

BIG DAMAGE SUIT IS GIVEN TO JURY

Case of Mrs. Nellie McDaniels vs Lebanon Lumber Company Completed Today.

JURY IS NOT EXPECTED TO RETURN A VERDICT TODAY

Suit of Oscar Black vs Mary E. Hurst for Recovery of Some Realty and Damages.

The closing arguments in the $25,000 damage suit of Nellie McDaniels vs the Lebanon Lumber company were made last evening and Judge Kelly instructed the jury this morning...

The damage suit has attracted considerable attention this week and many people from Lebanon have been in attendance in court each day.

The case of Corn Osborne of Shelburn, indicted by the grand jury for statutory rape, was continued until the February term of court owing to the large number of cases already on the docket.

The jury in the case of Oscar Black vs. Mary E. Hurst for recovery of realty and damages was secured this afternoon and the case is now being tried.

GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS MAKES BIG HIT AT LEBANON

Speaks to Crowded House on Behalf of Candidacy of Governor Wilson.

Geo. Fred Williams, one of the best known campaign speakers in the eastern states, last night made a speech at Lebanon before the largest and most enthusiastic crowd that has ever attended a political rally in the history of that city.

The speaker in vigorous terms and exposed the corporation record of Colonel Roosevelt, giving special attention to the trust contributions to the Roosevelt campaign.

Mr. Williams passed through Albany this morning on his way to Eugene where he will make a political speech this evening.

MISS EDNA KNOTTS AND H. S. BUTTERFIELD WED TONIGHT

Ceremony Will Be Performed At Brides Home at 8 O'clock This Evening.

The home of Rev. and Mrs. I. G. Knotts, 1140 East First street, will be the scene of a pretty wedding tonight at 8 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Edna Bertha will be united in marriage to Mr. Hayden Gearhart Butterfield of Ashland. The bride's father, Rev. I. G. Knotts, will perform the wedding ceremony in the presence of about seventy-five invited guests.

The bride-to-be is one of Albany's most popular young ladies, of Christian character and sterling worth, and is well and favorably known in Albany where she has resided for many years. The groom is one of Ashland's progressive young business men and is a graduate of Stanford University where he was prominently identified with student activities and athletics.

Following the ceremony tonight, a wedding supper will be served and the newlyweds will leave tomorrow for Ashland where they will begin housekeeping at once. The Democrat joins with the many friends of the young people in wishing them the best in life.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Horsky went to Portland yesterday where they will spend their honeymoon. They will reside in Albany at 420 East Fifth street.

Theodore Swanson and R. B. Groudhall, members of the party who are spending the winter at Clear Lake, are in the city today purchasing supplies for their camp.

MISFITS Contributed By F. P. Nutting.

Be sure and vote 311 X No, a move to kill the initiative.

There are seven tax bills, presented by the tax commission, and two by the single taxers, to vote on, worthy of study. Oregon is certainly not prepared for the latter.

The salary of the state printer should be flat, even if you have to vote for some things not desired to make it that way.

In the much talked about moving pictures of the Oregon Electric parade at Eugene, Salem, Corvallis and Albany just shown, being left out, except one flash showing an Albany sign from the rear, while the Eugene crowd was displayed to the limit. It was undoubtedly the program Eugene is evidently catering to Portland more than a friendly relationship with the other valley towns.

No man can stay with a mean plan of life and make it pay from any standpoint. On the contrary it pays to live right and do right.

Sweet the graduated single tax measure good and hard; also the majority bill stalling the initiative.

An Albany man has received a letter from his alma mater in Mo. urging him to vote for Wilson. Good advice.

What a good many church people need is conversion.

Come to think about it, for goodness sake what is that peace commission doing.

Without waiting for election day a new rose has been named Woodrow Wilson.

Will '13 be a lucky year or one of disaster? An opportunity for a great test in superstition.

The people of Albany for a good many reasons should vote no on the Salem Brewery bill, sometimes called the saloon bill.

HARRY J. FELLOWS LECTURE COURSE ATTRACTION

Member of the Fellows Grand Opera Quartet Will Be Here Friday Night.

Mr. Harry J. Fellows, of the Fellows Grand Opera Quartet, was the principal tenor soloist at the New York Chautauqua Assembly for five seasons. He has toured America repeatedly in company with famous singers and musicians. His management received not a single adverse criticism from 125 dates last season. He has with him a strong company who will give one of the best concerts ever heard here.

The reserved seat sale for this number in the Albany College Lecture Course begins tomorrow morning at Woodworth's. The company appears at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday evening at 8 o'clock. A course ticket good for this and five other strong attractions costs only $1.00. The single admission is 50c.

NEW AUTO HOTEL BUSS FOR ST. FRANCIS

Order Placed for Conveyance This Morning, Will Meet Albany Trains Daily.

Because the local street car system is unable to handle the passengers from the forty or more trains arriving in Albany daily, Manager Westbrook of the St. Francis hotel, today placed an order for a new hotel bus which will cost the management the sum of $2200.00. The new conveyance will be a light horse power machine, electric fitted and capable of hauling ten passengers. It was ordered through Barrett Brothers from a Portland firm and will be delivered in Albany within the next thirty days. The auto bus will meet every train on both the Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric railroads and will do much to give the city a metropolitan appearance.

PENILESS GIRL IS UNWILLING VOYAGER

Steamship Yule Carries Hither Protesting Cashier of Hotel Lankersheim, Los Angeles.

San Francisco, Cal., October 27.—The fact that San Francisco is the Queen City of the Pacific, that it soon is to be the great exposition city and that it possesses attractions that few other cities can boast of were not responsible for the coming here of Miss Evelyn Stewart, cashier of the Hotel Lankersheim in Los Angeles.

With only the clothing she wore, not even a brush and comb, so necessary in feminine daily routine, and without even cashmere to a hotel, Miss Stewart arrived from the South on Thursday on the steamship Yule, and against her will, too.

She was among a number of Angelenos who went aboard the Yule on Wednesday previous to the vessel's departure for the north. She was busily talking with several women passengers when she heard the familiar voice of the stewardess say: "Why, Miss Stewart, I didn't know you were to be one of us on this trip."

"I'm not," innocently replied the young woman.

"You're not?" was the laughing retort that caused Miss Stewart to turn her face suddenly shoreward just in time to see the buildings of San Pedro fading in the distance.

Miss Stewart protested to the purser, then to the captain, but to no avail. The Yule could not turn back.

So Miss Stewart reluctantly came "dead head" to San Francisco. Friends interceded and she was "dead headed" on the bus to the Hotel Stewart, where she again listed "dead head" and remained until yesterday morning, when funds were sent her from Los Angeles. She left on yesterday afternoon's steamship for home.

WEST EXPLAINS EFFECT OF MILLAGE BILL

Governor Says That $500,000 Appropriation Will Be Killed If Bill Passes.

Salem, Ore., Oct. 29, 1912. Editor of Democrat:

Inasmuch as this office is being repeatedly asked as to what will become of the $500,000 appropriation made by the last legislature for the University of Oregon, and now held up by the referendum, should the proposed millage tax bill for the support of the University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural College carry, I wish to make the following statement for the information of your readers:

If the proposed millage tax bill (No. 320 on the ballot) carries it will kill this $500,000 appropriation and the money, already raised through taxation and in the hands of the state treasurer, will revert to the General Fund and be available for other purposes.

The millage tax bill abolishes the two boards of regents and the board of higher curricula and puts both institutions under one board.

It is a well known fact that at least one-fourth of the time of the members of the legislature is taken up wrangling over the appropriations for these institutions. The millage tax bill will keep them away from the legislature and take them out of politics.

Yours truly, OSWALD WEST.

LOEB SPOKE IN ALBANY YESTERDAY EVENING

Bull Moose Scores Taft Administration and Defends Roosevelt's Action.

Speaking to an audience of nearly one hundred people at the opera house last night, Hon. Albert J. Loeb of California scored the Taft administration and made a strong plea for the election of Colonel Roosevelt. The action of Roosevelt in bolting the Chicago convention was defended by the speaker and the new third party hailed as the "white hope" of progressive Republicanism. Mr. Loeb proved an interesting speaker and was deserving of a larger crowd.

"OLD MAID'S DARLING" HAD MARRIED ANOTHER

Sale of a House Reveals the Romance of an Aged Widow Jilted by a Doctor.

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—Sale of the home of the late Mrs. Frances S. Buckingham at 3309 North Broad street reveals that the aged widow, who was near eighty, died of a broken heart because she was jilted by a young doctor, who then married a pretty girl.

She had planned to become his wife on the day the house was finished. She had designed it especially for their joint occupancy, the front parlor being laid out as a physician's office, with tiled walls and floors. "An old maid's darling," she called him.

After the marriage the widow became a recluse in the $25,000 house. She kept the front blinds always down and her only companions were a maid and a Maltese cat. In her morose spells she spent more than $20,000 in altering the decorations of the place, tearing out the hickory maple, in one of her moods, and substituting walnut. The dining-room ceiling represents the sky at night, with tiny electric lights for stars.

A committee having charge of this work is making the most aggressive campaign ever made in Albany against the saloons and it is understood in addition to the public agitation that an appeal is being made directly to the individual voters.

AL NEWMAN CONVICTED IN FEDERAL COURT AT PORTLAND

Al Newman, who was recently fined $250 in the Lebanon justice court for selling intoxicating liquors, was taken to Portland last week by government officers where he was convicted in the federal court for dispensing intoxicating liquors without a government license and fined $250 in addition to a sentence of thirty days. He is now confined in the county jail in Portland where he is serving his sentence.

W. T. Larwood, a well known resident of Crabtree, was in the city yesterday looking after business matters and attending court.

W. W. Clarkson of Cincinnati, Ohio, arrived in Albany yesterday and will spend a few days in this city. He is stopping at the Hotel Van Dran.

William Olin of Mill City arrived in Albany last evening and is looking after business matters in Albany today.
