John Eggemeir, Oklahoma City, May Move Family to Albany To Make Home Here.

When C. O. Anderson, the local jeweler, stepped into one of the butcher shops of this city yesterday morning, he accidentally ran across an old friend whom he had not seen for nearly 20 years, John Eggemeir, who now resides with his family at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Mr. Eggemeir has been touring the Pacific coast for several weeks, stopping at all the principal towns in the valley and looking about for a location for a home. He stated that of all the towns he had visited in Washington, Montana and Oregon, he liked Albany the best and would probably bring his family here to reside. He spent several days in the Hub City and yesterday went out into the country to view some land with the intention of purchasing.

Mr. Anderson of this city was acquainted with Mr. Eggemeir when the latter resided in Sheldon, Iowa, and was greatly surprised to meet him here yesterday. Mr. Eggemeir left on the late train last evening for his home in Oklahoma City and will probably return soon to this city to make his home.

THE STATE WILL STOCK CALAPOOIA WITH TROUT

In response to a request from W. J. Moore, president of the Commercial club, the state game and fish warden has forwarded requisition blanks to Mr. Moore for a quantity of trout with which to restock the Calapoopia river. The blanks were filled out at once and returned to the authorities and it is expected that within a couple of months a liberal number of fish will be received for restocking this formerly famous trout stream which of late years has been practically "fished out."

In order to secure the fish for this purpose Mr. Moore and other business men have given their guarantee to the warden that certain conditions exacted will be met, among them being that the fish will be fully protected until such time as they have matured by the fishermen of this city and those residing along the river.—Brownsville Times.

MONDAY MILLER PREDICTS WILSON VICTORY

Democratic Party United, Says Linn County Senator Upon Return from the East.

WILSON WILL CARRY NEW YORK AND MINNESOTA

Democratic Nominee Has Solid Support of Party and Will Carry State of Oregon

With an enthusiasm for Wilson and Marshall that is only surpassed by his admiration for William Jennings Bryan, M. A. Miller, state senator from Linn county and retiring national committeeman for Oregon, returned yesterday from attending the democratic national convention at Baltimore.

Following the convention, Mr. Miller visited New York, Boston and other eastern cities, including Washington, and called on Woodrow Wilson at his home at Scarsdale, N. Y. "I am not only firmly convinced that Wilson and Marshall will be elected, but I am just as sure in my own mind that Oregon will cast its electoral vote for the democratic nominees," said Mr. Miller to an Oregonian reporter yesterday.

"In my opinion Wilson is the strongest man the democrats could have nominated. Throughout the east Wilson and Marshall are regarded as an unusually strong combination. As a usual thing a contest in a convention leaves sore spots that refuse to heal, but the outcome of the Baltimore convention seems to have had the opposite effect. It resulted in a reunited democratic party. When the democratic party is united, it always wins. This was notably true in the campaigns of 1876, 1884, 1892.

"Wilson has not only a solid party behind him, but a solid democratic press as well. Call the roll of the democratic newspapers of the country and they will unanimously answer 'Wilson.' The New York Times, the New York World and the Brooklyn Eagle, papers that have not always supported the Democratic ticket, are enthusiastic for Wilson. The independent press throughout the country is also very generally for Wilson.

"In New York City, where I passed four days, I talked politics with a great many men, and from what I learned of sentiment among the voters, Wilson will carry that state. Senator O'Gorman, of New York, places Wilson's plurality in that state at 100,000. Another thing that makes Wilson's candidacy especially formidable is the fact that he has the earnest and active support of all of his rivals in the convention for the nomination. Every one of the defeated candidates has either called on Wilson personally or has sent assurances of support.

"The nomination of Wilson and Marshall and the assurance of a third party, or Roosevelt ticket, has made all heretofore republican states debatable ground in this campaign. For instance, New Jersey is conceded to Wilson by both republicans and Roosevelt supporters by 80,000. From what I learned in Pennsylvania, Wilson has more than an equal chance of carrying that state. Take the state of Illinois. Dunne, the democratic nominee for governor, will be elected and the state will also go for Wilson and Marshall.

"While in St. Paul I talked with a great many prominent republicans who told me Minnesota would cast its electoral vote for the democratic nominee."

BATH HOUSE JOHN IS NOW A MILLIONAIRE

Chicago, July 22.—Sartorial effects that are expected to be amazing, astounding, bewildering, perhaps even confounding, are due to be on exhibition in the city council soon. Alderman John J. Coughlin—"Bathhouse John"—is a millionaire. Hereafter there will be no limit to his self-adornment except that which may be imposed by the failure of his own and his tailor's imaginations.

The story of the restoration and multiplication of the Coughlin fortunes leaked out today. Constituents who inquired for the alderman were told he was in Des Moines, and to those entitled to more precise information Sam Arrand, in charge of Coughlin's "banking" office, imparted the information that he had gone to "settle" an estate.

James Hanley and his brother George, owners of the Hanley Grain Elevator and Lumber Company of Lagrange, Ia., a suburb of Des Moines, were killed recently when their auto was struck by a train. The Hanleys were cousins of Alderman Coughlin and he is the principal heir to their estate, which is valued at over $1,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Speer of this city were in Salem yesterday visiting friends and attending the ball game between Albany and Salem.

PASTOR WILL NOT ACCEPT NEW THEORY

Rev. St. Clair of Sioux City Preaches on "Hell, Fire and Brimstone."

Sioux City, Iowa, July 22nd.—Never will the members of the International Bible Students' association be able to convince Rev. Fred St. Clair, "the Georgia Cyclone," who is conducting services at the Church of the Nazarine in Morningside, that is unscriptural to teach that there is such a place, state or condition as hell, fire and brimstone. The association adopted resolutions to this effect at its annual convention in Washington.

When Rev. Mr. St. Clair heard this noon of the resolutions he immediately announced that he would preach Tuesday evening on "Hell, Fire and Damnation." He proposes to make the atmosphere of the church reek with the essence of the subject he will discuss and then clear away the clouds by telling his hearers how they may be saved.

"A little hell is a good thing," he said in discussing the resolution. "It is absolutely necessary. Take the human question from beginning to end, study it in its every angle and your soul will cry out, 'There must be a hell.' I demand that there be hell and I always shall insist upon hell, so long as I am in the pulpit.

"There's hell in the bible and I assure you that I do not propose to desert the bible. You need not go outside the good book or inject any of your personality. Every man has innate knowledge that there is a place where the wicked must suffer for their bad lives on earth. If he doesn't believe in it he knows that there should be such a place."

Rev. Mr. St. Clair says that the International association is not an orthodox organization and that it is Pastor Russell's private association. He says that in his Tuesday night sermon he will expose Russell's private life and give the history of the divorce which he claims was granted to Russell.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED BY JUDGE GALLOWAY

Woman Was Twice Led to Alter and Has No Desire to Repeat Experience.

Declaring that she had been twice led to the altar and had no desire to repeat the experience, Martha Hall appeared as a witness this afternoon against her husband, A. R. Hall of Lebanon.

After taking the stand, Mrs. Hall told a story which held the close attention of those who happened to be in the court room when the case was called for trial.

To substantiate the claim made in the complaint, she told of the marriage, and how she was led to a home which was dirty and unsanitary; how she spent her own hard earned money to clean and renovate the dwelling house, only to be told by the plaintiff that he could rent the place for enough money to keep him without working for the rest of his life if he could only get rid of the witness; and how later he ordered her from the home to which she came, only a few months previously, as a bride.

In response to a question put by Judge Galloway, the witness stated that she never cared for Husband No. 2 as she did her first husband.

The court granted the divorce, the property rights between the parties being arranged by their respective attorneys, Sam Garland and N. M. Newport.

The divorce case of Hazel Maxwell vs. George Maxwell was also tried this afternoon and a divorce granted to the plaintiff on the grounds of desertion. The parties to this suit formerly resided in Portland but the plaintiff is now a resident of Lebanon.

ATHLETICS WERE DEFEATED SUNDAY

First Game of Championship Series is Won by Senators By Score of 9 to 3.

OVER FIVE HUNDRED FANS WITNESS GAME AT SALEM

Second Game Will Be Played at Albany Next Sunday at the Local Ball Park.

Before a crowd of over 500 enthusiastic fans, including over a hundred from this city, the Albany "Athletics" were defeated at Salem yesterday by the Salem "Senators," the score being 9 to 3 in favor of the Capital City aggregation.

This was the first game of a series of four games to be played between the two teams for the championship of the Willamette Valley, and residents of Salem say that the crowd was the largest yesterday that has attended a game there for many years.

The game was called promptly at 3 o'clock with Bigbee in the box for Albany. He held the Senators down for two innings and no scores were made by either side. However, the Salem bunch got "next" to him in the third inning and scored two runs, Albany making none.

Albany made their first run in the fourth inning, and another in the fifth, thus tying the score. Then the ball went up and Salem scored six runs, four of them on errors by the Athletics. No more runs were made by either team until the seventh, when both teams each scored one. The game ended with a score of 9 to 3 in favor of the Salem bunch.

Patterson took Bigbee's place in the fifth inning and it was then that the Senators started their fire-works, McRae, the first man up to bat, slamming out a home run over the center field fence, with two men on bases. Baker pitched a steady game for Salem and contributed much toward their victory.

The entire Albany delegation of fans occupied a section of the grandstand and although they yelled themselves hoarse, it was without avail. The Senators will again cross bats at this city next Sunday with the "Athletics" and the largest crowd of the season is expected to attend.
