

LARGE CROWDS AT DENNY FUNERAL

Impressive Sermon Delivered by Rev. James D. Corby of the Universalist Church.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF LATE F. HILLIARD HELD SUNDAY

Mrs. H. A. Gaines of Albany died Sunday at Her Home at 224 Baker Street.

The funeral service of the late John Denny, who died at his home in this city last Saturday, were held at the family home at Seventh and Baker streets this morning at 10:30 o'clock, a large crowd of relatives and friends of the deceased attending.

The funeral services were under the auspices of McPherson Post No. 5, G. A. R., of this city, of which the deceased was a member, and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. James D. Corby of the Universalist church of Portland.

Ceremonies were also held at the residence by the veterans and ladies of the G. A. R. At noon the remains were taken to Lebanon for burial, accompanied by 30 members of McPherson Post and 25 members of Fair Oaks Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. Nearly a hundred Albany people who have been life-long friends of the deceased also went to Lebanon to pay their last respects to their departed brother. Many beautiful floral pieces were taken to Lebanon to be placed on the grave.

The funeral services of the late Frank Hilliard who died in this city Saturday, were held from the family home yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and were conducted by the pastor of the Free Methodist church of Albany.

The services were under the auspices of the G. A. R. of which the deceased was a member. The deceased was 73 years of age and left to mourn his death a widow and four sons, all residents of this city. Interment was held in the city cemetery.

Mrs. H. A. Gaines of this city died yesterday at her home, 224 South Baker street, after a short illness. She leaves besides her husband, four brothers, and five sisters, to mourn her death.

The five brothers are M. M. Peery of Springfield, Robert Peery of LaCumb, Roy and Rex Peery of Carthage, and the sisters are Mrs. John H. Goins of Albany, Mrs. Rose Moore of Echo, Mrs. Will Miller of Amity, Mrs. W. R. South of St. Johns, and Mrs. Wayne Davenport of St. Johns.

The deceased was a highly respected Christian woman and leaves many friends in Albany and Linn county to mourn her death. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at Providence church, of which the deceased was a member, and will be conducted by Rev. Wight of Lebanon.

FORMER ALBANY MAN VISITED IN THE HUB CITY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

H. G. Klum of Portland, a former resident of Albany, passed through the Hub City today to Solaville where he will spend several days visiting his father.

"Hi," as he is better known by his Albany friends, was foreman at the Southern Pacific freight depot here for five years, leaving Albany in 1904 for Walla Walla, Washington, where he was employed for six years. He now resides at Portland.

"I arrived in Albany yesterday noon," said Klum to the Democrat representative this morning, "and accompanied by G. C. Moon, one of my old friends, I walked about the city which has changed so much since I was here last, that I hardly recognized the place."

CAPT. E. R. MOON WILL SPEAK AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

Captain Everett R. Moon, of Bojenge, Africa, will speak in the Christian church on Sunday, July 14th, at 11:20 o'clock. Captain Moon is in command of the Mission steamer "Oregon," that is used by the missionaries of the Christian church in their work on the Congo in Africa.

The funds for the building of this vessel were raised by the churches, Sunday schools, Christian Endeavor societies and individuals of the Christian church in Oregon.

At the close of one of Captain Moon's stirring addresses during the recent state convention at Turner eight responded to the invitation to consecrate their lives to the service of Christ and to go where He would have them go.

JUDGE SADLER WILL LECTURE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA TONIGHT

At the Chautauqua auditorium, at 8 p. m. this evening, Judge Frank P. Sadler of Chicago will lecture on the subject, "The Criminal in the Making."

Mr. Sadler comes highly recommended and his address is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the regular attendants at the Albany Chautauqua.

Judge Sadler is municipal judge of the city of Chicago and will give some first-hand information on conditions in the Illinois metropolis.

The Harrison street and Desplaines street branches of the municipal court of Chicago are two of the largest criminal courts in the world. A judge's duties here give him great opportunities to study crime in its various stages of development. The municipal court the past year disposed of 71,911 criminal and quasi criminal cases.

Into these courts come the people of every race and from every clime. Tragedies deeper than the heart can fathom are here shown to hankind. Humor, likewise, lights up the grim walls. There is no better place in all the world to study criminals in the making and criminals in the saving.

He won his spurs as an orator during his college days at Ann Arbor, taking the highest honors in the west in college oratory. He is well known throughout the west for his power on the platform.

His lectures deal with vital questions of the hour. They are results of experience in the great school of life. His success in the Chautauqua and Lyceum fields has been pronounced and emphatic. He is an orator with a great message.

A baby boy was born to Mrs. F. M. Arnold on Sunday.

A. K. Seaver of Twin Falls, Idaho, passed through Albany yesterday afternoon to Roseburg on a short business trip.

Miss Luella Strom of this city went to Portland yesterday where she will visit for a few weeks with Miss Lonella Allan.

John R. Penland, the local engineer, went to Brownsville this morning where he will look after some engineering work today.

Peter Bisher, a well known resident of Brownsville, passed through the Hub City this morning to Portland to attend the Elks' reunion.

Dr. F. J. Laird of Lebanon returned home this morning after spending Sunday in Albany with his family who are camped at Chautauqua Park.

Wesley Cothell of Brownsville arrived in Albany this morning and took the electric to Portland where he will look after business matters for a few days.

T. J. Butler, county commissioner and bridge builder, went to Thomas this morning to superintend the work of construction on the Dewall bridge at that place.

Miss Martha Dodson of Brownsville was a passenger on the Oregon Electric to Portland this morning enroute to Skamokawa, Washington, to visit friends for a few days.

Miss Bessie Bach, one of Lebanon's most prominent pianists, passed through Albany this morning to Portland to visit friends and attend the Elks' reunion.

Dr. and Mrs. John G. Gill of Lebanon passed through Albany this morning to Portland where they will visit friends for a few days while attending the Elks' reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Kline of Corvallis passed through Albany this morning to Portland to visit friends and attend the Elks' reunion this week. Mr. Kline is one of Corvallis' leading merchants.

The "newsies" of this city ran out of "Oregonians" at the depot this morning, the passengers on the special trains enroute to Portland all being anxious for news concerning the Elks' convention.

GUARDIANSHIP IS OF SHORT DURATION

Lebanon Young Couple Have Trouble Getting License to Wed this Morning.

YOUNG MAN UNDER AGE AND GIRL WITHOUT GUARDIAN

After Much Difficulty They Secure Papers and Were Married by Judge.

The plans of Dan Cupid did not work out very smoothly this morning for Otto M. Powell, aged 20 years, of Berlin, Oregon, and Miss Cora Devine, age 17, of Lebanon, the county clerk and applied for a when they appeared at the office of marriage license.

The first of their troubles came when the marriage license clerk asked the young man his age and he replied that he was 20 years old. Being under age it was necessary to secure the consent of his mother to the marriage and this was secured, she being present at the office.

The next difficulty experienced by the young people occurred when it became known that the young lady's father was dead and that there was no one legally competent to give their consent to her marriage.

To comply with the law in issuing the license, it then became necessary to appoint a guardian for Miss Devine, and the papers appointing Mrs. P. A. Devine, the girl's aunt, as guardian were made out by the county clerk who took them to the county judge for his official signature.

But the judge was in Corvallis and would not return until noon. Upon the arrival of the judge at noon, the guardianship papers were signed by him and the license turned over to the young people who were very anxious to leave on the Lebanon train at 12:35 so that they could be married in Lebanon this afternoon.

However, the young people changed their plans at the depot this noon and accompanied Judge Duncan to his home where they were married at 12:45 o'clock in the presence of the boy's mother and the girl's aunt, and went on their way rejoicing.

The guardianship of the bride was the shortest in the history of this county, being of approximately fifteen minutes duration, or in other words the time that it took the young people to walk to the depot and back to Judge Duncan's residence where they were married.

CALIF. KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PASSED THROUGH ALBANY ON SPECIAL TRAIN

A special train of twelve Pullman cars passed through Albany at 8:30 o'clock this morning, carrying about 500 members of the Knights of Columbus of California, to Portland where they meet in convention this week. The train was an attractive one and went straight through to the Rose City. Many ladies were noticed in the party.

SPURGEON DRAWS A LARGE CROWD

Great Lecturer Delights Audience at the Chautauqua Grounds Yesterday Afternoon.

DR. PARSONS LECTURED ON LIFE OF JOHN KNOX

Three Hundred People Attended Dr. Hinson's Bible Class-- Other Attractions.

"The Book of Books, or, Is the Bible the Word of God?" This was the subject of a lecture, delivered by Rev. Wm. Spurgeon, at the Chautauqua grounds yesterday afternoon.

Never before have the citizens of Albany listened to a more eloquent defense of the Bible or has a Chautauqua lecturer handled his subject in a more forcible manner, than did Rev. Spurgeon.

The speaker is both a scholar and an orator. He cares little for dogma but has a profound respect for the Bible. His appeal was not to the emotions but to the common sense of his audience, and his logic was unanswerable.

He seems to be a man of keen perception and close general observation, a trained student full of noble sentiment, inspired by a deep genuine Christian spirit, acquainted with the wants and aspirations of the people, and in full sympathy with human nature. He has a telling way of applying the truth to the wants of all classes, driving home his remarks by some striking picture of every day life, or some scriptural illustration, in which he is aided by natural humor, regulated by sound common sense, and regard to the propriety of the pulpit. He left last evening for Gladstone Park, where he will conduct the course in Bible study at the Chautauqua at that place.

Miss Sutherland's class in domestic science seems to be growing in popularity every day. Today she gave a practical demonstration of bread-making by the use of compressed yeast, and of biscuit-making from baking powder and she had over 80 people in her class. Tomorrow morning from 9 until 10 o'clock she will talk on the different cuts of beef—their nutritive value and the proper way of cooking them to secure the best results. In order to make a thorough demonstration on this subject a quarter of beef has been secured and will be cut up so that each member of the class may learn the proper name of each part and can place an order at the markets intelligently. At the close of the lesson the beef will be sold to the members of the class and campers. The best way of cooking the cheaper cuts is by the use of a fireless cooker, and this process will be demonstrated at that time. Lessons in this school cost ten cents each or the entire season for twenty-five cents.

Prof. Sykes' class in nature study was very much larger this morning and all seemed to be taking very much interest in his subjects. This morning it was along the line of flies and mosquitoes, and his class seems to be very much delighted over the way he handles his subject. Tomorrow morning he will take up the relation existing between insects and flowers giving a great deal of the time to bees.

In Dr. Hinson's Bible class this morning there were over three hundred people present. His subject was "Preachers, Preaching, and What Should be Preached," and one of the visitors from Yamhill county who heard it said this lecture alone paid her well for attending the assembly this year. He certainly is a great Bible student, and delivers his messages in an earnest and impressive manner.

Dr. Parsons again had charge of the forum hour, and delivered a magnificent lecture upon John Knox, and the wonderful school system instituted by him. Nearly all who attended the Bible class remained for this lecture, and they were well repaid for doing so, for it was a great literary treat, and paid splendid tribute to the great reformer John Knox, and to old Scotland.

Judge L. T. Harris of Eugene passed through Albany last evening to Corvallis to complete the work of the regular term of the circuit court.

Henry Wessel returned from a five years' stay at Peoria, Illinois, to make his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Garland and family of Lebanon passed through Albany this morning to Newport where Mrs. Garland and children will spend the summer at their cottage. Mr. Garland will return Wednesday.

Mrs. J. J. Hoydar, wife of the local agent of the Oregon Electric Railway, arrived in Albany yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, Washington. She was accompanied by her daughters, Pauline and Josephine. Mr. and Mrs. Hoydar will reside at 426 E. Fourth street.

Mrs. E. B. Day of Lebanon passed through Albany this morning to Centralia, Washington, where her husband, E. B. Day, president of the Lebanon State Bank, is seriously ill. They will probably go to California for a few months for the benefit of Mr. Day's health.

MRS. WILLIAM NEELY BREAKS THUMB YESTERDAY MORNING

Lady Was Picking Cherries at Home When Ladder Slipped Causing Her to Fall.

While picking cherries at her home on West Ninth street yesterday morning, the ladder on which she was standing slipped, and Mrs. William H. Neely was thrown to the ground several feet below, where she struck on her head and hands, breaking the thumb of her left hand, and sustaining a number of severe and very painful bruises.

Dr. Russell Wallace was called and attended the unfortunate lady who is getting along as well as can be expected, although suffering great pain.

MISFITS.

Contributed by F. P. Nutting.

Competition may be the life of trade; but one of the greatest misuses in the world, nevertheless, is two telephone systems in the same city.

Notwithstanding the umbrageous weather the Chautauqua is drawing fine crowds, an event that deserves the support of every person loyal to Albany.

Other things get out of date in a season; but the Bible is never out of date, said Mr. Spurgeon, son of the world's greatest preacher.

This is a shifting, drifting old age of ours, in which people change like the vases on what few steeples are left.

The things that should draw the best often draw the poorest, and things hardly worth while draw like a plaster.

Is T. R. crazy or not crazy, that is the question that is agitating Henry Watterson and some others.

Woodrow Wilson stands for a high citizenship and clean politics.

Come on Mr. Hawley with that $10000 needed to set Albany's new postoffice building going upwards.

Some men meet their obligations like a shark in the ocean.

So far July has been off color; but that eastern wave will strike this valley, and then have your fans and white trousers ready.

The only charm a man with a cigarette going has is the one on his watch.

Ten to one the person who hears Dr. Hinson every morning will be more than satisfied with the entire offering regardless of the cheaper quality numbers.

The high cost of living will now be probed to the bottom.

Albany is up-to-date. The kids this week are sliding down hills in July with their pants and panties as runners.

If a little old-fashioned, one is in the same class of Cupid who continues to use his bow and arrow.

The woman who is a good housekeeper, cleaning out all the dirty places, ought to have a province these days of dirty politics.

It would do some old people good to get in a playground and be rejuvenated. Dignity is a splendid thing in its place; but there are times when older people do well to be young in action and feelings.

According to a Chicago orator political platforms are not to stand upon, but to get in on.

According to Dr. Hinson it is the business of the minister to preach the gospel of Christ, and not to run oyster suppers and numerous other things. It will be a good thing for the church when ministers generally appreciate the fact that it is the business of the congregation to run the material affairs of the church, and that the minister the spiritual affairs, and that both should be in harmony.

The Chautauqua spirit makes an hour sermon more acceptable, where ordinarily the listener begins squirming at the end of thirty minutes.

Speaking of experts it would take one to tell what real taffy is these modern days of praise without a rudder.

An encore should mean something more than friendship.

Albany is the railroad center of the valley now, and probably will continue to be. We have the actual goods, with the whistle of the engines and the ring of the electric bells.

An old saying is never to attempt to walk a tight rope unless sober. Well, a man has to be sober to do anything well. Drink makes a poor performer at everything.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank the many friends and especially the members of the G. A. R. and the ladies of the G. A. R. for their kind assistance during the illness and after the death of our beloved father and husband. PHEBA HILLIARD, AND FAMILY.

CITIZENSHIP CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD IN PORTLAND

Rev. James S. McGaw, representing the National Reform Association, made a brief announcement at the Chautauqua of the Second World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held in Portland from June 29 to July 6, 1913. Dr. McGaw made clear that this conference is to be an assemblage of leading representative Christian statesmen from practically all the great countries of the world—missionaries, ministers, pastors, educators, philanthropists, sociologists, moral reformers, and all other leaders of Christian thought and action. On the program of this conference it is proposed to have from 75 to 100 of the world's leading thinkers and actors for the uplift of humanity, one or more from each of the countries of the world.

All churches, local or general, all missionary societies and boards, all young people's societies, all Y. M. C. A.'s and Y. W. C. A.'s, all reform organizations, indeed every organization in the world having a distinctly Christian and patriotic purpose—all are particularly and specifically invited to send one or more representatives to this conference.
