ORGAN EXPERT PRAISES NEW METHODIST INSTRUMENT

Says It Is the Most Wonderful Organ of Its Class in Northwest.

Jas. A. Bamford, of Portland was in the city yesterday, returning home this morning, the occasion of his visit to Albany being to inspect the newly installed pipe organ at the Methodist Episcopal church of this city. He was employed by the local congregation to act for them in making such inspection.

Mr. Bamford is one of the foremost authorities on pipe organ construction on the Pacific Coast, and the purchasers of the new organ naturally sought his expert opinion, before formal acceptance of their purchase. They are highly gratified with his report after the thorough examinations he made. He was most enthusiastic. Mr. Bamford said: "It is certainly the most wonderful instrument of its class and capacity in the Northwest in tone, volume, operation and general efficiency. I speak advisedly for I have critically examined most of those now in use."

This is what is known as a twelve stop organ including Vox Humana, with certain combinations increasing its stop efficiency. It contains seven hundred and twenty active pipes.

This church is to be congratulated upon their enterprise shown in securing this new and valuable acquisition. A recital for formal opening of the new organ at an early date, is being planned, when the people of Albany will have an opportunity to hear it and approve for themselves.

LEBANON MEN SUED FOR BOND MONEY

Seymour Washburn and S. P. Bach Named Defendants in Suit Filed Today.

JUDGEMENT IN SUM OF $500 AND COSTS ASKED

Furnished Bond for W. J. Hauser Over Year Ago, Who Was Held on Drastic Charge.

Seymour Washburn and S. P. Bach, prominent Lebanon business men, are named defendants in a suit filed this morning in the circuit court for the recovery of $500 bond money. The case is brought by the state of Oregon, represented by County Attorney Gale S. Hill. According to the allegations, Washburn and Bach furnished bonds over a year ago for one W. J. Hauser, charged with giving intoxicating liquor to a minor. Hauser, it is claimed, jumped his bail and it has never been paid.

Case was Criminal Action. On October 4, 1912, it is alleged, a criminal action was brought by the state against Hauser, who was charged with having given intoxicating liquor to Gladys Harlan, a girl under the age of 18. A warrant for his arrest was issued on that date.

Arraigned before a justice court in Albany on October 5, Hauser, it is claimed, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury. His bonds were fixed at $500, which he furnished himself. He was indicted it is alleged, on October 26 and on October 28, appeared before the circuit court and was given time to plead, entering a plea of not guilty on October 29.

Failed to Appear at Trial. It is alleged that on January 25, Washburn and Bach furnished the bond in the sum of $500 for the defendant, but that neither Hauser nor his bondsmen appeared on February 3, when the case was called for trial. An order was then entered by the court declaring the bond forfeited and issuing a bench warrant for the arrest of the defendant.

It is alleged that since that time defendant has never appeared and excused his neglect and failure to appear and has since resided beyond the jurisdiction of the circuit court of Linn county.
