

ANOTHER AGGIE "U" GAME SUGGESTED

Proposal from Local Enthusiasts for Second Contest Said to Be Favored.

PLAN IS APPROVED BY ALUMNI OF BOTH COLLEGES

Tie Contest and Showing of Both Teams Expected to Be Big Drawing Card.

That there is a probability of another football game to be played between the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College at Albany to settle the 10 to 10 tie which resulted in the game here on November 8, became known last night when negotiations for the game were opened by members of the alumni of both colleges here with managers of the two teams.

Meeting With Favor.
The plan is said to be meeting with favor on the campus of both schools. It is believed that the tie game here and the showing both teams made last Saturday insures the largest crowd of the football year in the Northwest if another game is arranged.

Next Saturday, and Saturday, December 6, are the dates suggested.

Coach May O. K. Plan.
Stewart, of the Oregon Agricultural College, tonight stated that he would consider a proposition for a game to play off the tie between Oregon university and his team, but would not agree to a game next Saturday.

It is not probable that the game will be played because of deadlock which will arise over the date of the proposed game. The Oregon faculty will not allow post season games, and Coach Bezdek does not favor the December 6 date.

Oregon officials are quoted as follows:

"I was phoned yesterday regarding such a game," said Grady, manager of Dean Walker yesterday. "No definite arrangements have been made but we will consider such a game. The football men were enthusiastic over the idea and are anxious to meet the O. A. C. men again."

Opposed to Post Season Games.
Regarding that plan," said Bezdek, "and I am not in a position to state our policy. If the game were played Saturday the team couldn't possibly recover from the effects in time for the Multnomah game; and I'm opposed to post season games. Besides I don't think the faculty would permit it. There is a possibility though, that we could consider some such a plan."

"It would be most certainly a bad thing for the team to play so many games in a row," said Hayward yesterday, considering the Washington game last week, and the Multnomah game Thursday.

SAND RIDGE GRANGERS ENJOYED JOLLY SESSION

A jolly crowd and a jolly time characterized the meeting of Sand Ridge Grange Saturday, the event being the first grange fair.

Aside from the pleasant social session, a splendid program was given consisting of musical numbers, recitations and talks by leading members of the grange and last but not least the holding of the fair.

Products of the soil and women's handiwork were the features of this department. Prizes were offered on the various articles of the latter products. The event was pronounced as one of the most pleasant and successful affairs ever held by Sand Ridge Grange.

The program opened at 11 o'clock by a violin solo with the prayer by the Chaplain C. H. Walker. Then the young people favored the assembly by songs, recitations, readings and dialogues. The school children of Sand Ridge school presented the majority of these numbers.

At noon an enjoyable basket dinner was served consisting of the farmers' choices viands, with abundance and to spare.

At 2 o'clock H. A. Darnell, of Portland, lecturer of the Oregon State Grange, gave an excellent address followed by J. H. Scott and others.

There was an exhibition a varied assortment of vegetables, fruits, grains, nuts, etc. It had been previously arranged that this would not be a competitive show.

Some fine specimens, however of ladies and misses' handiwork such as quilts and embroidery work were on exhibition. Also pies and cakes.

The following prizes were awarded by the judges: Willard Caldwell, Mrs. C. H. Bailey, and C. H. Walker, the latter reading out the list and presenting the prizes in cash. Helen Parker, 14 years, layer cake, 1st prize, 50c; Helen Parker, 14 year, loaf bread, 1st prize, 20c; Nina Anderson, 13 years, light biscuit, 1st prize, 20c; Hazel Anderson, age 6, apple pie, 1st prize, 15c; Helen Armstrong, age 9, apple pie, 2nd prize, 10c; Vera Green, age 11, jelly, 1st prize, 10c; Stacia Crossing, age 9, jelly, 2nd prize, 25c; Helen Armstrong, age 9, biscuits, 1st prize, 20c; Helen Armstrong, age 9, loaf

COMMERCIAL CLUB HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT

Routine Business Transacted and Report of City Hall Committee Received.

Meeting last night at the Commercial club the executive board transacted routine business, extended an invitation to the Oregon State Sunday School Association to meet in Albany next April, and received the report of the committee on exchange of the district school block for the college property.

The roll being called it was found that twelve members of the board were present. In the absence of Secretary C. H. Stewart, M. Senders acted as secretary. He read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved.

The committee on exchange of the district school block reported that considerable progress towards the closing of the deal had been made and that the sale of the property would be decided by election on December 1. On motion the meeting adjourned.

WOULD COLLECT BOND GIVEN BY BANKRUPT FIRM FIVE YEARS AGO IN COURT

Five Prominent Names Appear as Sureties on Bond Given by the Albany Farmers' Co. in 1917--Law Requires Bond.

To collect on a warehouse man's bond and growing out of the failure of the Albany Farmers' company five years ago, the first cases ever brought in Oregon, will be tried in the Linn county circuit court in Albany this week.

The first case to go to trial was instituted by Smith Cox and twenty other Linn county men who had grain stored in the warehouse of the Albany Farmers' Co. at the time of the failure. They are suing on a bond for $15,000 given by the Albany Farmers' Co. in 1917 with Phil Swank, John Denny, S. J. Archibald, Thomas Froman and M. H. Wilds, five prominent Linn county men as sureties. Denny and Wilds are now deceased and their heirs are defendants in this suit.

A large number of other men who are known to have had grain stored in the warehouse when the farmers' company went into bankruptcy are also named as defendants in the case as an accounting is asked for as well as a recovery on the bond.

The other case was brought by Fred Holzapfel and six other local men for a recovery on the bond for $15,000 which the company gave in 1906. The sureties on this bond are J. W. Propst, S. J. Archibald, Phil Swank, John Denny and A. Blevins.

The law requiring warehouse companies storing grain belonging to other people to file a bond for the protection of their customers was passed by the Oregon legislature in 1903 and so far as is known there are the first cases which were ever brought to enforce the payment of such a bond in this state.

To hear the two cases pending for recovery on bonds given by the Farmers' company, Judge Galloway will convene court here next Friday morning. It is expected that the trial will consume more than a week.

The Albany Farmers' company conducted warehouses at Albany, Tallman and Tangent. The company failed in 1908 and after a suit for a receivership which had been instituted here went into bankruptcy. Those who had grain stored in the warehouses at the time of the failure have received their prorata payment from the bankruptcy court and the amounts so received are deducted from their claims against the company and its bondsmen in the suits to be tried here next week.

Owing to the large number of people who are interested directly in the outcome of these cases and the prominence of the bondsmen and many of

PARTICIPANTS IN PLOT TO USURP HUERTA ARRESTED

Prominent Men Imprisoned Charged With Appearing in Demonstration.

(By United Press Association)
Mexico City, Nov. 18.—Many more names were reported here in connection with the alleged anti-Huerta plot, among them being numerous prominent men. A rumor last night confirmed the report that a big party of prisoners had been brought here from Manzanillo and placed in custody, charged with participating in the Carranza demonstration there. It is not known definitely if any of these prisoners are foreigners, but it is believed that some are Americans.

It seems certain today that the Mexican congress will meet as scheduled Thursday, as there are enough new members in the senate to constitute the necessary quorum to transact business.

ball game in this city Saturday evening several hundred Eugene and Salem students swarmed the streets and several personal encounters were engaged in over the fact that the Eugene boys took Salem's big "S" away from the visitors near the close of the game and tore it to pieces. After the game bodies of students paraded the streets, each hurling epithets at the other. At several different places the lines broke up and there was almost a riot till the police, as a precaution, took four of the participants to the city hall. The others, seeing that the police were determined to arrest any fighters or rioters, quieted down. The boys were later released.—Eugene Guard.

Retired from Bank 25 Years Ago.—Twenty-five years ago on November 16 the following news item appeared in the Oregonian under an Albany date line: E. W. Langdon, who recently returned from California, has purchased from George E. Chamberlain, cashier of the First National Bank, a portion of his interest in the bank. Mr. Chamberlain has resigned his position as cashier and Mr. Langdon will probably be his successor. Mr. Chamberlain will resume the practice of law.

More Railroad Talk.—The Oregonian of Wednesday, in speaking of the recent visit of the Hill railroad officials to Portland, says: "Lout W. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern board, expressed his intention of returning to Portland soon after the first of the year to consider plans for the construction of a logging road out of Albany along the Santiam river into the timber tract that the Oregon & Western Colonization company, of which he is an officer and principal stockholder, recently sold to Porter Brothers of this city."

Basketball Season Next.—The basketball season will soon open in earnest in Albany as the football season is nearly over and from all indications there should be plenty of high class entertainment in this line during the winter. Both the high school and college will have teams and probably the Y. M. C. A.

Infant Dies.—Eleanor, the 2 1/2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Torbet, of Sunrise, passed away this morning at an early hour. Funeral services will be conducted at the home in Sunrise by Rev. James Torbet, brother of Prof. Torbet, at 2 p. m. on Wednesday.

CO-OPERATION IS TOPIC FOR FARMERS

State Grange Will Arrange a Series of Lectures on This Subject.

DECIDED AT MEETING HELD AT HAMMEL YESTERDAY

Executive Committee Members Discussed Other Plans Along This Line.

To urge cooperation among the farmers in buying, a series of lectures will be given in various Oregon counties this winter under the auspices of the Oregon State Grange.

This plan was decided upon here yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee and the committee on co-operation of the state grange which held nearly an all day session in the banquet room of the Hotel Hammel. The meeting convened yesterday morning and adjourned late yesterday afternoon.

Other plans for bringing the importance of cooperation among the farmers of the state before the public were thoroughly discussed. It is probable that other courses will be followed to bring about a united effort in cooperation among the farmers, the plan to be inaugurated from time to time.

The meeting was attended by Chas. L. Shaw, of Albany, and B. G. Leedy, of Corvallis, members of the executive committee of the state grange, and E. E. Blanchard, of Grants Pass, and Austin T. Buxton, of Gaston, of the committee on cooperation. J. George Johnson, of Junction City, who has had experience in the cooperative movement among members of the grange, met with the committee.

Apple Day Was Observed.—Apple day was well observed in Albany yesterday. All of the hotels and restaurants served menus in which King apple figured largely, and the apple was used here and there for decorative purposes. The grocery stores noted a marked increase in the sale of the fruit. The Southern Pacific dining cars observed the day by arranging their menus with attractive apples.

Holiday Club Dance November 8.—The second dance of a series of five to be given by the Holiday Dancing club will be given on Friday evening, November 28, commencing at 9 o'clock. The affair will be held in Bussard's hall. Wood's orchestra will furnish the music. The first dance of the series was given three weeks ago.
