

HARRISBURG AND SWEET HOME UP

Former Is Wet and Latter Is Dry--Other Measures Are Overshadowed.

BELIEVED THAT COUNTY IS FOR THE UNIVERSITY

Prophecies Are Lacking at Sweet Home--Woman May Save Day at Potato City.

Election Quiet in Albany. Save for the whole day holiday reigning in public offices, the special election today was hardly apparent in Albany unless one happened to notice a slim string of men and women going and coming about the polls. On a whole the election was decidedly quiet and as a result a small vote is believed to have been polled. The results will not be learned until tomorrow. No estimate can be obtained today. It is expected that by tomorrow night the full returns from all over the county will be obtained.

Sweet Home and Harrisburg, two Linn county towns are today voting on the local option liquor question. The former is dry and the latter wet. According to reports from these two places the referendum measures have been overshadowed by the measures that are at issue locally. Meantime Albany peacefully voted on the statewide measures and the belief is that Linn county will go for the university and probably prove a strong factor in behalf of the compensation act, if not the other two measures.

SWEET HOME VOTING ON LOCAL OPTION QUESTION

Sweet Home, Or., Nov. 3.—The local option liquor question here has nearly overshadowed the other measures that are at issue in the special election. But little interest has been given the referendum measures, compared to the attention on the local option question. Sweet Home has been dry for several years and this year the wet elements will strive to make the town wet. On the other hand the dries are equally determined to uphold their side of the question. So the election contest between the two factions will not be lacking in desperate endeavor. Both forces have been more or less active for the past three months and several small meetings have been held. Prophecies on the outcome of the election are racing on both sides.

BELIEVED THAT LINN COUNTY IS FOR "U"

Though in past years Linn county has voted heavily against appropriation bills for the University of Oregon, it is believed sentiment here is now in favor of the bills to be voted upon at the special election today. In 1910 Linn county cast only 2948 votes in favor of the University of Oregon maintenance bill and 2948 votes against it. Last year the negative majorities were much greater, the county voting against one University bill 567 to 423 and the other 511 to 424. But this year sentiment in this county, especially in the cities and towns, appears to be favorable toward the university. It is possible in some precincts a heavy negative vote may be cast but it is believed that in the cities and towns, and especially in Albany and Lebanon, an affirmative vote will be cast which will make the county's total vote in favor of appropriations.

HARRISBURG WOMEN MAY SHUT OUT THE SALOONS

Harrisburg, Or., Nov. 3.—The referendum measures to be voted on tomorrow have received little notice in this vicinity. They have been overshadowed by the local liquor war. For the past year Harrisburg has been "wet," the last vote favoring the establishment of the open saloon. Two saloons have been doing business since January 1 last. The prohibition forces have been active all year, and in the past two months meetings have been held almost daily. Among these was one Sunday night conducted by a number of the leading business men of Albany. The outcome will depend on the way the women vote. That the "wets" fear the result of the enlarged electorate is shown by the vote last fall on woman suffrage. The majority here against votes for women was about the same as that in favor of the saloon.

Grange to Give Basket Social.—No. 10 grange will give a basket social November 15, an interesting program is being prepared for the occasion and a large crowd is expected. The rally day meeting that was to be held the 8th has been postponed until the 22nd of November at which time an open meeting will be held to which all friends are invited.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT CLUB HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Transacted Much Business and Elected Officers--Reports of Work Splendid.

Meeting yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club, the Civic Improvement club held the annual session, which was marked by the transaction of much business, election of officers and receiving the reports of representatives of the club that attended the women's federated clubs convention at Hood River recently, showing the remarkable work of the clubs of the state and especially of the Albany clubs.

Mrs. J. K. Weatherford, who has been the president of the club for the past five years, presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Bills and correspondence were taken up and disposed of.

The reports of Mrs. Homer Nelson and Mrs. R. C. Hunt, who represented the club at the Hood River convention, were presented in a most complete and splendid way. They were intensely interesting and the ladies received many congratulations. The reports showed that Albany was well ahead of many of the clubs and stipulated that the undertaking of the construction of the depot park was one of the most commendable and worthy accomplishments of the Albany club.

The election of officers was then held. Mrs. Weatherford was renominated and elected unanimously but positively declined the honor. Mrs. R. C. Hunt was then elected. The race for the vice presidency centered about several candidates and on various votes taken the poll was a tie. The election of a person to take this office was abandoned temporarily. Mrs. Levi Tracy was elected secretary and Mrs. Willard L. Marks was chosen treasurer. An executive committee consisting of five members was chosen as follows: Mrs. J. K. Weatherford, Mrs. Homer Nelson, Mrs. H. H. Hewitt, Mrs. Fred Dawson and Mrs. J. A. Howard.

J. D. Ozden, of Salem, arrived here this morning to attend business matters. He will return home this morning.

Gene Shea, of the Ralston Electric Supply Co. went to Halsey this morning in the interest of the company. He will return this evening.

J. C. Wadsworth of Mill City, a former Albany theater man, was in the city this morning attending business matters. Mr. Wadsworth represents the Democrat at Mill City.

C. B. Hardy, of Portland, arrived in the city this morning to attend business matters here and at Lebanon.

The Hofflich real estate office made the deal for the exchange of the St. Charles hotel.

Meeting this morning in the Commercial club parlors, members of the city council and school board discussed the matter brought up at the meeting of the club Monday night, relative to a city hall and city park, and agreed that the matter would be taken up in the proper form and in the proper way immediately. Several members of both boards were present at the meeting and much enthusiasm was manifested.

BRIDGE MATTER BEFORE COUNTIES

Large Delegation of Harrisburg People Visited Here Today to Urge Construction.

LINN COUNTY WILLING IF LANE WILL ASSIST

Over 100 Potato City Residents, Including Women, Went Before Court.

Headed by their band, over 100 Harrisburg people, including men, women and children, arrived in the city this morning on a special train, were met at the depot by a delegation of local business men, and escorted to the court house where they conferred with the court relative to the construction of a bridge across the Willamette river at that place to take the place of the ferry now in use.

The Harrisburg people formed in a line of march at the depot and headed by a band marched up the street, in column two, escorted by the local business men. The women and children were in the march likewise.

The procession attracted much attention. The line of march wended its way through the main street and up Broadalbin street. Each Harrisburg resident wore a long ribbon badge. On it was the facsimile of a steel bridge, and bore the words, "Harrisburg Booster, 'O, Ferry Land'" and a few other catchy lines.

Reaching the court house, the procession entered and went to the court room, where members of the court were in waiting. All of the visitors were made comfortable, as this room was especially set aside for the members of the court and prepared by the clerk to especially accommodate the meeting.

In order that the business men of that city may attend the meeting for the purpose of urging the erection of the bridge, Mayor Long, declared a half holiday in the Potato City.

A county ferry across the Willamette is maintained at Harrisburg now and for some time the residents of that city have been asking for the erection of a wagon bridge. Residents of that section of the county assert that the bridge is a necessity and will interview the court at this time in the hope that plans will be made for the erection of the bridge in the near future.

The Harrisburg people were feeling unusually good this morning. It was the result of the election on the local option question, voted upon there yesterday. The town went wet two years ago and this year the dries succeeded in calling another election on the question and won out by 45 votes. Harrisburg is now dry again.

After the proposition was thoroughly discussed by speakers in behalf of the Harrisburg people and members of the county court, it was decided that the matter should be put up to Lane county. By this it is meant that that county should co-operate in the construction of the bridge. Harrisburg people are of the belief that Lane county will not assist in the undertaking as the river is in Linn county. Several years ago the river marked the boundary between the two counties but the channel has swerved until the entire river at that point is in this county.

SERIOUS RIOTS BREAK OUT IN INDIANAPOLIS

Policemen Use Clubs but Are Routed by Strikers and Beat a Retreat.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—Fresh rioting broke out today followed by an attempt to move the cars stalled in the streets since the strike was called. Police who refused to act as guards agreed to walk alongside. The crowd gathered and the fighting began. The policemen drew their clubs but were finally overcome and forced to beat a retreat. The strikebreakers in the car narrowly escaped to an office building. Two policemen were severely cut and bruised. An attack was made upon strikebreakers in another part of the city, seven being injured and two of them seriously.

Court House Busy Place.—The court house was a busy place this morning. Thirty-four precinct judges and clerks brought in their statements and ballot boxes and turned them over to County Clerk Marks. The county court is in session and the circuit court is also in session. Over 100 Harrisburg bridge agitators conferred with the former to urge the erection of a bridge across the river at that place.

Work on Field Progressing.—The work of erecting a sidewalk from Lyon street to Athletic park for the game Saturday is progressing rapidly, said Billy Eagles this morning. With the completion of this work the field will be all in readiness for the big game. The ground is in excellent shape and the football men don't care if it does rain today and even tomorrow just so it is clear on Saturday.

GRIFFITH VS. GRIFFITH UP BEFORE CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Galloway Is Holding Court Here Today--Important Case Is Now On.

Asking a decree requiring the defendants as trustees of record title, that they be enjoined from selling and that they execute a deed in behalf of the plaintiff, for certain property in Linn county, Ellen C. Griffith, as administratrix of the estate of John L. Griffith, deceased, and in behalf of herself, seeks the foregoing decree in Circuit Judge Galloway's court against George F. Griffith and wife, on the grounds that the transaction was fraudulent. The case went to trial this morning and is still in progress this afternoon. In the complaint the plaintiff claims that the late John Griffith purchased a tract of land and that the defendants plotted to have the deed recorded in their names.

STERILIZATION ACT GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT

University Appropriations Carry. County Attorney Bill and Workmens Act Win.

Portland, Nov. 5.—The returns from the election held yesterday show that the measures passed by the last legislature on which the referendum was invoked, have all been adopted with the exception of the measure providing for the sterilization of habitual criminals and the criminal insane, although later returns may change the result. The two university appropriation bills passed by a two to one vote. The act providing for a workmen's compensation was adopted three to one and the measure providing for county attorneys for each county did not run as strong but it passed easily. The vote throughout the state was light compared with that cast in former years.

Membership Over 700.—The membership of the Eugene Y. M. C. A. is now over 700 for the first time in the history of the institution, 150 members counting for 2200 points were added during the recent contest. Albany added between 90 and 100 new members for a total of 1606 points. A movement started by the state secretary of Washington is now on foot to promote a weekly exchange of the membership status of all of the associations in the Pacific Northwest. Albany has been asked to join the movement and it is likely that a bulletin board will soon be maintained to keep the members posted on what the others are doing and to watch the increase.

Found Knock Out Pad.—While walking through the Southern Pacific railroad yards yesterday, Judd Ross, the bail transfer man, found what is known as a "knock out pad." The article is used by thugs to knock out their victims. It resembles somewhat an ordinary policeman's hip pocket stick, only the handle is composed of tightly plaited rawhide. At the end the rawhide is woven over a heavy piece of lead. The instrument can be easily concealed in a man's pocket. It is believed to have been dropped in the railroad yards by the highwayman who recently held up two Greeks near the spot where it was found. Ross turned it over to Officer King for safe keeping.

CRUISER SENT TO MEXICAN WATERS FOR GOVERNMENT

Now Believed That Note Was Sent to Huerta Intimating His Retirement Advisable.

(By United Press Association) Washington, Nov. 5.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels has ordered the Scout Cruiser Chester, now at the Philadelphia navy yards to proceed to Vera Cruz as soon as possible. The vessel will sail tomorrow. The officials of the navy department said that the cruiser is going to aid the gunboat Wheeler and the cruiser Escamman in bringing the refugees from Mexican ports where the water is too shallow for battleships to enter. That the administration has really called upon Huerta to retire is generally accepted as a fact. It may not have been an ultimatum but it is asserted that some sort of a note intimating that his retirement is necessary was sent.
