The much libeled Governor West appears to have won another victory over his enemies in the case involving the alleged misuse of the prison funds. Judge Kelly hit the nail on the head when he held that to constitute a wrong it must first be shown that there has been some injury to the state.

Wonder why our Republican contemporary in Portland has ceased to refer to President Wilson as the "Schoolmaster Statesman?"

The people of Albany will soon have an opportunity to settle old scores with their enemies. If the insult was great, run your enemy for some city office. You could do him no greater injury.

One of the easiest things in the world is to tell the other fellow how to conduct his business. It doesn't cost you a cent if he takes your advice and loses and if he declines to substitute your judgment for his own it doesn't cost you more.

According to the press dispatches Saturday Colonel Roosevelt sailed for South America in a rage. If the ex-president had not been in a rage it would have had more news value.

"The Wilson-Underwood tariff law is an outrage on the American people," says a manufacturer. If you don't believe it ask the tariff protected trusts.

Have you registered yet?
According to the statement of a fashionable Washington modeste a debutante cannot properly make her bow in the exclusive society of the national capital without the expenditure of at least $15,000 for clothes.

The society bull's wardrobe must include sixteen gowns, seven tailored suits, one ermine lined opera cloak, twenty-five hats, twenty pairs of shoes and several dozen pairs of stockings. From these figures, it must cost almost as much to introduce a girl into the exclusive society as it does to settle with the plumber.

Can Roosevelt come back? Yes —from South America.

WHAT CONSTITUTES USURPATION?

The Morning Oregonian finds itself unable to agree with the Democrat.
We are not surprised or displeased.
There is only one question upon which the Oregonian and the Democrat are apparently agreed and that is upon the dignity of Christ. We are terrified to find that they are unable to find a sparrow upon the foot of every Democrat and a silver in every law of Democratic origin. Perhaps our breath of vision is limited by the narrow confines of a country newspaper office, but the Democrat finds much to commend in the administration of Governor West. We make no objection to the manner in which the governor has conducted his office, and find ourselves wholly unable to agree with the Oregonian in the assertion that he has usurped the duties of the emerGENCY board. The Oregonian asks the Democrat for a candid disposition of the question and we are pleased to comply with the request of our esteemed Portland contemporary.

Governor West has not usurped the duties of the emergency board. True it is that he has expended from his own personal and private funds the sum of $1,800 for the purpose of carrying on his crusade against organized vice.
He drew his own personal checks, treating only to the fairness of the members of the board to reimburse him from the funds of the state. He asserted that he had no legal claim for the reimbursement. He frankly told the members of the board that he had no legal way in which he could collect. He made no demand for reimbursement and told the members of the board that they could pay it or not as they saw fit. He did not pretend to bind the state to a contract, which he had made as an individual.

It is therefore apparent to the mind of any reasonable man that no deficit was created, consequently by no reasonable construction of the case, has there been any usurpation of powers.

Governor attempted to bind the state to a contract which was not authorized by the emergency board, and issued vouchers for the money so expended, thereby creating a deficit which the state was obliged to pay, there might be some merit in the claim made by the Oregonian. But such was not the case. If our contemporary insists upon proceeding upon premises which are founded entirely upon fiction, it can hardly be expected to reach a correct conclusion.

AN ALIBI.

In the October American Magazine Charles Dillon writes an article entitled "Humors of the Courts." It is made up largely of funny true stories told by lawyers of their experiences.
The following is a story of a prisoner who became disgusted with his lawyer and took his case into his own hands:
"A western lawyer whose practice seldom goes beyond the justice courts strayed into a lawyer's club one night, ostensibly to look for an acquaintance, and after he had gone someone told this one about him:
"Black's chief fault," said the man in front of the fireplace, "is his disposition to ask leading questions. These questions, as anyone can see, are intended to warn the witness how to answer. Once, not long ago, this man endangered his client's liberty, or the client thought so, for, at any rate, he suddenly took the case into his own hands. 'You have no case, Mike,' the discomfited lawyer whispered. 'You'll win yourself. You hit that Chinaman and a lot of people know it. The judge himself knows it. If you only had an alibi, a good witness to call.'" "There's Tim Maginnis," said Mike,
"pointing into the audience. 'I spoke to him. He knows what to say.'"
"Fine. Take your case. I've had enough of it. When Fong Foo finishes his story you call Maginnis, pointing into the audience. 'I spoke
"Fine. Take your case. I've had
ishes his story you call Maginnis,

"At the proper moment Mike, looking very wise and very self-important, called Tim Maginnis.
"Mr. Maginnis," he began, "do you understand the nature of an oath?"
"I think I do," Tim replied, a bit nervously.
"Well, sir," said Mike, holding his head high, "will you please tell the court where I was when I struck the Chinaman in front of the hotel?"
"I was home in bed," was the stammering reply, but poor Mike was convicted."

The ice man, having earned his wage —which was considered large—is ready now to leave the stage, and give the coal man charge. Through all the summer months we coughed our coins to dodge the heat; the ice man's snip was large and soft, distributing his lect. And now white winter rains and storms, while howls the deadly storm, we'll cough up all our extra money in effort to keep warm. The coal man is a cheerful wight, and taught his raptive mares; he basks on drowsy beds at night, by day in motor cars. In gilded luxury he rolls, he often content wears, while sway-backed horehines pack his coal up three or four boxes of staves. He is a crank on loosest weight, a Spartan soul is left, and oft he throws in chunks of state to give variety. When winter tempests round us sleep, the most of us resign, but that's the coal man's time to break an optimistic line. The blizzard's snort, around too hard to please this cheery soul, while there are wagons in his yard a-floating up with coal. And so the good old coal man greets his laughter flows in filling down his debris in our book and then sends in his bills—Walt Mason.

Jubilee Closes at St. Mary's Church.
The closing sermon of the jubilee will be given this evening at St.
Mary's church. The sermon will be an appeal to the congregation to renew the sacred pledges of baptism and live up to them in every detail.
The closing services on tomorrow were particularly impressive, and perhaps the best of the series. The jubilee made a strong address to the Knights of Columbus on the occasion of their approaching observance of Columbus Day, and the initiation of candidates on that day. In the absence of Father Lane today, his assistant, Father Clancy, will officiate at the benediction service tonight.
A special feature of tonight's service will be the Rosary procession in which the spirits of the Academy and the Sisters of the church will participate. This will close the 100-century observance of the edict of peace.

WILL ARRANGE FOR CANAL CELEBRATION OCT. 30

The Commercial Club Appoints Committee with F. P. Nutting As Chairman.

To formulate plans for a fitting celebration of the opening of the Panama canal on October 30 in this city, by a brief period of suspension of business and the blowing of whistles, etc, the executive board of the Commercial club appointed a committee at the meeting last night. Those present at the meeting were: President, J. S.
Van Winkle; vice president, F. P.
Nutting; secretary, C. H. Stewart, and directors Waldo Anderson, S. N. Branden, G. T. Hockensmith, J. J. Hoyden, R. C. Hunt, and J. H. Robnett.
G. T. Hockensmith, chairman of committee on entertainment, reported that it had been impossible for various reasons to make arrangements for a get-together meeting for this evening, but advised that we should endeavor to hold such a meeting in the near future. The matter was left in the hands of the committee.
Manager Stewart made a verbal report of the proceedings of the meeting recently held at Salem, where representatives of the commercial clubs of the principal counties of the valley met for the purpose of making arguments for advertising the Willamette valley at the Panama-Pacific exposition. He reported that he had extended an invitation for the second meeting to be held at Albany, and this was accepted and Thursday, October 30, at 2:30 p. m. was named as the date.
The manager was instructed to place this matter before the county court, and the Commercial clubs of the different towns of the county, and urge them to have delegates at the meeting on October 30.
It having been decided at a previous meeting that the actual date of the opening of the Panama canal should be celebrated in this city in a becoming manner, the president appointed the following committee to make the necessary arrangements: F. P. Nutting, J. L. Tomlinson, E. H. McCune, A. M. Hammer and Dr. R. C. Hunt.

YOU MUST REGISTER
IF YOU WANT TO VOTE

Swearing in of Electors at Polls is Eliminated by New Law.

If you want to vote in the coming city election on December 1, you must register before November 22. As has been the case, electors have been sworn in at the polls and allowed to vote but under the new order of things this cannot be done any more unless the supreme court should hold compulsory registration invalid. In plain words, "you must register to vote."

Read this relating to the statutes and constitution relating to elections in the state of Oregon for 1913: Section 6. No elector who is not registered as provided in this act shall be entitled to vote at any election provided for by law except in school district or road district elections; provided that in case the supreme court should hold the above provision for the compulsory registration invalid then, and in that case only the elector may register with the judges of the election upon election day.

This morning another clerk was added to the registration force in City Recorder Van Tassel's office. Ed.
Washburn is now engaged in the work of assisting in filling out the registration blanks. Mrs. Harriet Van Tassel is the other registration clerk and the two have been kept fairly busy during the day, while Recorder Van Tassel has been kept on the go swearing in the electors.

According to figures compiled by Mrs. Van Tassel, a total of 102 have thus far registered. Out of this number 26 are women. That number includes those who had registered upuntil 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the second of the month when the books were opened.
Recorder Van Tassel again stated this morning that if registration does assume a more of a brisk aspect, that scores will not be able to vote. He contends that a bigger average of registrations should be made daily to avoid the rush towards the close and to enable those who come in late to get in time. From the present indications there will be a big rush towards the close of the books or an unusually small number of eligible voters will be registered for the coming election.

CITY NEWS

Salem May Vote on Liquor.—A local option petition signed by about 600 voters was filed in the county clerk's office Saturday afternoon by Attorney W. H. Triadla. The petitioners request the county clerk to set a date upon which an election upon the issue shall be held. The county clerk will check over the petition, and if it is sufficient, will call an election. It is planned that the local option measure shall be voted on November 4.—Capital Journal.

Headache in His Feet.—With a headache in his feet, tired and homesick, E. C. Roberts, according to a statement made by him this morning is homeward bound after attending the state fair throughout. Mr. Roberts declares that the fair was the greatest ever and that he walked, looked and talked in order not to miss anything on the grounds, until he is ready to go home to mother. He arrived here last night and will leave this afternoon for his home near Lebanon.

Suit to Foreclose Mortgage.—A complaint in equity, for foreclosure of mortgage was filed in the circuit court this morning by Gus Walden and Suan Walden, partners of Horn-brook, Calif., against Elizabeth and John Dempsey, wife and husband.
The plaintiffs seek to recover $200 on a promissory note executed March 19, 1912, and due one day after date, and ask $100 attorneys fees and costs and disbursements.
