GOOD ADVISE TO FARMERS

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside a contributor writes the following warning to American investors proposing to put their money into Saskatchewan farms. The writer of the letter, John D. Stewart, went to Canada from Iowa. The value in Mr. Stewart's contribution lies in the fact that it brings out again the old truth that the farm across the road looks far more prosperous than ours until we know that farm.

The writer says:
"Some of the necessities for the farmer in Saskatchewan are high here. We cannot borrow money at present, but last year the bank charged ten per cent, and wouldn't loan longer than three months at a time. The land companies bring in people from the United States and charge them from six to ten dollars per acre more than they could get the same kind of land for back in the States. I paid $22 per acre, and I could have got land just as good for $14 an acre."

"In some places the land is very stony. The stones are just under the surface, and one cannot see them easily, but when plowing is started the stones are very much in evidence. Then, too, the land companies tell the Americans they can raise flax on the new breaking. Most of them try it and fail. I have seen a great deal sown in this way, but never seen any cut."

"I came in here from Iowa, and although I expect to try and make it pay out, there are lots of Americans here, and they are all dissatisfied. But when someone talks of reporting the true conditions here, most of them say, 'Don't say anything until you get rid of your land.' And we can't do that at the price we paid for it."

"I wouldn't advise anyone to leave Iowa or any good farming locality to come here, even even if I do have land for sale. More of the farmers here are in debt for more than they are worth."

THE ORCHARD PARDON.

The following comment upon the proposed pardon of Harry Orchard is reprinted from a Southern Idaho newspaper:

A pardon is being asked for Orchard, the greatest red-handed murderer in the penitentiary. We hope for the good of Idaho's reputation and in the name of decent people everywhere, that the pardon board will reject the application. Orchard belongs to the criminal classes and should be confined the rest of his days in a dungeon. His only claim for clemency lies in the fact that after the officers wound a chain of evidence around him that he could not break, he turned states evidence with the hope of saving his miserable neck. We have always believed he told the truth on the witness stand—perhaps the first time in his criminal life. In order to get the sentimental and hysterical element with him to pull for his pardon be "got religion." Religion is all right and we have no kick on anybody taking on all they can secure, but we do object to its being used to turn a degenerate and murderer loose upon the public. Religion has been used so much as a cloak to hide an evil mind that the genuine article is a little hard to find in these days of democratic prosperity. Keep this fellow where he belongs until the final summons comes to close his criminal and degenerate life and you will have made sure that one demon is out of reach of decent men and women. Again the opportunity for "backsliding" is not nearly so favorable when confined behind prison walls. It may be a little hard on the element afflicted with hysteria, feeble minds and slobbering sentimentalists, but they will find other avenues through which to vent their anguish. What Orchard needs is punishment unto the day of his death and then the limit in the world to follow. To reason otherwise is to make a joke of criminal laws either human or divine.

THEY WOULD BUILD COAST TO COAST HIGHWAY

Five Hundred Good Roads Enthusiasts Assemble Today in Lincoln Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., Sep. 23.—Half a thousand good roads enthusiasts including the governors of five states—Illinois, Iowa, Colorado, Utah, and Nebraska—assembled here today to adopt a program and take preliminary steps for the establishment of an ocean to ocean highway as a memorial to Abraham Lincoln. With co-operation expected from every state and federal governments, and persistent work, it was declared today that the coast to coast roadway would be ready for traffic if not wholly completed by the time the Panama-Pacific Exposition opens at San Francisco in 1915. The congress will be in session for two days. It was called at the instigation of George E. Parisse, of Minden, Neb., working in conjunction with the Lincoln Memorial association which has headquarters in Detroit, Mich., and branch offices at the various commercial clubs throughout the West. Governor John M. Morehead, of Nebraska, an ardent good roads enthusiast, today strongly urged the co-operation of all governments.

The aim of the Lincoln Memorial association is a highway, as smooth as a city street, and as durable as any highway constructed to stretch from New York City to San Francisco. That portion of the proposed highway between Chicago and Salt Lake City, Utah, will be the immediate concern of the conference which opened today. It will not be necessary to stake out a new route between Chicago and Salt Lake City, according to today's speakers. Neither will it be necessary to construct a complete roadbed. The plan under consideration and which it was thought would be unanimously adopted, will be to utilize existing overland routes after repairing them and joining them into one highway that would be the longest in the world. Four pioneer trails, used by "freighters" before the days of railways, will form the basis of the western half of the proposed highway. These are: The Midland trail from Denver to Salt Lake City, 535 miles; Omaha, Lincoln and Denver Transcontinental route, 636 miles; the River-to-River road from the Mississippi river to Chicago, 180 miles. The greater portions of these old routes still are in good repair. However, it will cost many millions, speakers said today, to weld them into one long roadbed. Local committees along the road will contribute, and contributions already have been received from scores of individuals, some of them living far from the proposed "pathway."

Y. M. C. A. TAKES OVER LYCEUM LECTURE COURSE

The Young Men's Christian Association has taken over the management of the lyceum course which has for the past few years been managed by Albany College.

The attractions this year are all from the Ridpath Lyceum Bureau. The patrons of the lyceum course were dissatisfied with many of the numbers substituted on last year's program by the Britt Bureau, and it was because of this that the change was made to the Ridpath Bureau. The bureau has the reputation of furnishing the highest grade of attractions and of supplying the attractions as scheduled. It is to be hoped therefore, that the patrons of the course will not be dissatisfied this year.

The Y. M. C. A. in taking over the lyceum course has not done so with the hopes of making money. Their sole aim is to supply high class entertainments at popular prices.

With this in mind it is confidently expected that the numbers selected for this season are the best that have ever appeared in Albany.

There are six attractions:
Ralph Parlette, humorist, philosopher, Oct. 22.
The Dixie Quintette, Jubilee singers, Nov. 14.
Gov. Herbert Hadley of Missouri, Jan.

The Four Artists, violinist, pianist, soprano and baritone soloists, February 20.

Alton Packard, America's foremost cartoonist, Feb. 26.

The Weatherwax Quartette, male and trumpet quartet, Apr. 17.

The season tickets are placed at $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for all school children and college students. A canvass is now being made for season tickets. Five hundred must be subscribed within the next few days to make the course possible.

Every one of the attractions has been tried out through years of experience on the platform. There will be no substitutes.

Albany needs high class moral entertainment for the winter months. The management of the Y. M. C. A. believes this is the best possible opportunity of securing them at a price within the reach of all, and it is for this reason they are making strenuous efforts to make this course a success.

J. J. Leonard of Aurora, was a business visitor in the city today.

IMPEACHMENT COURT RULES AGAINST GOVERNOR SULZER

Case Against New York Executive Will Be Heard Before New York Legislators.

(By United Press Association) Albany, New York, Sep. 23.—Driven to the last line of defense by the impeachment court's vote against the governor's contention that the assembly acted unlawfully in starting the impeachment proceedings, Sulzer's lawyers today called into question the sufficiency of the charges made against their client by Tammany. Attorney Perrier made the argument for the defense in which he asserted that "neither himself or his associates desired to shield the governor." "Our government is one of laws, not of men," said the attorney. "Both the assembly and the impeachment court are governed by the laws of the state and the law says that a public official may be impeached only for willful and corrupt misconduct in office. The court should so interpret the law."

THREE YOUNGSTERS ARE CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Oscar Ballard, Roy Crowder and Cecil McAllister Will Appear Before Judge McKnight.

Armed to even a skeleton key, Oscar Ballard, aged 13, Roy Crowder, age 13 and Cecil McAllister, age 11, were arrested this morning at the Southern Pacific depot by Constable John Catlin, each on a charge of larceny from a dwelling. The lads were arraigned before Judge McKnight in the juvenile court shortly afterwards as alleged delinquent minors and the hearing was set for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Meantime they are being held pending the action of the court.

Young Ballard is the son of Frank Ballard, the Crowder boy is the son of S. A. Crowder and young McAllister is the son of J. A. McAllister. According to the story told by the officers, it is believed that the lads planned and are alleged to have stolen $30 from Mrs. John Garland, which they knew she kept in a bureau drawer at her home on East Fourth street. The crime is alleged to have been committed Sunday. With this sum it is claimed they purchased from Hauser brothers gun store, several rounds of ammunition and a gun. With this equipment, together with other articles they collected, they left on the train for Gates yesterday morning.

At the instance of Constable Catlin, word was spread at Gates that he was coming there on a speeder after the boys. It is believed that this caused the youths to return here this morning. Of the $30 they are alleged to have appropriated, $17 was recovered.
