

MRS. ROSE STOVER IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Alleged in Her Complaint That Husband Treated Her in a Cruel Manner.

WOULDN'T GIVE HER MONEY TO VISIT SICK SISTER IN EAST

Plaintiff Also Alleged Husband Threatened to Place Her in Insane Asylum.

Among the many divorces issued during the present term of circuit court was the one issued this morning by Judge Galloway to Rose N. Stover from L. C. Stover, a local carpenter.

Mrs. Stover alleged in her complaint which was filed in this city several months ago, that her husband was of a jealous and morose disposition, and often called her vile names. She alleged that on one occasion when her sister who resides in Michigan, became seriously ill and was expected to die, he refused to give her money with which to make the trip East and that it became necessary for her to work in the hop-fields and orchards, in order to secure funds with which to purchase her ticket.

She also alleged that after her sister had recovered sufficiently to allow her to return to her home in Benton county, her husband would not send her money to come back on. Mrs. Stover also alleged that the defendant at one time attempted to have her placed in an asylum, telling her that she was insane.

She said that he even tried to telephone to an officer to come out after her but the phone was out of order and he failed. The plaintiff also alleged that her husband frequently beat his daughter Stella when she was sick and his crippled son, Glen as well.

The couple were married at the Dalles on July 2, 1891. Three children were born to them, two sons, Glen aged 20, and Percival aged 12, and one daughter, Stella, aged 17. Mrs. Stover did not ask for the custody of either of her older children owing to the fact that both will soon be of age and permitted her younger son Percival to be given into the care of the defendant with the provision that the boy may visit her at least two weeks in each year.

MAN DIES AS HE HAD PREDICTED HE WOULD

Coloradoan Had Fortold He Would Succumb Thirty Years After Accident.

Colorado Springs, Nov. 20.—"I will live for 30 years yet," cheerfully remarked John H. Fuller, after falling from a 100-foot fall from the table of the old Antlers hotel. Every bone in his body was broken and his escape from death was wonderful.

The other day, just 30 years after the accident, he died at the Park Avenue Hospital, Denver, as an indirect result of an attack of apoplexy in Paonia two years ago.

When Fuller fell at the hotel, where he was employed as a carpenter, his body struck the ground, rebounding through a window and then fell to the basement, about 15 feet. A slight limp was the only permanent result of his injury. He was 55 years old when he died, and was a brother of Mrs. H. H. Buckwalter, wife of the moving picture man of Denver. His son, Leon, was a star football player on the Colorado Springs and Denver High School teams and is an engineer on the Moffat road.

MESSIAH'S KINGDOM.

The Glorious Day of Divine Favor is Nearing.

The period in which sin is permitted has been a dark night to humanity, never to be forgotten; but the glorious day of righteousness and divine favor is soon to be ushered in by Messiah. He, as the SUN OF RIGHT-FOUSNESS, shall arise and shine fully and clearly into and upon all, bringing healing and blessing, which will more than counterbalance the dreadful night of weeping, slitting, pain, sickness and death, in which the groaning creation has been so long. "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the MORNING."

For further LIGHT on the coming Kingdom send thirty-five cents for the Helping Hand for Bible Students, entitled, "THE KINGDOM COME." Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A. W. Bowersox, local manager of the Portland Flouring Mills Co., was a passenger on the electric limited to Portland this morning where he will look after business matters today. He will attend the dedication of the Elks temple at Oregon City tonight.

CONVICT ESCAPES FROM THE CORVALLIS JAIL YESTERDAY

Judge Grabs Man When He Starts to Crawl Though Hole in Wall of Bastille.

A jail delivery and recapture of the escape created excitement at the court house about 10 o'clock this morning. With a case knife and his fingernails, convict being held here, dug through Charles White, a British Columbia convict being held here, dug through the north wall of the jail and but for the timely arrival of Judge W. G. Lane, who grabbed his feet as White started to crawl through the hole feet first, he would probably be a free man at this time.

As is the custom after breakfast, Deputy Piel released White and the bootlegger, Read, from the steel cell and permitted them to exercise in the corridor of the jail. Mr. Piel looked up and went to the postoffice. White had discovered a soft place in the wall (it's all soft)—and while Read read a paper at one end of the jail, White poked at a hole large enough to crawl through. He did it in two minutes, he says.

Clerk E. J. Newton happened to look out of the window fronting on the jail and saw bricks flying. He tried to get the sheriff's office and then phoned for Chief Wells. He then yelled to Judge Lane, who was near the jail, and the judge grabbed White's feet as he came through. He offered no resistance. Wells and Piel got there in a jiffy and White was put back in the steel cell, where he now is. The hole in the brick wall is already patched up for the next jail breaker.

White has a bad record. He was sentenced to ten years in a British Columbia penitentiary on conviction of assault and robbery. He escaped some time ago, and two weeks ago was picked up near Philomath by Chief Wells, who had telegraphic instructions to look out for him. He was here to see relatives in the county. He was ever a bad man at the pen, and had been in the Walla Walla pen. Officials advised that he be watched always. White will probably be taken back to British Columbia in a day or two.—Corvallis Gazette-Times.

CHORES VS. BACK TO THE FARM MOVEMENT IS PLAN

Hard Labor on the Farm Will Cure Average "Back to Land" Fever.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Ten days of doing "chores" before breakfast will cure the average "back to the land" fever, Benjamin O. Packer, Wisconsin commissioner of immigration, said at the second annual meeting of the national conference of immigration and labor officials today.

Packer asserted that there was too much discussion in connection with country life. "Those who have started and kept alive the poetic sentiment relate to the back to the land movement," he said, "are the ones who are the most likely to find their ideas dashed to the ground by duties and conditions not considered before leaving their comfortable apartments."

SMASHING OF FAMILY ORGAN CAUSE OF DIVORCE IN SOUTH

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Roxie Anna Brown, smashed up the family organ because he played a tune on it for the amusement of a young lady visitor in the house, says C. N. Brown in his suit for divorce, which was filed with Deputy Clerk F. M. Meyers in the superior court.

Brown also alleges that his wife was unfaithful and disloyal to him, and had such a violent temper that on many occasions he was forced to flee from the house. She mistreated him and on one occasion he had to take a pistol away from her to protect his life, he says. He says he has always been a dutiful and loving husband.

The couple were married in 1888, and lived together for twenty years. They have five children, according to the plaintiff, and Mrs. Brown owns real estate in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Man Who Beheaded Charles I.

The mysterious masked man who beheaded Charles I. remains the British analogue for the Man With the Iron Mask. Lilly, the lying astrologer, denounced Cornet Joyce at the restoration, but Joyce on the fatal 30th of January was not in favor with Cromwell. The parish register of White-chapel records the burial in 1640 of Richard Brandon, the common hang man, and opposite the entry a contemporary hand wrote that "he cut off the head of Charles the First." Brandon himself asserted that "they made him do it for 500," with which he drank himself to death.—Dundee Advertiser

Sadly Lacking.

"Did young Charlie Goldie call on you last night?" "Yes. He calls almost every night." "That sounds serious. What sort of young man is he—pretty intelligent?" "Intelligent? Why, say, he doesn't know enough to embrace an opportunity."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Harry Schlosser of this city went to Brownsville this morning where he is spending the day looking after business matters.

BILLY EAGLES SECURED THE BIG GAME FOR ALBANY'S FIELD

Local Cigar Manufacturer Now Called "Matchmaker" By His Many Friends Here.

To William Eagles, the local cigar manufacturer, belongs the credit of securing the big game of football for this city on next Saturday afternoon, and consequently effecting a reconciliation between the two state institutions and a resumption of the athletic relations in which there has been a wide breach for the past two years. Already "Billy's" friends have nicknamed him "the Matchmaker."

"Billy" conceived the idea of reuniting the rivals several months ago and didn't waste any time about it, but got busy immediately and submitted a proposition to the two schools which was considered, but nothing definite done. While at Corvallis attending the O. A. C-Whitman game last Saturday afternoon, Mr. Eagles made another proposition to Coaches Dolan, of the Oregon Agricultural College, and Moores, of the University of Oregon, who were present.

The football men told Eagles at that time that they would consider the matter and let him know this week. On Monday evening, a conference was held at the Elks' Temple in this city between the graduate managers of both schools and Mr. Eagles which resulted in the contract being made and the game scheduled to take place in this city Saturday.

Mr. Eagles is to be congratulated on the efforts he made to land the game, which finally resulted in success.

LINN COUNTY HAS GREATEST NUMBER OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS

There are 237 Sunday Schools and 21,623 people who attend them in the six counties of Linn, Lane, Marion, Polk, Benton and Lincoln, according to figures which have been compiled by G. W. Rohrbaugh, of this city. Mr. Rohrbaugh is the missionary of the American Sunday School Union for the Albany district, and has charge of the work in these counties.

The population of this district, according to the 1910 government census, is 130,110, so about 17 per cent of the people of the six counties are regular attendants at Sunday school.

Linn county leads the other five counties, both in number and Sunday schools and attendance. Linn county ranks second in number of schools, but Marion county is second in number of scholars. Linn county has 58 schools, with a total attendance of 5599. Marion county 50 schools, with 5506 scholars. In Lane county there are 55 Sunday schools, and the total attendance in Polk county being 2720, and in Benton county 2480. In Lincoln county there are 10 Sunday schools and 596 attendants.

MICHIGAN MAN LOSES PANTS WHICH HE BET IN CARD GAME

Detroit, Nov. 18.—William Verne appeared in police court this morning attired in a dress coat and some underwear—he had bet the trousers in a poker game the evening before and lost.

William, as may be surmised, is something of a stickler when the cards go against him. His cash, his watch and his diamonds preceded the trousers into the "bank." The trousers were of good quality, so William got several blue clips on them. But his luck didn't turn and when he was cleared out again he broke up the game by quitting.

He begged the loan of the trousers to go home in, but the bank took no risks and declined. So William started in dress coat and underwear. That's how the policeman happened to grab him.

Byron Wolfe and George Usher, two well known residents of Gates, spent yesterday in the City looking after business matters. They returned home this morning.

Miss Gertrude Kierr of Mill City arrived in Albany last evening and is spending the day here visiting friends.

F. H. Stickley, the genial traveling representative for Wadhams & Co. of Portland, was a passenger on the electric to Salem this morning.

The New Umbrella.

Oh, Ella!
With her first umbrella!
She walked abroad like any queen;
She held it proudly for display;
Admired its handle, stroked its sheen,
Was ever little girl more gay?

Dear Ella!
Such a small umbrella!
Once in the rain swept market place
I met her. Dripping were her curls,
She looked, despite her sunny face,
The most forlorn of little girls.

"Why, Ella,
Where's your new umbrella?"
Said I: "The storm has drenched your hair."
Just see your frock! Just see your hat
And what is this you hug with care,
A broom, a saddle or a cat?"

Oh, Ella!
With her first umbrella!
She looked at me and shyly spoke;
The raindrops pelted on her yet.
"I have it here beneath my cloak,
Because, you see, it might get wet!"

ALBANY POULTRY SHOW NEXT MONTH

Will Be Held in the Armory on Dec. 4, 5, 6, and 7; Many Fine Prizes Offered.

ELMER DIXON OF OREGON CITY WILL JUDGE THE EXHIBITS

Officers of Poultry Association Will Give Handsome Silver Cups to Exhibitors.

Poultrymen throughout the Willamette Valley are awaiting with eagerness the opening of Albany's annual poultry show which will be held in the Armory on December 4, 5, 6 and 7 and already a large number have notified secretary F. F. Seavers of this city that they would have exhibits at the show.

Many handsome cups and other valuable prizes have been offered by the Central Willamette Poultry Association for the best entries in the various classes and the competition among the exhibitors promises to be keen.

Elmer Dixon, a well known poultryman of Oregon City, has been secured to judge the exhibits, and the mere mention of his name assures all exhibitors that the ribbons will be placed on the best birds. Dixon has had many years experience in the poultry business and is thoroughly conversant with every department. Entries for the show will close at 12 p. m. on December 3rd cannot compete for prizes.

Handsome cups of silver have been offered for the best pens of the following kinds of poultry: Banded Plymouth Rocks, White Plymouth Rocks, S. C. Rhode Island Reds, White Orpingtons, Buff Orpingtons, S. C. Brown Leghorns, S. C. White Leghorns, S. C. Buff Leghorns, S. C. Black Minorcas, Anaconas, and White Wyandottes.

Silver cups have also been offered for the largest and best display of ducks, and largest display of poultry, and largest and best display of bantams. Superintendent School offers a silver cup to the amateur showing the best pen of birds in the Mediterranean class. Secretary Seavers offers a silver cup to the amateur showing the best pen in the American class. Mrs. J. S. Northrup of Lebanon offers a silver meat fork for the best Buff Orpington cockerel. These cups and many other fine prizes, including premium ribbons, will be awarded at the show.

Following are the officers of the Central Willamette Poultry association under whose auspices the show will be given: Ed. Schoel, president; Gene Simpson, Roy Warfield, W. E. Baker, Mrs. J. S. Northrup, and L. J. Gray, vice-presidents; F. F. Seavers, secretary; C. W. Vunk, assistant secretary; A. S. Hart, treasurer; Ed. Schoel, superintendent; and executive board, R. W. Hutchins, M. D. Hammel, L. S. Moebel, Charles Collins, A. A. Hulbert, and Frank C. Daniels.

Miss Alice Farnworth, a student at the University of Oregon, arrived in Albany this morning and will visit for a few days at the home of her uncle, W. H. Hornbrook.

Whit Crawford, a well known farmer residing at Lawson in this county, arrived in Albany this afternoon on the Lebanon train and is looking after business matters here.

BREWERY SIGN PAINTED OVER AFTER MIDNIGHT

Words "Brewery Association" Missing from Building at Ninth and Lyon Sts.

Shortly after the town clock had pealed forth last night announcing the fact that midnight had arrived, three men were seen to place a ladder against the south side of the old brewery building at the corner of Lyon and Ninth streets.

What the men were doing was not ascertained until after daylight this morning when it was discovered that the words "Brewery Association," which formed a portion of the advertisement of the Salem Brewing Assn., the owners of the building, had been painted over with the exception of the letter "B" in brewery. The parties who painted the sign over had been evidently scared away before completing their work.

This is the second time the words "brewery association" have been painted over since the ad was placed on the building three years ago.

ALBANY MAY HAVE MODERN RETAIL CREAM STORE SOON

New Manager of Klock Produce Company Announces Plans of His Firm.

That Albany will have a modern retail cream store in the near future, was the announcement made to the Democrat representative this morning by E. M. Biddings of Portland, who arrived here today to assume the management of the branch house of the Klock Produce company of Portland, which is located at the corner of Fifth and Jackson streets.

According to the present plans, the building will be enlarged and a retail store installed in the building on the Fifth street side where cheese, butter, egg, poultry, cream, etc., may be purchased. The retail store will be similar to those conducted in the large cities by the various creamery associations and will be strictly modern and up-to-date.

Mr. Biddings, the new manager of the Albany branch of the Klock Produce company, has been connected with the Washington Creamery Co. of Portland for some months past, and is thoroughly conversant with the cream and produce business.

George J. Cook, who has managed the local house for the past year, has been promoted to the management of the Portland house and will leave with his family for Portland this evening where he will make his future home. Mr. Cook has made many friends during his stay in this city and he takes with him the best wishes of Albany people, who will regret to learn that he and his family are to leave this city.

25 CAR LOADS OF SPUDS SHIPPED FROM ALBANY

J. L. Johnson, of this city, has shipped 25 cars of potatoes to Northern California points from this vicinity. The potato crop is unusually good this year, but the growers need some good weather to condition the ground so digging may be resumed.

Dr. J. H. Robinson of this city left this morning for Brownsville where he was called on professional business. He will return home this evening.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS THE FLOWER SHOW

Excellent Program Presented at the Armory and Each Number Received Applause.

STANDING ROOM AT A PREMIUM LAST NIGHT OF SHOW

Art Exhibit Attracts Unusual Attention; All Booths Artistically Decorated.

One of the best programs ever presented to an Albany audience marked the close of the third annual Chrysanthemum Show at the Armory last evening. Every seat in the large building was occupied and standing room was at a premium. Each number of the program was applauded by an enthusiastic and appreciative audience and it was the unanimous verdict of those in attendance that it was the best show of its kind in the history of Albany.

The art exhibit in charge of Mrs. Franklin, Miss Nutting and Mrs. Geselbrach attracted more than usual interest. The series of water color paintings exhibited by Prof. Booth of the Art Institute of Pacific College, San Jose, California, and explained by the ladies in charge of the booth, were particularly fine.

All of the various booths were artistically decorated and the ladies in charge are deserving of no little praise.

The program presented last night was as follows:
Piano solo, Hazel Hockensmith; Dolls Drill, ten second grade Central school children, assisted by Miss Kilby; duet, by Nels and Mazie Wheeler; Japanese drill, solo, by John Bass; chorus, by Girls' Glee Club of Central school; song, by Mary, Henrietta and Jane Davis; piano solo, Laura Nickerson.
