NAMES HAVE BEEN FILED

Eight Have Been Filed from Brownsville and Two from Holley.

Thirteen business concerns of Linn county operating under assumed names, have thus far complied with the provisions of the new law passed by the last legislature, requiring such establishments to file with the county clerks of the various counties, the assumed names of the owners. This law does not affect corporations but applies only to partnerships not being conducted under the corporation law of the state which are operating under an assumed name.

Eight assumed names of business concerns have been filed with County Clerk Marks from Brownsville, one from Lebanon, one from Crawfordville, two from Holley and one from Gooch. Thus far not a single one has been filed from here although there are several who in time will be required to.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE AT CHAUTAUQUA INSTRUCTIVE

Hundreds Have Attended Miss Mary E. Sutherland's Department of School.

Hundreds of matrons and misses have thus far attended the domestic science school of the Chautauqua which is conducted by Miss Mary E. Sutherland and many have been loud in their praise of the splendid instruction they have received. This feature of the Chautauqua is undoubtedly proving to be one of the most popular departments of the assembly. The following embraces Miss Sutherland's subjects and all ladies have a cordial invitation to attend the sessions of the school:

LEBANON ATTORNEY TO MAKE 2 MONTHS TOUR IN EAST

To enjoy a two months' trip in the Orient, Samuel M. Garland, an attorney of Lebanon and Linn county's representative on the Democratic state central committee, will leave Albany Wednesday for Seattle, where he will take passage on the Minnesota. Mr. Garland expects to tour China, Japan and the Philippines. Secretary of State Bryan has given him letters of introduction to the various American diplomatic representatives.

TANGENT NOTES

Mrs. Maude Jenks of Salem was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Smith last Sunday.

Mrs. Daisy Douglas, a former resident of this part of the county, but now of Eugene, was visiting friends near here last week.

The continued rain has retarded the haying and farmers are getting in a hurry to begin mowing. Most of the hay which was cut and still in the fields when the rain commenced, is now in a bad condition, caused by the mold. Clover hay is needing to be cut as well as all kinds of volunteer stuff which was intended for hay, as it seems to ripen regardless of the cool weather.

The spring grain is now making a very rapid growth, and the prospects are good for a large crop. Berries of many different kinds are very plentiful and of fine quality. The present indications are that there will not be nearly as many apples as was expected as it seems the frost must have killed the bloom.

The whole country is covered with a plant called dandelion, which is of no particular value and is quite a pest, quite a pest.

C. W. Tebault returned last night from a business trip to Salem.

Joe Patterson, of the reportorial staff of the Oregonian, after spending the night at the Hammel left this morning for Newport on a special assignment.

HUNDREDS CAMP AT CHAUTAUQUA

It Has Been Estimated That Tent City has a Population of 250 People.

GROUNDS ARTISTICALLY MARKED OFF NOW

People from All Over Linn and Benton County Are Numbered Among Inhabitants.

It has been conservatively estimated that the tent city of the Albany Chautauqua park has at present a population of 25 inhabitants, who have erected tents there as temporary homes during the assembly. The largest number have immigrated from Albany while many have come from all parts of Benton and Linn county.

The grounds are marked off artistically in streets and the tents have been pitched on the several staked off plots, which lends attractiveness and uniformity to the tented city. The names of the streets are as follows: Auditorium Drive, Lagoon Avenue, First, Second, Third and Fourth streets.

The civic clubs and organizations with headquarters on the grounds are: Ladies' Civic Improvement Club, Albany; Maccabee lodge, Masonic and Eastern Star lodges and the Nursery Headquarters, Priscilla club, Twentieth Century club, Methodist church headquarters, United Presbyterian church headquarters, W. C. T. U. headquarters and the Albany Commercial club. With the exception of the three latter named all are located on First street. The Commercial club and W. C. T. U. headquarters tents are located near the auditorium and the United Presbyterian church tent is on Second street.

A general list of those camping on the grounds is as follows: At "Waukan Inn," Miss Lora Jane Taylor, Winifred F. Austin, Gertrude Taylor, Myrtle Roberts, Julia Crowell, Helen Hulbert, Zona Haight, Lila Patton, Elsie Bain, and Ione Flynn, of Medford. At "Seldom Inn," Misses Mae and Claire Fillman, Kate Stewart, Willetta Wright, Christine Pipe, Louise Wiedler, Greta Portmiller, and Pera Wilkins.

At Dew Drop Inn," Misses Ina White, Edna Rebban, Nellie Rebban and Nellie Marsters, all of Brownsville. ## BACTERIOLOGIST WILL MAKE ADDRESS AT CHAUTAUQUA

Prof. T. D. Beckwith, who has charge of the bacteriological department of the O. A. C., will deliver an address on social hygiene tomorrow afternoon in the Chautauqua auditorium, commencing at 4 o'clock. Prof. Beckwith is an eminent authority on this subject and is well known throughout the state as a bacteriologist. Prof. Lawrence who was to have given an address tomorrow afternoon at this time will not appear until Friday.

GREER BROTHERS COMPLETED WORK FOR CUSICK'S BANK

Left Last Night Accompanied by Assistants for Roseburg and Other Points.

Leaving last night for Roseburg, Greer brothers and assistants, after completing their work here for the J. W. Cusick & Co. bank, will conduct a similar savings bank campaign there that they so successfully conducted here. While here they made their headquarters at the Hammel Hotel, where they entertained many friends and were closely identified with leading social events of the city. While here they made many friends and are loud in their praise of Albany people. Mr. C. Greer stated last night that the success attending their efforts while here was unprecedented.

Greer brothers are engaged in establishing a system of saving banks among the inhabitants of the city to be operated in conjunction with a leading bank of the city. They have worked several towns at other valley points and their proposition has met with much favor as an ideal and sensible way of saving money.

CARPENTER FILES SUIT TO RECOVER MONTHS WAGES

E. T. Millard Sues Etta Keeney
for $106 to Cover Work Done on Dwelling.

Charging that he has not been paid for carpenter work done on a frame building belonging to Etta Keeney, whom he claims ordered the work done, E. T. Millard has filed suit in the circuit court to recover $106 for 30 days work at $3.50 per day. In his complaint Millard claims that the work was done in October, 1912. The building is located in Hazelwood addition. The plaintiff is represented by Judge J. J. Whitney, who filed the complaint this morning, being the first in nearly two years to be written in pen. The plaintiff asks the court for $25 attorney fees besides the amount he alleges is due him.

Misses Bessie and Mary Tate, of Wasco, Ore., are guests at the home of Prof. David Torbet. They are attending the Chautauqua.

Don Cameron and A. Coise, of Medford, and C. T. Cherry, of Portland, employees of the United States civil service department, are here on special work. They will go to Newport tomorrow. Their headquarters are at the Hammel.

Tom Stevens is in the city visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stevens.
