The University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College football eleven will battle here on November 8.

The event will be the annual football clash between those two colleges. It is the biggest game of the season in the state and thousands of visitors will be here to witness it. The managers expect 8000 people from all parts of the Pacific Northwest to attend. They will arrive in the city at noon, at least two excursion trains, one from Eugene and Corvallis will arrive at that time and two others, one from each city, will arrive prior to the time scheduled for the games to start. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. The majority of the excursionists will not depart from the city until 10.30 o'clock in the evening.

Contracts of the agreement between the Albany Commercial club and Dr. E. J. Stewart, representing the college and Dean H. Walker, representing the university, were drafted yesterday afternoon and have been sent to the managers for their signatures. All of the provisions set up in the contracts have been agreed to by both parties and nothing now stands in the way for the arrangements for the game.

The contracts, dated October 24, state that the local commercial agrees to furnish the grounds, in good condition, and the erect substantial bleachers for the seating capacity of 8000. The managers agree to run two excursion trains each from Corvallis and Eugene, that two from each city bearing the students from each institution will arrive by noon and that the other two will arrive between then and the opening of the game. The two trains bearing the students will be held here by an agreement in the contract, until 10.30 o'clock in the evening. The managers further agree to pay the sum of $250 immediately after the game to the commercial club to partially defray the expenses.

A contract was also drawn yesterday afternoon between the commercial club and John Colman for the erection of 371 feet of bleachers and 300 feet of sidewalk according to the plans and specifications. Colman is to furnish all the material and is given the privilege of using all the lumber at present on the grounds and is to receive the sum of $304 for his work, which is to proceed immediately.

The city on the day of the big game will be fairly alive with visitors. Aside from the college students and others, the bankers of group No. 2 will attend the game in a body.

SEASON IS NOW OPEN ON DUCKS AND GEESE

Federal Law Instead of State Law in Effect on Migratory Birds.

The open season on ducks and geese is now on. It opened on October 1 and will close January 16.

Many people are apparently mixed as to the open season on these birds, judging from the many phone calls coming into the county clerk's office daily. This common misunderstanding is natural, owing to the differences in the state and federal laws.

It will be remembered that the government recently assumed the obligation to protect migratory birds, thereby relieving the state of that responsibility. Hence the open season on ducks and geese according to the federal laws, is open right now and closes in January. The state law differed considerably as to this point of game protection and in view of the federal law causing the season to be open now, the state law can be disregarded.

Scores of hunters have been out after ducks and geese thus far and many have reported great success. According to the reports, duck shooting is good up the river beyond Collins Bay and about Round Lake.

HOPE FOR MEN IN MINE IS NOW ABANDONED

Death List Totals 263; Helmet Men Risked Their Lives to Save Survivors.

(By United Press Association)

Dawson, Oct. 25.—Seventy-two corpses have been removed from the mine up to 8.30 this morning. Former Superintendent Smith, who because of his familiarity with the workings of the mine has taken a leading part in the rescue work said today that there is not the slightest possibility that a man could live inside of the mine. The latest estimate places the number of dead at 263. The condition of the tunnels is such that it seems doubtful if the recovery of the rest of the corpses is possible. The fire was checked by walling up a part of the mine where it was raging but the ventilating fans failed to clear out the gas. Working for more than a few minutes under these conditions is suicidal. The helmet men also ran a serious risk of another explosion.

LIFE LONG FRIEND SUCCEEDS OTHER

New Stayton Postmaster and Old One Had Lived Identical Lives.

ONLY DIFFERENCE IS PARTY AFFILIATION

Grew Up Together, Came West at Same Time; Went to College Together.

When E. B. Waters retired from the postoffice at Stayton on July 1 last he was succeeded by Arthur Elder, who was born and reared in the same county with him in the same middle west, who moved to the same town in Oregon at practically the same time, who went to the same college with him and lived in the same room and who has been his neighbor ever since the college days.

The only dissimilarity in the lives of Watters and Elders is that the former is a Republican and the latter a Democrat, but that very fact has served to complete a chain of remarkable coincidences in their lives by reason of it one succeeded to the other's official position when a change in National administration occurred.

Watters, who was in Albany yesterday, has been in the Stayton postoffice continuously for the past 16 years. His father was postmaster but he was deputy during all of that time and for many years actually has conducted the office.

Watters and Elders were both born in Russell County, Kan., on farms which almost joined. Both were farmer's sons. Elder came to Oregon with his parents in 1881 and Watters less than a year later. Both located in Stayton and there the boys renewed their friendship. When they finished the public schools both the boys went to the old Mineral Springs college, at Sodalville, and there they batched in the same room. Leaving school together, both returned to Stayton, where both have lived ever since.
