

MANY WOMEN ARE REGISTERING NOW

Majority Are Residents of the County; Few Local Women Have Filled Blank.

VARIOUS OCCUPATIONS ARE GIVEN BY MATRONS

One Gives Hers As Farmer; Diplomacy Used by Clerks in Several Cases.

That women from many parts of the county are registering as voters but that very few women of Albany have registered yet, was the statement made this morning by County Clerk Willard L. Marks.

Various occupations have been given by the women and it appears that the women are not at all at a loss to know just what to give as their occupation, as has been the case previously. The married women especially, are having but little trouble in filling in this portion of the blank. While many have given different occupations such as "my husband's keeper," or something to the effect it is generally conceded that "housekeeper" or "housewife" are proper judging from the number giving these occupations.

Webster defines these as follows: "Housekeeper"—One who does or oversees the work of keeping house; one who stays much at home.

"Housewife"—To manage with skill and economy, as a house wife or other female manager; the wife of a householder, the mistress of a family, the female head of a family.

Occupations such as stenographer, librarian, clerk, farmers wife and nurse have been given.

Mrs. Helen V. Crawford, of Lebanon, whose blank was filed this morning with County Clerk Marks actually gave the occupation of "farmer." Mrs. Crawford is the owner of a large fruit tract near Lebanon and other property in that section.

County Clerk Marks says that it is an easy matter to register some women while with others extreme diplomacy has to be employed, as the result of questions as to age, occupation and other points.

As an example, this morning a lady appeared in the clerk's office and asked to be registered. She is well known to the whole office force. Mr. Marks proceeded with the preliminaries, as to her name, and occupation. Then came question of age. Mr. Marks hesitated a second.

"Oh, go on and ask me any question. You can't embarrass me. I would rather be an old maid than be going around here looking for a divorce as many have done," she replied as she promptly answered 35 years.

Getting Ready for Round-up.—It is understood that several local people are contemplating attending the Pendleton round-up this year. Scores of people from all over this section have signified their intention of attending. The round-up this year will be held from September 11 to 13 inclusive.

J. J. HANN PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY AT HOSPITAL

After a lingering illness, J. J. Hann died yesterday at St. Mary's hospital, at the age of 75 years. The remains are being held at the undertaking establishment of Fortmiller Brothers awaiting word from relatives in the east.

The deceased came to Harrisburg, about a year ago from Missouri and engaged in farming. Later he was taken sick. Sometime ago he was brought here and placed in the hospital.

The remains will probably be shipped to Lebanon for interment.

WANTS APPOINTMENT AS GUARDIAN OF ESTATE

W. C. Stellmacher Applies to County Court in Matter of Switlinski Estate.

That Frank Switlinski is an insane person and is now confined in the Oregon State Insane Asylum at Salem, and that he was committed in August last year from Multnomah county, are the claims made in a petition to the county court by W. C. Stellmacher, for appointment as guardian of the $4400 real and personal property estate of the incompetent.

The petition sets up that the property is situated in Linn county, that it is necessary for a guardian to be appointed to prevent loss, that the petitioner is a friend of Switlinski and that he has no relatives in this country except an aunt, who desires that the petitioner be appointed.

The order of the court calls for further hearing of September 22 after a copy of the order is served on the asylum inmate.

FIRST HOPS OF SEASON ARE MARKETED IN SALEM

John Krebs' Products of Fine Quality and Quantity Will Be Large.

Salem, Or., Aug. 29.—What is believed to be the first hops of the 1913 crop picked and prepared for market were those hauled to the city yesterday evening from the John Krebs yard. According to several who examined the hops in the bale, they are of first-class quality and show that the remainder of the crop should be far above average in both quality and quantity.

Hop growers in this section of the valley are not waiting for better weather. The 1913 crop is nothing short of phenomenal in every respect, and while there was a shortage in last year's crop, owing to rain and other unfavorable climatic conditions, this year will offset all former failures by a very large margin.

The majority of the growers in this vicinity have been taking more care of their crops this season, and paying closer attention to quality, with the result that the finest and most valuable hops ever grown in the country will soon be on the market. The growers, or at least a large number of them, will not tolerate any picking this season, and an effort will be made to surprise the dealers with a lot of hops that are fit for exhibition in any country.

NO DAMAGE HAS BEEN DONE CROPS

It Is Hoped That Clear Weather May Come by Tonight or Tomorrow.

REDFIELD AND WHITTAKER MAKE STATEMENTS

The Rain Has Been General Throughout Section; Weather Reports Say Rain.

That no damage to crops has been done by the rain was the statement made this morning by E. M. Redfield, who is of the opinion that if clear weather comes by tonight, the danger outlook will have been passed.

"If it stops raining by tonight and the farmers go out in the fields and separate the shocks of grain so the wind can blow through there is no danger of any particular damage as a result of the recent showers," said Mr. Redfield. "Clover should be taken up from the ground and allowed to dry through this same process, or the probability is that it may begin to sprout."

That the rains have not delayed hop picking and that it has not rained hard enough to do any damage to the crop was the statement made yesterday by Jess Whittaker.

"It hasn't rained hard enough to damage any of the crop," said Mr. Whittaker, "and I don't believe that picking has been deterred. If the rain continues today and over until tomorrow then I look for growers to begin to worry."

From reports coming in from various other points in the valley it appears that the rain has been general throughout this part of the state. At other places the reports have it that rain has fallen much harder than here. However, no particular damage has been reported to crops and growers are optimistic as to the continuance of the rain.

According to the weather report for this section of Oregon today, the forecast is occasional showers for tonight and Thursday. During the past 24 hours 76 inches of rain fell. That the rains have been heavier in the mountains is indicated by the fact that the river has raised one-tenth of a foot in the past 10 hours. It is believed that it may raise still higher. The temperature for the past 24 hours has been considerably lower than that prevailing during last week, ranging from 58 to 49.

The groom is the popular young fireman of Albany and has many friends among the boys. The bride is one of Albany's well known and popular girls.

Misses Bertha and Elsie Bump, of Gervais, are registered at the St. Francis.

Henry Nolan of Laconch was in the city yesterday.

SPRING GRAIN IS NEARLY ALL THRESHED NEAR TANGENT

Tangent, Or., Sep. 3.—(Special to Democrat)—The spring grain is about all cut and quite a lot of early oats are already threshed, which made as much as 60 to 80 bushels per acre. There is the larger part of the clover still to thresh. So far it has made from 4 to 8 bushels per acre. The rain of last week stopped most of the threshing machines but they expected to start up the first of the week and if the weather remains good for a couple of weeks the grain will all be saved in good condition.

WORK OF REBUILDING TRACKS IS PROGRESSING

Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railroad Co. Is Complying with Laws.

So that the tracks will correspond to the requirements of city ordinances, part of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern railway line in this city is being rebuilt from First street to Fourth street. Workmen have been busily engaged for some time tearing up the present roadbed. It will be sometime before the work is completed.

When the tracks which form the city streetcar system were laid, it is said that the terms of the city law were not complied with, and as a result, the street paving which was laid along the track was forced up in various places. The work now in progress will make the tracks even with the street pavement. When the tracks were laid the line was owned by the Welch interests, and the latter was purchased by the Portland, Eugene & Eastern.

EVERBEARING APPLES ARE SENT TO WASHINGTON

Prior to sending them to the bureau of plant industry at Washington, that a record may be entered there, G. W. Pennnebaker of the Albany Nurseries, Inc., was yesterday afternoon displaying specimens of apples taken from the "Goal" everbearing tree, on the Junkin farm near Crabtree.

The apples are interesting by the fact that there were seven of them, varying in size from 3 ounces to 16 ounces, all taken from the same tree, at the same time. Mr. Pennnebaker says that the tree bears from July to December and that any time during this period apples in all stages can be picked.

When the tree was first discovered it created much interest as one of the most pronounced freaks and since fruit experts have been unable to solve its mystery. At that time the Albany Nurseries, Inc. purchased the propagation right of the tree for ten years from Mr. Junkin for $600. The name "Goal" was given the variety by the nursery company.

WALKING ROUND WORLD WEARING 'OLD GLORY'

J. F. Micalco, Who Left New York in 1911, Reaches St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 28.—Promoters on the Novyky prospect are accustomed to queer figures from the Caucasus and Magnolia, but they were startled the other day by a man clothed from head to foot in a red garment, suggesting a stage Meplis-toctes.

His only overgarment was the stars and stripes wrapped around him. Written in Russian around the cape were the words "Around the World." He went to the American consulate to have his arrival certified and stated that he had left New York January 16, 1911, to encircle the world on foot, except where traveling by ship was absolutely necessary.

If he gets back in this way to the United States any time in 1914, he says, he will win $30,000.

His name is Joseph Frank Micalco and he has already tramped from Vladivostok to St. Petersburg, bringing letters from the Japanese government to the Japanese Ambassador here. His pronunciation of the American language suggests that he may be a Czech.
