

YOUTHFUL ROBBERS CONFINED IN JAIL

Sweet Home Lads Brought Here for Hearing Before County Judge.

WERE OVER HEARD PLOTING TO STEAL MONEY

Appropriated Gold Watch and Rifle; Hearing Set for Saturday Morning.

Brought here yesterday for a hearing before County Judge McKnight, Elmer Boucher and Ira Bird, both age 15, confessed, robbers and crime plotters, were placed in the county jail pending the appearance of their parents at the hearing which has been set for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Young Boucher is the son of Geo. Boucher, and Bird is the step-son of Charles Wagner, of Sweet Home. The lads were brought here yesterday afternoon from that place by Deputy Sheriff Slavins and T. F. Brady upon the request of their parents.

No charge has been filed against them but from the information given out by Mr. Brady this morning, the boys have been guilty of several petty thefts and were overheard plotting to steal some money. They have made a clean breast of the crimes committed by them to Deputy Sheriff Slavins.

According to the story told by him, sometime last week the boys left their home, appropriating a .22 rifle from Charles Wagner, step-father of the Bird youth. They proceeded to Cascadia where they stole a gold watch. Later they returned to the neighborhood of Sweet Home and while conversing in an old shack, Mr. Brady overheard them plotting to rob young Bird's grandfather of $400, which they knew he had at that time in his possession. It was Sunday morning when the youngsters were overheard planning the robbery and they intended committing the crime that night.

When Mr. Brady entered the shack after listening for some time to the conversation between the two, one of the youths who was holding the stolen watch, hurriedly threw it into a thicket. When questioned as to their intention they stoutly denied everything. The watch was found the next morning.

They were taken before Justice of the Peace William Daugherty of Sweet Home, who issued an order for their appearance before the county court.

Before legal papers can be drawn for their commitment to the reform school, it is necessary that the parents appear at the hearing. Papers have been issued for the summons of the parents and the hearing will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

In the meantime the lads are being held in the county jail where they appear pleased about their reprieves and apparently enjoy talking of the experiences.

SEEKS APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT

States Highest Tribunal Will Decide Matter Concerning Livery Stable.

JUDGE KELLY RULED IN FAVOR OF DEFENDANTS

Plaintiffs Want A. Jackel to Discontinue Livery Business at Lebanon.

That the plaintiffs will contest the case in the highest tribunals of the state, was indicated yesterday in the case of Seeck against Jackel, when a notice of appeal to the state supreme court was filed with County Clerk Marks.

The case on Judge Kelly's bar docket is entitled F. W. Seeck and J. H. Seeck vs. A. Jackel et al. Attorneys Weatherford & Weatherford of Albany and N. M. Newport of Lebanon represent the plaintiffs and Attorneys H. B. Chess of Lebanon and Colless and Skulason, of Portland, the defendants.

When tried before Judge Kelly in October last it was most hotly contested and created much interest. Bitterly fought from beginning to end by attorneys for both the defense and prosecution, Judge Kelly finally rendered a decision in favor of the defendants. Now the plaintiffs are going to take the matter to the higher court in an effort to get a settlement in their behalf.

The case arose over the sale of a horse stable in Lebanon, which was sold sometime ago by the plaintiff to the defendants.

The plaintiffs at the time were the owners of two barns. They desired to dispose of one, maintaining the other as a livery stable. Accordingly they sold the other barn to Jackel. In the contract of sale, according to the complaint it was stipulated that the barn was to be run by the purchaser as a feed stable exclusively, and this was as a condition upon which the barn was disposed of. In the complaint filed against Jackel by the Seecks he is charged with violation of this stipulation by conducting a livery barn in competition with the plaintiffs. On the other hand, according to the evidence introduced by defense for Jackel, he was ignorant of any such conditions in the contract of sale and the claim was made that it was misrepresented to him.

ESCAPES INJURY ON EVE OF WEDDING

Earl Canfield Narrowly Escapes Being Run Over by Automobile.

ACCIDENT HAPPENED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Bicycle Is Demolished; Young Man Is to Be Married This Evening.

On the eve of his wedding, Earl Canfield narrowly escaped death or serious injury under the wheels of an automobile yesterday afternoon.

The accident happened at the intersection of Fourth and Montgomery streets. Canfield was proceeding along Fourth street on a bicycle while the automobile driven by Orrin Anderson was approaching in the opposite direction. As the two vehicles neared each other a wagon crossed between them and the dust arose, blinded both the auto driver and the bicycle rider.

Suddenly the dust cleared away enough that Canfield saw that the automobile was directly upon him. He quickly jumped from his wheel, barely getting out of the way when the automobile despite the driver's frantic efforts ran directly across the bicycle lying in the street, completely demolishing the front wheel and a portion of the frame.

Save for a slight bruised and skinned knee, Canfield is none the worse. The bicycle is practically demolished beyond repairing.

No blame has been fixed for the accident.

Canfield is to be married this evening to Miss Golda Yates, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yates, 430 Jackson street.

OPEN SEASON FOR DEER BEGINS FRIDAY

Scores of Albany Hunters Have Already Gone Off to the Woods.

LICENSE COUNTER IS SCENE OF RUSH

Reports Say Country Is Full of Deer—Plenty to Go Round.

Friday, the open season for deer begins and after months of patient waiting several Albany hunters have already trudged off to the dark recesses of the tall uncut, there to lie in wait for the waning of July 31.

For the next two days County Clerk Marks anticipates an unprecedented rush to the hunting license counter. Already scores have been procured by the sportsmen of this city, who every year go in pursuit of the antlered beauties.

During last week County Clerk Marks dispensed 99 licenses of the various kinds, 36 of which were hunting licenses. With the nearer approach of the open season for deer this record is expected to be far surpassed during the present week. Thus far scores have already been sold. Nearly every person leaving on a summer vacation secures a license of some kind.

According to reports the woods are full of deer and if the hunters stick to the provisions of the law, which allows each hunter three trophies during the season, it is stated on good authority that there will be a great abundance to go round.

QUEEN MARY TRYING TO STOP RAGTIME

King Has Band Rehearse in Palace Yard Before Functions.

STATEMENT TO BE FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON

Expenditures Are Indicative of Importance of Oregon Ports.

LONDON, July 29.—There is a distinct lull in the popularity of ragtime, largely due to royal influence. King George is quite unmusical, but Queen Mary affects a mid-Victorian interest in Bach and Beethoven sonatas, and has frowned heavily on ragtime.

Yet ragtime kept creeping in at court and military functions. King George was so worked up about it that at a recent function he had the hands play in advance every single item on the programme in the gardens of Buckingham Palace, including "Abide With Me" and Tschai-kowsky's famous "Overture of 1812."

The latter nearly came under the royal ban, his Majesty being with some difficulty persuaded that the Russian "folk air" which crops up in it was not ragtime.

MILLION SPENT IN OREGON DISTRICT

Engineer Completes Report of Years Work on Rivers and Harbors.

STATEMENT TO BE FORWARDED TO WASHINGTON

Expenditures Are Indicative of Importance of Oregon Ports.

In the first Oregon river and harbor district the disbursements for the fiscal year ending June 30 totaled $1,072,784.64, according to the annual report just completed by Major J. J. Morrow, corps of engineers, U. S. A., in charge, and which he will forward to the chief of engineers at Washington today. The expenditures in the various parts of the district were as follows:

Coquille, $5,800.61; Coos Bay, $16,196.76 for the deepening of the channel entrance to a point above Marshfield, which has been completed, and $261,487.39, expended on the construction of the dredge, Colonel P. She is 89 per cent. completed; Coos river, the improvement of which is being made in co-operation with local interests, $106,857.20; Tillamook Bay and bar, $3,167.50; Upper Columbia and Snake rivers—Cello Falls to Snake river, $48,688.01; Snake River in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, $18,411.63; Columbia River Three-Mile Rapids—improving; The Dalles-Celilo canal project, $558,661.14; Columbia River, Cascades, Or., $739.38; operating and care of the Cascade Locks, $11,410.42; Oregon Slough channel project in connection with local interests, $27,495.51; examination, survey and contingencies of rivers and harbors, $2534.98; Crater Lake National Park, $10,586.61.

These enormous expenditures are strongly indicative of the importance of the Oregon ports and points out the fact that the opening of the Panama canal will establish a new era in this state. Authorities have cited that the portion of the state that will be most directly affected to the good will be the Willamette valley.

JUDGE HARRIS HOLDS ROAD TAX LEVIES ARE VALID

Toledo, Or., July 29.—In a case brought to test the validity of special road tax levies in Lincoln county for the year 1911, a decision has been handed down by Circuit Judge Harris declaring the tax valid. The case was brought by a timber claim homesteader against the sheriff to enjoin the collection of the special road tax in district No. 8, seeking to upset the extension on the tax roll by proving technical irregularities in the conducting of the road district meeting at which the tax was levied. It is thought large timber interests were the backers, who also refused to pay the road tax.
