

BENTON OFFICERS RAID ROADHOUSE

Sheriff Gellately and Deputies Made Arrest and Confiscated Liquor.

THE PLACE IS ALLEGED BOOTLEGGING RESORT

Sheriff Gellately, of Benton county and a crew of deputies made a raid last night on an alleged roadhouse and blind pig located several miles north of Spring hill in Benton county and succeeded in making one arrest, according to advices received here this morning, by Acting Chief of Police King.

The raid was conducted last night between 10 and 11 o'clock and John Johnson was the only occupant of the house arrested. Sheriff Gellately was assisted by three deputies. Johnson and his wife were the only persons found about the premises. The Benton county sheriff says he has not the goods on Johnson, who was taken to Corvallis, where he is confined in the Benton county jail. The officers confiscated several bottles of beer.

According to advices received here, a charge of maintaining a nuisance in the shape of a road house, in violation of the local option liquor law will be preferred against Johnson.

The raid is the result of many complaints of residents of the neighborhood that a resort was being run there. Local police officers have long been suspicious of the place but were powerless to act on account of the place being in another county.

NOT INSANE BUT VICTIM OF DELIRIUM TREMENS

Bill Holden a Farmhand Will Be Given Rest on County Poor Farm.

Picking up an ax and rushing frantically about the farm yard of F. M. Miller, on the Tangent road south of here, Bill Holden, a farm hand in the employ of Walt Boynes, frightened residents of the neighborhood, who notified Sheriff Bodine. Holden was arrested and brought here.

This afternoon he was examined before Judge McKnight for insanity but it was determined that he was the victim of delirium tremens caused by drink. Judge McKnight recommended a rest on the poor farm and Holden will be taken there tomorrow.

Holden admitted that delirium tremens was the cause of his actions. He did not threaten anybody. In talking to a Democrat representative Holden appeared to be rational but was so nervous that he talked disconnectedly. From what he said, it seemed that a love affair was the cause of his excessive drinking.

PORTLAND ADVERTISING PEOPLE IN ALBANY TODAY

"In all our travels over the Pacific Northwest we have never visited a city that seems to have a greater future," declared G. H. Henderson, a well known Portland artist, who was in Albany yesterday. Mr. Henderson, accompanied by Alice Brunn, Edith F. Jones and Rollin Coughley are employed by one of the largest advertising agencies of Portland.

This group of artists, all of whom are known to lovers of art are now in the employ of one of the largest Portland advertising agencies. They were in Albany to sketch from living models the new Fall and Winter suits, cloaks and dresses being shown by Chambers & McCune.

The idea of having famous artists sketch models in their own store is an innovation in merchandising in the Willamette valley. Only a few firms in Portland have adopted this manner of presenting their stocks to the public.

When these drawings are worked up they will be used in the newspaper advertising of this enterprising firm and in this manner Madam will be able to pick out her Fall and Winter costumes by reading the newspaper advertising of this firm.

This group of artists are probably the highest paid commercial artists in the entire Northwest. Rollin Coughley was the official artist of the Lewis and Clark exposition and drew the panorama view of the exposition together with all of the art work sent out by the fair. Guy S. Henderson is recognized as the best commercial artist on the west coast and his work commands the highest price. Edith F. Jones is an Oregon girl and her fashion drawings have been bought by the biggest stores in Seattle and Portland. Miss Brunn is a new arrival in Portland, having just left Wanamakers of New York to join the advertising agency supplying this service to Chambers & McCune.

Chambers & McCune's store looked like a fashion fair yesterday with living models displaying the latest modes in Parisian and Fifth Avenue creations while four artists placed on paper their impressions of this wonderfully modish garments and suits.

The drawings made by these artists yesterday will commence to appear in the advertising of this firm in the Democrat the latter part of next week and will run throughout the next four or five weeks.

Every woman who reads the Democrat will welcome this innovation and the Democrat feels sure that this feature will be worth awaiting.

RICHARDS SCORES GOVERNOR SULZER

In Opening Argument Attorney Says That Charges of Fraud Will Be Proved.

PROMISES STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS TRIAL OF CASE

Sulzer Denies All Allegations; Points Raised by Defense Passed Over for Present.

Albany, New York, Sep. 24.—Acting upon the suggestion of Chief Justice Cullen of the court of appeals, the Sulzer impeachment court, by a vote of 49 to 7 suspended its decision as to the legality of the impeachment articles until after all evidence against the governor has been presented.

Albany, New York, Sep. 24.—Declaring that "he employed bagmen to scour the state for contributions to his campaign fund and that he held the bag himself," Attorney Richards this afternoon opened the case for the prosecution against Sulzer, in his opening argument denouncing Sulzer in violent language. Richards asserted that the governor has opened the ten thousand, as well as the two thousand dollar contributions. "He did more than collect funds," said the attorney. "He intended to keep them to buy stocks and supply the margin for his stock speculations." Richards then reviewed the charges against Sulzer recapitulating them and attacking the governor personally. "Although high in his office, high in his position, we are prepared to prove low and sordid crimes against William Sulzer. His chief offense is plain fraud, larceny and perjury," concluded the attorney for the prosecution.

The managers of the impeachment proceedings subpoenaed the managers of the local telegraph offices to produce telegrams sent by Sulzer to his wife and to his private secretary, Sarecky, John Hennessy, James Garrison and others during the months of June, July and August.

Attorney Herrick this morning filed Sulzer's answer. It denied all allegations except that Sulzer admitted campaign contributions but asserted that they were accepted in good faith. Attorney Richards then addressed the court.

OREGON ELECTRIC TRAINS TO STOP AT GEARY STREET

New Convenience Goes into Effect Tomorrow; All Local Trains Will Stop.

Commencing tomorrow, all trains of the Oregon Electric except the limited trains will stop at Geary street upon being flagged.

This is according to an announcement made this morning by an official at the Oregon Electric depot. It means that passengers can board incoming and outgoing trains at this place without having to come all the way to the depot. Each train to be stopped will have to be flagged. This change does not affect the limited trains as they will be run as usual but applies to all local trains.

This will undoubtedly be a source of much convenience to the patrons of this road who reside in the east end of the city. In case they want to come to town or leave on a south bound train this same privilege applies.

A platform has been erected at Geary street and all is in readiness to carry out the new convenience tomorrow.

REPUBLICANS AT SEA AS TO ROOSEVELT'S INTENTIONS

Colonel Does Not Believe His Nomination on Republican Ticket Probable.

(By United Press Association) Washington, Sep. 24.—Interviewed concerning the statement attributed to Senator Sutherland of Utah, that Roosevelt will be the Republican nominee for president in 1916, the consensus of opinion among prominent Republican politicians here appears to be that it "all depends upon future developments."

"The question as to whether or not he would accept the Republican nomination was put point blank to Ex-President Roosevelt by a Progressive congressman," said Congressman Kelly of Pennsylvania. "Colonel Roosevelt gave the interrogator every assurance that such an event was most improbable but he did not answer categorically. Personally I believe the report to be uncombed, intended to disrupt the issue between Republicans and Progressives, but even the loss of Roosevelt would not destroy the Progressive party."
