

HUB CITY SPECIAL LEAVES HERE AT 9:15

First Train Over Oregon Electric To Eugene Will Carry 1000 Albany Residents.

PRESIDENT YOUNG MADE THE LAST INSPECTION SUNDAY

Eugene Is In Gala Attire For Big Railway Celebration There Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning at 9:15 o'clock promptly, the "Hub City Special" bearing nearly one thousand enthusiastic and light-hearted residents of Albany, will leave the Oregon Electric passenger station at the corner of Fifth and Lyon streets and wend its way southward through the famous Willamette Valley, with its dairy farms and apple orchards, to Eugene where our citizens will assist the people of that thriving and progressive city in celebrating one of the most important events in the history of the Lane county metropolis—the completion of the Oregon Electric, the first interurban railway through the valley.

President Joseph H. Young of the Oregon Electric passed through Albany yesterday morning on a final inspection trip prior to the opening of the line tomorrow. He made the trip on an electric speeder and found the line to be in excellent shape, ready for the big excursion tomorrow and for the opening of the regular service on Wednesday. At one station between Albany and Eugene, forty persons have petitioned the company to have the train stop there tomorrow and take them to Eugene. As a result of this and other requests, President Young last evening issued orders for local trains to stop and pick up passengers at all points whether there is a station or not.

The Albany delegation of visitors will be accompanied by the band and all will be provided with one of the handsome badges recently ordered by E. H. McCune, chairman of the excursion committee and which were received last week. The badge is very attractive and of great design. It is made of white silk, 5x12 inches in dimensions. In the center of the badge is a design of a large hub from which radiate the numerous spokes of transportation from this city, the new spoke which is larger than the rest and printed in red, being Eugene. An inscription at the top of the badge reads "Albany Welcomes The New Spoke." It is a work of art and it will be an easy matter to find the Albany bunch in the throngs at Eugene tomorrow. This badge was designed by Land Hamilton, advertising manager of the Chambers & McCune store.

The citizens of Eugene are working overtime to make the celebration the biggest affair of its kind ever held in the valley and by tonight will have all the details complete. A huge arch of welcome has been constructed across Willamette street at Sixth and a large force of professional decorators are busy today placing the streets and stores in gala attire for the celebration. The monster parade will occur tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock and will consist of a division of mounted police, grand marshal and aides, the Royal Rosarians of Portland, two companies of coast artillery, railway officials, members of the G. A. R., city officials, fire department, lodges and societies, floats of the business houses of Eugene and Springfield, decorated automobiles and vehicles, and scores of other features.

The Albany band will head the second division of the parade, followed by the visiting delegation of nearly a thousand Albany people. Included in this division will be the Salem, Roseburg, Corvallis, and other visiting delegations. Besides the handsome badges, Chairman McCune of the excursion committee has made preparations to distribute among the Albany delegation during the big parade, large bunches of firecrackers which will be used all along the line of march.

The banks of this city will remain closed all day tomorrow while the bankers and their clerks attend the celebration, and all the merchants in the city are preparing to attend, leaving their business in the care of their clerks. Besides the throng which will go to Eugene on the first electric train in the morning, hundreds of others will go by automobile and over the steam railroads. There will be crowds in Eugene tomorrow from Roseburg, Medford, Creswell, Portland, Salem, Corvallis, Independence, Harrisburg, Junction City, Springfield, Albany, Lebanon, Brownsville, Cottage Grove, and other cities of the Willamette valley.

The program for the day includes banquets, receptions, auto trips about the city, parades, speaking at the park, etc. This city will be depopulated tomorrow for everybody is going to have the pleasure of riding on the first electric train over the Oregon Electric, to Eugene—the "Hub City Special." The Albany train will leave Eugene on the return trip to this city at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Placing the value of the property destroyed by fire in the Franklin House on March 21st at $658.95, Mrs. E. Merrill today filed a complaint in which she demands the above sum from the Northwestern National Insurance company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The plaintiff alleges that she was the owner of all personal property situated in a house numbered 440 E. Second street in Albany, Oregon, and that said house was destroyed by fire on March 21st, 1912.

Through her attorneys, Weatherford and Weatherford, the plaintiff asks for a judgment of $658.00.

SERIOUS CHARGE LODGED AGAINST CLYDE SLOAN

Claimed That He Killed a Steer. Waived Preliminary Hearing; Bound Over to Circuit Court.

Arrested on the charge of larceny of a steer, Clyde S. Sloan who resides in the vicinity of Holley was brought to Albany yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Smith and taken before Judge Swan where he waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the next term of the district court with bonds placed at $500.00.

According to the claim of the complaining witness, Sloan and another party, whose name has not been disclosed, killed a steer belonging to Geo. Finley.

Following the commission of the crime Mr. Finley called in a few neighbors for the purpose of devising plans of apprehending the guilty party and while they were holding a conference, some one shot through the house. A man was seen running from the place and six shots were fired at him, all of which went wide of the mark.

When Sloan was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Smith he at first showed fight but later turned his gun over to the officer. One of the parties who participated in the crime is alleged to have confessed to the officers.

The presidential straw vote which is being conducted by the Democrat, is the center of interest in local political circles. One prominent member of the Roosevelt party was so interested in the success of his favorite candidate that he voted twice, while others have walked for several blocks in order to register their votes.

A sealed ballot box, in charge of Mr. C. L. Hill, has been on the streets during the entire day, and scores of business men have voted. The vote will in all probability be announced through the columns of this publication on Wednesday.

TRAMP KILLED BY CARS NEAR HALSEY

Body Was Discovered Yesterday and Brought to Albany By Coroner Fortmiller.

NOTHING FOUND BY WHICH MAN COULD BE IDENTIFIED

Had Evidently Attempted To Board Northbound Train— Will Be Buried Here.

An unidentified man about thirty years of age was run over by a Southern Pacific train a mile south of Halsey yesterday morning and instantly killed. His body was brought to Albany last evening by Coroner Fortmiller and will be buried here at the expense of the county, there being absolutely nothing by which the man could be identified.

The man had evidently attempted to board one of the early morning trains coming this way and fell beneath the wheels, which passed over his body above the hips and severed one of his legs. The body was horribly mangled and cut up. The man was poorly dressed and of unkempt appearance, evidently a tramp. While it is not known which train killed the man, it is presumed that it was No. 14, which is due at this city at about 4 o'clock.

The body was discovered by the engineer of one of the passenger trains which passed by later and when it arrived in Halsey, a section foreman living at that city was notified and went out to the scene of the accident. The section foreman placed a man to watch the body and returned to Halsey, where he notified Coroner Fortmiller who brought the body to this city. The only thing found in the man's clothing was a photograph of himself.

ADDRESS OF CLARKE ENDS DRAMATICALLY

Telegram Is Read To Audience Telling of Shooting of Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

NOMINEE FOR U. S. SENATOR URGES DEVELOPMENT

Favors Deepening of Willamette and Opening of the Locks at Oregon City.

A most dramatic ending to the speech of Alfred E. Clark, progressive nominee for United States senator from Oregon, occurred at the local opera house last evening when a telegram was handed the speaker just as he was closing his address, telling of the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt at Milwaukee.

Mr. Clark read the telegram to the audience who were awed by the news, coming at that particular time, and none knew what to think about it. The speaker finished his address a few minutes later and then hurried to his hotel to get the particulars of the affair.

Mr. Clark addressed a fair-sized audience at the opera house last evening on the issues at the coming election. He advocated the development of the agricultural resources of the central and southern portions of the state that have heretofore received but little attention.

"In the great work of building up our state," he said, "the federal government should do its part and the members of the senate and house of representatives should see that it does." He pointed out that so far Oregon had not received its just share of the proceeds of the public land sold in this state, while neighboring states had received far more than they had contributed.

Mr. Clark vigorously declared that every dollar gotten from the sale of Electric depot at Fifth and Lyon streets where the band gave a concert for several minutes after which the crowd boarded the special train of four coaches. The Corvallis special left Corvallis promptly at 8:45 o'clock and will leave Eugene on the return trip at 5:30 p. m. Included on the Corvallis special was a large delegation from Lebanon.

the public lands of Oregon should remain here to build up our state and denounce any other policy as unjust to us and gross favoritism to other states. He said that a senator should represent the whole state and that Central Oregon and its development should receive as much attention as any other section. The deepening of the Willamette river was urged and delay in opening the locks at Oregon City criticised.

Discussing the tariff he advocated immediate revision downward along lines designed to reduce the cost of living, suspension of duties on trust controlled articles and a nonpartisan tariff commission. The policy of tariff for revenue only was declared impracticable, leading inevitably to free trade upon all our productions and urged instead the use of tariff duties as a means of extending our foreign markets through reciprocal arrangements under which the products of our farms and factories would be admitted free to other nations in exchange for free admission of their products needed by us.

B. E. Kennedy, candidate for secretary of state, spoke briefly, calling attention to the fact that at present the governor, treasurer and secretary of state were all residents of Salem and urging that some other section of the state be given representation as a matter of good business policy.
