

BOOTLEGGERS ARE FINED AT LEBANON

Illicit Liquor Dealers Are Tried In Police Court by Judge Green Yesterday.

AL NEWMAN CONTRIBUTES THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS

Two Blindpiggers Will Serve Sentences of 25 Days In the City Jail.

WEDNESDAY

The Lebanon men arrested Monday evening by Sheriff Smith and deputies, charged with selling liquor in violation of the local option law, were arraigned yesterday afternoon in Police Judge Green's court in that city, a large crowd of citizens attending the hearing.

After hearing the testimony, Judge Green fined Al Newman, one of the proprietors of the livery barn near the depot where liquor is alleged to have been flowing freely, $300. This sum included a fine of $50 on two different counts, and $100 each on two others.

John Newman, a brother of Al Newman and said to be one of the proprietors of the livery barn where liquor was sold, plead guilty and was fined $50, which he paid. Al Newman also paid his fine.

The woman Mrs. Harry Hall of Lebanon, who was included in the list of bootleggers gathered in by the officers on Monday evening, plead guilty, and was fined $50, which she paid. At the time of her arrest she told the officers that she hadn't made enough in the business to pay one.

It is alleged that Mrs. Hall has a daughter who has been assisting her in the sale of intoxicating liquors, but who, at the time of the raid, was absent at the hopyards.

Ernest Porter and William Bishop, others who were arrested Monday evening by the officers, were also arraigned in court yesterday afternoon where they plead guilty and were fined $50 each. Not having the money, they will be compelled to serve 25 days each in the city bastille at Lebanon.

Whether the county officers will also bring charges against the Lebanon bootleggers was not learned today, although it is known that warrants issued by the district attorney are now in the hands of Lebanon officers and it is possible that they will be served later.

The recent raids at Lebanon were the result of the efforts of several Lebanon citizens who, becoming tired of conditions at that city, formed a league, and hired a private detective to secure evidence, which finally resulted in all of them being arrested and convicted.

The Lebanon chief of police, acting upon orders received yesterday, demolished the entire stock of booze confiscated by the officers Monday evening, which included 624 quarts of beer, several demijohns of wine and whiskey, and a large stock of whiskey in flasks.

BLOOMINGTON MAN MAY LOCATE IN THIS CITY

Greatly impressed with the city of Albany and the immense country tributary thereto, Gilbert Baird, a well known resident of Bloomington, Illinois, is making a thorough investigation of the resources of the Willamette Valley with the idea of making his permanent place of abode in western Oregon.

Mr. Baird is agreeably surprised with the development that he sees in the west and is particularly pleased with Albany.

STRUCK IN MOUTH WITH AN AXE

James Archibald, a young man working on the Robert Gellatly ranch near Philomath, came to Corvallis this morning to get a much battered face fixed up. He was the victim of an accident in which an axe in the hands of a son of Major Dentler glanced and struck him in the mouth. Fortunately the dull side of the axe hit his face and only two teeth were broken. His mouth is in bad shape. Archibald also suffered a gash in the right shoulder. The sharp edge of the axe turned downward, cut through his shirt and made quite a wound.

Just how the accident happened is a matter of doubt. The Dentler boy was swinging his axe, whacking away at some wood near the spot where Archibald, somewhat beneath him, was stacking wood. The axe glanced and did the damage stated. A dentist and a surgeon worked on him this morning and he soon will be on the road to recovery.—Corvallis Times.

CRACK SHOTS WILL VISIT THE HUB CITY

Texans Will Shoot at Grounds of the Albany Gun Club on September 11th.

That the residents of Albany will have the opportunity of witnessing some excellent shooting in this city on September 11th became an assured fact when Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Topperwein consented today to give an exhibition shoot at the grounds of the Albany Gun Club next week.

Adolph Topperwein, the greatest living fancy and flying target shot with a rifle, represents the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., and lives in San Antonio, Texas. His native state has long been noted for its expert shooting and this penchant for shooting among Texans, added to his natural ability, undoubtedly accounts for the wonderful skill he displays. He uses no special equipment, but ordinary Winchester rifles, shooting regular cartridges with solid ball; or, in other words, cartridges such as are sold by all dealers. He shoots at oranges, apples, bits of coal or brick, walnuts, small marbles, empty cartridge shells, and many other tiny objects, which are all thrown into the air and hit with either rifle or revolver.

In the most remarkable exhibition of rifle shooting ever given, Mr. Topperwein shot ten days, at 72,500 2 1/2 inch wooden blocks thrown into the air by an assistant, missing only nine out of the entire lot and only four out of the first 30,000. During the shooting he made straight runs of 14,540, 13,599, 13, 292, 13,219 and 10,383. The shooting outfit he used was two Winchester automatic rifles and Winchester cartridges, and the loading of the rifles was done by himself. Considering the almost incredible score and the tremendous strain of such incessant shooting, it is unlikely that this record will ever be beaten.

Other remarkable feats by Mr. Topperwein with the rifle were his scoring of 85 out of 100 2 1/2 inch targets thrown into the air while riding at full speed in an automobile; and the breaking of 3,507 targets without a miss at the World's Fair in St. Louis.

Mrs. Topperwein is undoubtedly the premier lady shot of the world. Although she took up shooting only a few years ago, she has startled the shooting world and entertained many thousands of people by her great skill with rifle, shotgun and pistol. Shooting comes natural to her, as without seeming difficulty she masters various kinds of shooting quickly.

Her first public appearance was at the World's Fair in St. Louis, where, with a Winchester automatic rifle, she broke 967 out of 1,000 2 1/2 inch flying targets; and later, 1995 out of 2000 with a straight run of 1437.

Besides being a wonderful wing and fancy shot, Mrs. Topperwein is a consistent shooter at the traps and has won many high averages in open competitions shooting against the best professional and amateur shots in the world. Among her scores are 189x200, 245x250, 385x400 and 485x500. At San Antonio, Texas, July 18, 1908, she broke 961x1,000 targets thrown from regulation traps at the regulation distance, shooting the entire number of shots in 4 hours and 35 minutes.

Tomorrow Will Be the Big Day at Salem and a Record Crowd Is Expected There.

Nearly five hundred residents of Albany and Linn county are attending the state fair at Salem today and every train leaving this city, on both the electric and steam lines, have been loaded to their limit.

Until today the weather has been so bad that few people attended on Monday and Tuesday from this section, but the sky looked pretty clear this morning and hundreds of people from Albany, Corvallis, Lebanon, Brownsville, and other Linn county towns, who were willing to take a chance on Jupiter Pluvius, boarded the trains at this city for the fair.

From present indications they will not be disappointed in the weather for the sun has been shining nearly all day, while the sky is comparatively clear.

BENTON M'ILLIN.

Former Tennessee Governor, Who Is Again Democratic Nominee.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRE

Boston, Sept. 3.—President Taft tonight contrasted the conditions which confronted the president in the days of the spoils system with the system of appointment under the civil service, attacked the democratic house of representatives for attempting to limit tenure of government employees and declared that as long as he had power no government clerk would be discharged unless the United States provided a system of civil service pensions to keep him from want in his old age.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 3.—The progressives and the democrats won the honors in the Vermont state election today, for although the republicans carried the state on a plurality vote there was no election by a gubernatorial vote and the choice of a governor was thrown into the legislature.

There the republicans will have a sufficient majority to elect Allen M. Fletcher and the rest of the state ticket.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—Woodrow Wilson's stand upon tariff, trusts and the proposal for minimum wage scales were assailed by Colonel Roosevelt in a speech here today. He joined issue squarely with Wilson, taking as a text the democratic candidate's speech yesterday at Buffalo. He spoke before the Missouri state progressive convention.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 3.—The women of Ohio failed today in their effort to gain the ballot, according to early returns tonight.

While the earliest figures on which this result is based come almost entirely from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Dayton, it was in those places where the suffragists waged their most determined fights and politicians said the result would not change by the final returns.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 3.—Five companies of Michigan National Guardsmen, with loaded rifles, camped tonight within and outside the walls of the state penitentiary. The convicts who are alleged to have been responsible for today's outbreak are locked up in the heart of the prison, many of them being chained to their cells.

Yelling like mad men, the majority of the convicts streamed into the prison kitchen and began smashing state property. The riot was in full progress when Warden Simpson was notified.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 3.—Fire originating from a defective flue at the Casino cafe on the pleasure pier at Ocean Park at 5 o'clock tonight caused a loss of at least one life and a property damage estimated at $2,250,000. For a time it threatened to devastate the twin beach resorts of Ocean Park and Venice, 18 miles from Los Angeles.

A high wind caused the flames to spread so rapidly that seven men were caught at the end of the Frazier pier on which the Casino was located and were forced to jump into the breakers. Six of them were rescued by life guards who put out in boats. They were not in time, however, to save the life of E. W. Leach, chief of the Casino cafe.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 3.—Pascual Orozco, leader of the Mexican revolution, has been located, ending a mystery of many weeks. The puzzle was solved today when Ojinaga fell into rebel hands, and the discovery made that Orozco was not where he was supposed to be by many hundreds of miles.

New York, Sept. 3.—The rush of Americans homeward bound from Europe, which has been noticeable since the first week in August, will reach its highest point during the next fortnight, and by the end of September will have subsided into the normal westward tide of travel. More than 30,000 Americans will sail from English ports this week in the first and second cabins alone. They will crowd into twenty different ships.

EUGENE OFFICERS SEARCH FOR A TALL NEGRO

Suspected Murderer Seen in That City by Mrs. Ryckman Less than a Week Ago.

This Morning's Register says: Details that tend to corroborate the theory that the murderer of Mildred Green was a negro degenerate came to light yesterday through the story told by Mrs. S. E. Ryckman, who lives on Fourth street, just this side of Blair.

Mrs. Ryckman arose exceedingly early on the morning that the murder was discovered, and about half past four she went out on the porch to look at the weather. Just as she closed the door behind her, she heard some one running at top speed across a vacant lot that lies just west of the Ryckman house, and a moment later a huge mulatto dashed past, sprang across the sidewalk, cleared Fourth street in three or four jumps, and disappeared across-lots in the direction of Third street and the Southern Pacific tracks.

A peculiar and highly interesting point in Mrs. Ryckman's story is that she had seen the same negro the evening before going west on Fifth street, and that she saw him a third time on the evening of Wednesday, August 28, eight days after the murder, and the day after the funeral of Mildred Green.

Mrs. Ryckman first saw the negro on Monday evening, August 19, which was the night of the murder. She was coming home down Fifth street, when she heard some one behind her and glanced around and saw a negro, whom she describes as being of enormous size and of a peculiarly vicious appearance.

"The minute I laid eyes on him," said Mrs. Ryckman last night, "I said to myself that that was no nigger to be caught up by, so I turned off the sidewalk on to a path that runs to our house and let him go on."

She was so impressed by the vicious appearance of the man, however, that after she got home she could not stop thinking of him, and turned around and went immediately over to the little store on the corner of Fifth and Blair, to see if the negro had gone there to buy something, thus indicating that he had some purpose in the neighborhood. He had not entered the store, though, and was nowhere in sight, although she looked up and down both Fifth and Blair.

DAUGHTRY RAIDS KENNEDY'S AGAIN

Police Chief Discovers 144 Qts. of Beer and 72 Pints of Whiskey In Room.

DIFFICULT TIME FINDING HIDING PLACE OF BOOZE

Liquor Smashing Near Jewish Cemetery Attracts Several Thirsty Hoboes.

When Chief of Police Daughtry saw a barrel of beer unloaded this morning in the place at First and Baker streets which has been rented for several months by J. D. Kennedy, he waited until it was safely inside and then paid the place his customary inspection trip.

Imagine his surprise, however, when after searching the place from one end to the other, the police chief was unable to find the barrel of beer, which had but a few minutes before been unloaded at the back door. This puzzled Daughtry for several minutes and he was almost to give up the search when he spied a door in the wall which led to the east room of the building, which had until recently been used by a wholesale firm.

The chief tried the door but found that it was locked on the other side. After searching about for several minutes Daughtry discovered a string hanging down the wall in one of the rooms occupied by Kennedy, and upon giving it a pull, the door into the place on the other side of the partition swung silently open and the chief walked through into the next room, where he found two full barrels, or 144 quart bottles of beer; 72 pints of whiskey, and nine barrels of empty beer bottles which he confiscated.

While there the police chief examined the lock on the door and found that it was a spring lock to which was attached a string. Following the string for several feet Daughtry discovered that it went through a hole in the wall into Kennedy's place next door.

The liquor confiscated by Chief Daughtry was loaded on a dray and taken to a field near the Jewish cemetery where it was broken up.

Constable John Catlin who happened to be out along the tracks in the vicinity of the cemetery when the booze was destroyed, stated that the smell of the liquor was carried up the creek for several hundred yards to a hobo camp where a number of "gentlemen of the road" were gathered about a camp fire.

The odor of the booze caused a panic in the camp and the "hobos" started toward the cemetery full speed. However, after poking about the camp for some little time in hopes that a whole bottle would be found, they went back to their camp completely disgusted, for the chief had broken every bottle, leaving nothing but a pile of glass and a strong odor of booze. The employees of Kennedy's place denied that the booze belonged to them.

JERSEY CITY MISER LEAVES A FORTUNE

New York, Sept. 3.—The appraisers of the estate of Michael Kiley, who died last July in a ramshackle house at 20 Bright street, Jersey City, have just made public the information that the reclusive property will reach nearly $200,000 in value. It has been suspected that Kiley had considerable money, but the large amount of his estate has occasioned considerable surprise.

Three banks in New Jersey were found to hold more than $150,000 to Kiley's credit in cash and railroad stocks and bonds. He also owned houses at 18 and 20 Bright street. Kiley's will, which was drawn on July 9, divides his property into hundreds and leaves it to charitable institutions and persons who had befriended him. He had no relatives.

ENGLEWOOD MILLIONAIRES OBJECT TO EARLY MILK MEN

New York, September 3rd.—The millionaires living at Englewood, N. J., want to sleep until 7 o'clock in the morning at least. They don't mind waking up at that hour, but before that time they do not think it is proper for a millionaire in good standing to be awake unless he has not been to sleep yet. So they have demanded that the Board of Health stop the delivery of goods before that hour. The millionaires do not leave until 9 o'clock each morning, but there are any number of commuters who have to get away at 7 a. m., and they have to have their milk and rolls by 6 o'clock. They will be on hand to oppose the request of the late sleepers.
