Train Brought to Stop by Fouled Block Signal. Train Men Covered When Investigate.

SAFE DYNAMITED; SACKS OF MONEY OBTAINED

Robbers Escape In Engine Which Later Runs Wild. Officer Killed During Pursuit.

(By United Press Association)
Tuscaloosa, Ala., Sep. 26.—Three masked bandits held up and robbed the New York-Grand Southern express of the Alabama Great Southern railway at Englewood early this morning and escaped with a $100,000. The gang fled with the locomotive of the train robbed, exchanging shots with a posse pursuing them with a switch engine. Distancing their pursuers, the outlaws evidently abandoned the engine at a lonely spot. The locomotive stopped forty miles from the scene of the holdup when the steam became exhausted. During the pursuit one of the deputy sheriffs shot and killed another officer by accident. The train was brought to a stop by a fouled block signal at Englewood station. While the train crew were investigating, the robbers rushed them. Keeping Engineer Daniels covered by revolvers, the bandits ordered the firemen to cut off the coaches from the engine, express and mail cars. The fireman refused, and was felled by a blow from a revolver butt. Having cut the train themselves, the bandits compelled Daniels to pull the express and mail cars a short distance ahead, and broke into the cars with dynamite. Later they dynamited the safe, gathered up two sacks of money, with their pockets bulging with greenbacks, boarding the engine when they saw the sheriff's posse approaching on the switch engine, one of them acting as engineer, and opened the throttle, with the posse in close pursuit.

SULZER'S FOES SPRING SURPRISE

Mergenthau Testifies That Sulzer Asked Him to Be Easy With Him on Stand.

CALLED OVER LONG-DISTANCE PHONE BY GOVERNOR

Sulzer Wins Important Point at Morning Session by a Vote of 49 to 2.

(By United Press Association)
Albany, N. Y., Sep. 26.—Sworn testimony that Governor Sulzer asked him to commit perjury before the Frawley Senate Committee trial this afternoon by Superintendent of Public Works Peck. Immediately after Sulzer was nominated Peck declared he gave him $500 for his campaign fund. On July 4th he said he was subpoenaed by the Frawley committee. "I went to the executive offices," Peck testified, "and showed Sulzer my letter, asking him what to do. He said, 'forget it!' I asked, what could he do if under oath and he answered, 'Oh, do as I'm going to do—forget it.'"

(By United Press Association)
Albany, N. Y., Sep. 26.—The prosecution in the impeachment case today recalled Henry Mergenthau. "Almost immediately after my return from Europe," testified Mergenthau, "Governor Sulzer called me over the long distance telephone. He invited me to come to Albany and see him, but I told him that that was impossible. When Sulzer asked me whether I was going to testify in the impeachment proceedings, I replied that I had been subpoenaed. 'I hope you will be easy with me,' Sulzer said, but I told him that I would be forced to recite the facts. He then asked me if I could treat affairs with me as a personal matter and I told him that I could not."

(By United Press Association)
Albany, N. Y., Sep. 26.—By a vote of 49 to 2, the impeachment court today decided it proper for the attorneys for the defense to inquire of contributors to the Sulzer campaign fund as to whether or not the contribution was intended for use exclusively for any given purpose, or as to whether it was intended to permit the governor to use it for what purpose he pleased. The result is considered a decided victory for the governor and his attorneys were greatly pleased with the ruling.
The work of the impeachment court for the next three days will be largely routine, consisting of the examination of subscribers to the campaign fund. The first excitement is expected when Governor Sulzer's private secretary, Louis Sarecky takes the stand.

(By United Press Association)
Los Angeles, Cal., Sep. 27.—Mrs. Rebecca P. Gray, 55 years of age, and a well known Christian Science practitioner here was found murdered in a downtown office building early this morning. The body indicated that she had been beaten on the head with a blunt instrument. A piece of gas pipe covered with brown paper was found near the body and was evidently used by the murderer. The corpse was covered with books and Christian Science literature and was found by a charwoman who screamed and fainted when she discovered the murder. The floor and walls were spattered with blood and there were marked evidences of a struggle.

According to detectives there was no apparent search made of the murdered woman by the murderer. They are firm in their belief that robbery was not the motive for the deed but are unable to give any other theory. Mrs. Gray came here some time ago after obtaining a divorce from her husband, John Gray, a wealthy citizen of San Diego, who has since remarried.
