MAKES THE FASHION EDITOR SMILE

The September Woman's Home Companion is an advance autumn fashion number and contains the latest information about styles. The editor of the fashion department, Grace Margaret Gould, takes what might be called a "middle of the road" course. She wants women to dress fashionably, but, at the same time, economically. She laughs at the extremes of French fashions while she adapts the best points to the needs of the American woman. She describes as follows what she did when she looked over the new fall fashion designs sent to her from Paris:

"I laughed, not merely chuckled but laughed until I shook and was ready to cry. You remember that I once whispered to you that I am fat. Well, you know how a jolly fat person can laugh, don't you? That was the way. Now wasn't that a very irrelevant thing for a fashion editor to do? But I did, and I could not help wishing all my good friends, our women readers, could have had a peep over my shoulder at those sketches—not to follow the fashions depicted—merely! I gasped at the thought, but just so you would have had a hearty laugh too.

"For instance, can you fancy yourself going to church on a bright Sunday wearing a skirt so scant at the bottom that you need to be assisted by two church steps, and showing an abbreviated hoop skirt which necessitates your also being assisted into the church pew?"

"Speaking of things scant, and scant skirts in particular, right here in New York the other day a young woman, after several frantic and unsuccessful attempts to board a surface car, actually had to stoop over and unbutton her skirt before she could raise her foot enough to put it on the car steps. And, by the way, she was wearing the thinnest of pink flesh silk stockings with her dark tailored suit.

"Do you wonder I laughed when I looked over the sketches and read the Paris fashion descriptions?"

EXTEND THE CITY LIMITS.

According to the statement of an official in the census department, more than two thousand citizens who should properly be included in the population of Albany, reside outside of the city limits and were therefore not enumerated by the last census taker.

This is a lamentable condition of affairs. It is an injustice to those who reside outside the city, as well as to those who contribute to the support of the city government. It is unfortunate indeed that a town which should be rated a city of between seven and eight thousand, should be placed at a little more than five thousand by the last federal census.

ISSUES STATEMENT TO BOYS AND GIRLS

Field Industrial Worker N. C. Maris Gives Information About School Affairs.

EARLIER FAIRS ARE ARE NOW BEING HELD

Urges Every Pupil to Supply Exhibits--Attention Called to State Fair.

Concerning school fairs, Field Industrial Worker N. C. Maris, makes the following statement to the boys and girls:

"The earlier school fairs are already being held and at the end of another month cost of them will be a matter of history. This is about the last opportunity we shall have to call your attention to your exhibits for most of your work has already been done.

"As we have often said, the intrinsic value of the prize you are competing for is of little importance compared with the habits of industry you are forming, and the experience you are gaining in learning how to do some practical things well. If you borrow something to show, or take something to the fair you have not raised or made, you will fail to get the value out of it that you should. Now, do not understand me to say that you should not take anything to the fair that is not entirely the product of your own effort. Some of the fairs, especially those that were arranged for late in the season, do not require you to do all the work. Where this is the case I would urge you to take anything you can, under the rules, that will make a good showing. Take pride in assisting to make your fair a success. But where the rules require that you do all the work yourself, as they do at the state fair, do not try to evade them.

"Do not overlook the county and district prizes at the state fair. It is a fine thing to cultivate local pride and patriotism. Team work aids in developing this spirit, so join with your fellows and do your part to help your district and your county to have the banner exhibits. Co-operation is becoming more essential every day and you cannot begin too early in life to practice it."

WOMAN PREACHER FILES CERTIFICATE OF ORDINATION

Rev. Mary D. Benton of Eugene First Woman to File Such Papers in Linn County.

The first woman to file a certificate of ordination as a minister of the Gospel in Linn county in order that she may perform marriage ceremonies is Rev. Mary D. Benton, of the Church of Christ of Eugene.

The certificate was filed this morning with Deputy County Clerk R. M. Russell for recording. The paper stipulates that the woman was ordained as a minister on May 19, 1907, after being selected by the Church of Christ of Eugene and two other sister churches, by J. S. McCullum and E. E. Sanderson, assisted by J. S. Daly and J. A. Bushnell. It is understood that the reason of the lady's filing her certificate in this county is to widen her territory in order that she may come here to perform marriages if the occasion presents itself.

Miss Bell Crabtree and Miss Eva Prine have returned from a trip to Tidewater where they have been visiting at the home of C. J. Smith.

Returning yesterday from his 175 acre farm in the vicinity of Caloway station, two miles south of Wells, X. W. Boom of this city showed a Democrat representative a sample of wheat threshed on his farm which was of exceptionally fine quality. It ran thirty bushels to the acre while the average yield in that section of the valley runs between fifteen and twenty bushels. He had but twenty acres in wheat and from this land secured six hundred bushel.

COUNTY COURT RECEIVES INVITATION FOR JOY RIDE

Automobile Owners would Take Members Over Bad Roads; Auto Men Stand Expense.

Taking exception to an interview given out to the Democrat yesterday by County Judge Bruce McKnight, automobile owners of Albany at an informal meeting held last night unanimously adopted the following resolutions and instructed the temporary secretary of the meeting to have the same published in the Democrat:

"Whereas, the Honorable County Court has seen fit to make a few comments on automobile drivers speeding over county property to the seeming detriment of the same and

"Whereas, it is admitted that a few drivers risking demolition to their machines, may have done so, whereas, a number of automobile drivers have signified their willingness regardless of possible broken spring expense to tender a ride over a number of the bridges and culverts and roads in question to the members of the county court who might be willing to risk the attempt at a speed of five miles an hour, but not over fifteen hours. Therefore be it resolved if the court can keep their seats, the joke will be on them."

ROAD ENTHUSIAST DID NOT SHOW UP YESTERDAY

Charles W. Thatcher, Claiming to Represent National Highways Is Belated.

Charles W. Thatcher, who claims he is touring the country by mule team in the interest of the Lincoln and Washington national highways from the Atlantic Coast to Portland and Seattle, has written from Klamath Falls to Manager Stewart of the Commercial club, informing him that he would arrive here yesterday but did not show up.

In his letter he stipulated that he wants to meet everybody interested in having one of these highways pass through Albany.

He says this road is sought by many different localities, but that he favors the route through Albany.

He urged Mr. Stewart to have the papers here devote whole columns to the subject, day by day, and get the people roused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Manager Stewart has not arranged a meeting thus far.

EASTERNERS SHOW GREAT INTEREST

Large Party of Railroad Men Were Intensely Interested in Albany.

SCORES OF QUESTIONS ASKED ABOUT COUNTRY

Paid Marked Tributes to City and Country; Left on 3 o'Clock Train.

That every member of the big party of Eastern and Portland railroad officials who visited here yesterday afternoon, showed devout interest in Albany and this section, was the statement made this morning by Manager Stewart of the Commercial club.

This statement is substantiated by the marked tributes they paid Albany and the scores of enthusiastic questions they asked concerning the country.

"They came here to learn about the country," said Mr. Stewart, "and they certainly took advantage of the opportunity. They asked us everything imaginable concerning the city and county and spoke in the highest terms of the conditions here. They were about the most convivial and spirited bunch of strangers that has ever entered the gates of the city and it gave the Albanyites genuine pleasure to entertain them. I believe that the hour we put in yesterday afternoon with the railroad men will prove to be the most profitable for the city from an advertising standpoint, just think of what these men will do. They are going back to various places in the East and spread what one of them termed 'the good news'."

Questions asked by the railroad men and answered by their hosts, while enroute in the various automobiles, embodied subjects as:

"What about the weather?" "Crop yields?" "Land values?" "What is raised?" forming the main topic of discussion, together with scores of other like interrogations.

Concerning the weather out here, one of the railroad men said he had heard different stories. But he and his companions were put right on the question, by being shown that not any more rain falls here and even less than in other sections of the country and that there is no drought.

They were told of the crop yields and the land values. Clover yielding 8 to 10 bushels an acre and selling at $10 per bushel looked mighty good to the easterners.

In turn the railroaders paid marked tributes to Albany and the surrounding country by speaking unanimously through a spokesman who said in short that Albany was one of the prettiest towns they had visited and that everything appeared to be prosperous and substantial.

Following an automobile trip throughout the city after they were met at the Oregon Electric depot at 2 o'clock, which included a brief itinerary through the rural sections west of the city, the railroad officials boarded the 3 o'clock train for Salem.

Will Ship Hop Pickers Wednesday. That he will ship hop pickers to his yard near Corvallis next Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock was the statement made this noon by Manager J. C. Hammel of the Hotel Hammel. With free potatoes and wood and with an orchard at their disposal and paying one cent per pound for picking the hops, Mr. Hammel ought not to have any trouble securing the 150 pickers he desires.

Mrs. W. M. Parker and daughter Maida who have been spending the summer at Newport will return this evening.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Linn County. Department No. 2.

To Elizabeth Kolb, the above named defendant:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of the above named plaintiff in the above entitled court and cause, now on file in the office of the clerk of the said court, on or before the 26th day of August, 1913, the same being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication thereof; and you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint as herein required, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, viz: a decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and equitable.

This summons is served on you by publication in the Semi-Weekly Democrat by order of the Honorable D. R. McKnight, county judge of Linn County, made the 10th day of July, 1913.
