

MRS. GILHAM FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Says She Was Compelled to Wash for Living Though Husband Earned $90 Per Month.

ALLEGES HE THREATENED TO SHOOT HER LAST SUMMER

Wants Court to Grant Her Sum of Money to Defray Expenses of Suit During Pendency.

That she was compelled to labor at washing, scrubbing, and ironing in order to secure money with which to buy her clothing and household supplies although her husband was receiving a monthly salary of $90, are some of the allegations made by Mrs. Millie Gilham of this city who today filed suit in the county clerk's office against her husband, William L. Gilham, for a divorce.

Mrs. Gilham also alleges in her complaint that her husband would become violently angry at her when she asked him for money and that he would call her vile names and tell her to earn money and pay the bills. Mrs. Gilham alleges that on one occasion when she was sick and unable to get up and prepare his breakfast, her husband became very mad and said: "For five cents I would get my gun and shoot you."

Mrs. Gilham further alleges that her husband became angry with her during the month of August and began scolding about the house for a girl saying that he was going to kill her, and that by reason of his threats she was forced to remain outside the house until 3 o'clock in the morning when she would return home. She alleges that as a result of his threats and in fear that he would do her bodily harm, she left on December 7 and has not returned.

She alleges that her husband owns property in Eugene and in Marion county which was secured through their combined labors and savings since their marriage, and asks the court to give her an undivided one-third interest in the property. She says that she has no money to defray the expenses of the suit or to live with and asks the court to compel the defendant to pay her the sum of $150 for her support during the pendency of the suit and an additional $150 to carry the suit through. She also asks that the court allow her such alimony as he thinks is just and reasonable. Hewitt & Sox appear for the plaintiff.

BROWNSVILLE NEWS

The Brownsville Warehouse Company shipped one carload of hay to Oakridge, one carload of hay to Salem, and two cars of hay to Portland this week.

The first scene of the Cantata, "Jeptha's Daughter," is worth the price of admission. Tabernacle next Wednesday night.

Chas. Staudish is now proprietor of the box ball alley, having purchased the same from J. E. Davis last week. Mr. Staudish took possession Monday.

Paul Loucks left Thursday for Sweet Home where he will assist Rev. Chas. A. Phipps in holding a Sunday school institute at that place and at Seio, Sodaville and Crawfordsville.

Mrs. Nellie Chandler was brought down from Holley Tuesday suffering with appendicitis and taken to Albany Wednesday, where, with the assistance of Dr. Howard, of this city, an operation was performed yesterday.

Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Jones, who have been conducting a series of meetings at Wilbur, returned home Monday evening. They left yesterday for Oakland, Oregon, where they will engage in revival meetings for several weeks.

Last week we mentioned the fact that evergreen blackberries were ripening and thought it a pretty good stunt for this time of year. Yesterday Miss Daphne Holloway brought in a branch from a raspberry bush containing a number of ripe berries grown on the Robert Sayer place on the South Side. Can you beat it?

It cost Will Elmore, referee at the Thanksgiving football game, $5 and costs in the municipal court for the fun of slapping Reynolds off the field during the game for disturbing the game. Reynolds swore out a complaint against Elmore following the game for assault and battery. Mr. Elmore made the mistake of assuming the duty that the city marshal should have performed.

Ira Hutchings, manager of the Brownsville Cannery, informs the Times that during the canning season just closed they put up 2608 bushels of apples which cost the company $902. This is pretty good for the first year under the new management. Next year will see an increase.—Times.

The grade on Water street is rapidly being completed by the force of men employed by the Oregon Electric railway. It has already been brought up about five feet.

Mark Weatherford returned home last evening from Gilliam county where he attended court at Condon. He also visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Weatherford at Olex.

WILL PLACE CLUSTER LIGHTS ON BROADALBIN STREET

First National and Other Property Owners Strongly in Favor of Lighting Program.

Irrespective of whether or not a uniform system of cluster lights is adopted throughout the entire business section of the city, the First National bank and other property owners on the west side of Broadalbin street propose to place these lights in front of the property just as soon as the new First National building is completed.

In speaking of the matter this morning, A. C. Schmitt, vice-president of the First National bank, stated that he had already talked with Mr. Young of the firm of Young & Son and other property owners on Broadalbin street in regard to the matter and that they are all agreeable to the plan. Cluster lights will also be placed in front of the First Savings bank which is owned by the same stockholders as the First National.

"I am thoroughly in accord with the cluster light program," said Mr. Schmitt, "and am of the opinion that they should be provided throughout the entire business section of the city. It is the only proper system of lighting a modern city and Albany should lose no time in making the innovation."

OAKVILLE WOMAN GIVEN A DIVORCE THIS WEEK BY COURT

Emma Barrette was this week granted a divorce from Edward A. Barrette by Judge William Galloway. Mrs. Barrette alleged in her complaint that her husband treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner and at her home near Oakville called her vile names and cast reflections on her relatives saying that they were penniless.

She alleged that her husband was domineering and that as a result of his actions, her brothers left the farm which left her without anyone to assist her in the work.

She also alleges that he spent some of her money for foolish things including life insurance, and that he also wanted to sell her farm and divide the proceeds with him. They were married at Reno, Nevada, on July 2, 1910. McFadden and Clarke of Corvallis appeared for the plaintiff.

LODGE OFFERS REWARD FOR JOHN C. MORGAN WHO IS LOST

The Crawfordsville lodge of Odd-fellows have offered a reward of $100 for anyone finding John C. Morgan, dead or alive.

Morgan disappeared on October 28, when accompanied by two other men from Crawfordsville, he went to the mountains along the upper Calapooia river, on a hunting trip. He became separated from the other members of his party and no trace has been found of him since, it being supposed that he has perished from cold and hunger.

Searching parties scoured the mountains for days following his disappearance but without avail.

SOCIETY.

Gertie Taylor, Society Editor.

The Monday Club was entertained this week at the home of Professor and Mrs. Franklin. This club consists of the members of the College faculty, the college trustees and their wives and a few of the townspeople.

President Crooks organized the club in the autumn of 1906 and it is on the literary order. Last Monday Dr. White presided and the following program was carried out: Major Winn discussed in a well-written paper, "The High Cost of Living," treating the subject in a comprehensive way from many points of view; A. C. Schmitt and C. E. Sox led the discussion which was participated in by Dr. Ellis and Dr. Hunt and Professors Sharp, Flo, Irvine, White, Franklin, and others. The club, the forum of many a warmly contested argument has seldom had a more animated discussion than this subject aroused.

Opinions ranged from the non-existence of comparatively high cost of living in any items to the dominance nearly everywhere of the fact of greatly increased cost. After the discussions a very elaborate lunch was served and the meeting was proclaimed one of the best yet. The roll of this club is: Miss Blackwell, Miss Irvine, Miss Mason, President and Mrs. Crooks, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Elliott, Dr. M. H. Ellis, Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Ferguson, Prof. and Mrs. Hans Flo, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Dr. and Mrs. Geselbracht, Judge and Mrs. C. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Irvine, Dr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Schmitt, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sox, Major and Mrs. C. B. Winn, Dr. W. P. White and Professor O. V. White.

Dr. and Mrs. Tracy gave an enjoyable dinner last Sunday evening. The table was artistically decorated in chrysanthemums and many delicacies were brought forth. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Swan.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church met for a social gathering with Mrs. D. P. Mason on Wednesday afternoon. The way of entertainment was the "Suggestions for Xmas" contest, and refreshments were served.

The Alpha Omega Club met Friday evening for dinner with Miss Julia Crowell.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR FILES SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY

A. W. McGilvery Who Constructed Addition to Laundry Wants Pay for Work Done.

A. W. McGilvery, the local contractor, today filed suit in the circuit court in this city to recover $570.90 which he claims is due him for the construction of an addition to the east side of the Magnolia Laundry during the month of October.

The defendants in the suit are Mrs. M. E. Watson and children of Eugene who are owners of the property occupied by the laundry.

McGilvery alleges that he made an agreement with A. L. Simpson, the tenant, who conducts the laundry, to construct an addition to the east side of the building and to furnish the labor and material for the construction of the same as well as to the painting of the building for which he was to receive an additional 10 per cent.

McGilvery alleges that he performed the work according to the contract and that no portion of the bill of $570.90 has yet been paid.

ENJOYS CHICKEN DINNER BEFORE HIS EXECUTION

Negro Also Calls for Ragtime; Phonograph Reproduces Bryan's Speech.

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 6.—Edward Delhantie, negro, paid the penalty today for the murder of William Kauffman, a convict in Folsom state prison, by hanging. He walked to death apparently with no fear in his heart and with the noose around his neck, addressed the spectators, then bade the hangman do his duty.

Delhantie asked for his favorite dish last night—chicken. Then he asked for music—not sacred music, nor soft music, but ragtime of rag time.

Not satisfied with chicken and song, Delhantie called for the prison phonograph and listened to William J. Bryan's speech on "Immortality."

Delhantie then asked for a blank record and sang "Always Keep on the Sunny Side" into the machine and had it reproduced for him.

He was sentenced to 14 years in San Quentin for a criminal assault. He stabbed Kaufman with a small knife, through jealousy over a prison play. The California law makes an attack upon a fellow convict punishable by death.

Delhantie's mother was burned to death in a race riot at Joplin, Mo., in 1903, and Delhantie swore vengeance on all whites after that time. It was because of this threat that he first got into trouble.

THE NEW NIGHT MEN ARE NOW ON THEIR BEAT

At 12 o'clock last night Officers Chas. T. Thrasher and John Catlin, recently appointed as night men on the Albany police force to hold office until the regular appointments were made, surrendered their badges of authority and were replaced by J. Q. Rodgers and A. B. Marshall, who will hereafter serve as night men under Chief of Police Austin.

Mrs. O. D. Austin and sister Mrs. Ballantyne entertained on Saturday afternoon. The guests of honor were Mrs. Jones of Salem, mother of the ladies, and Mrs. Ballantyne of Tacoma. An excellent musical program was rendered and choice refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bain entertained with a dinner party on Thursday evening. A beautiful bowl of red carnations centered the table around which Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson, George Martin, George Taylor, Mrs. George Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Bain sat. An excellent eight course dinner was served by the Misses Bain and Taylor, after which a few games of 500 were enjoyed.

The Actma Auction Bridge Club met with Mrs. Bowersox this week. Mrs. J. K. Haight reached the high score of 888.

A large reception was tendered Father Lane by the people of his church on Tuesday evening to welcome him home from his extended trip abroad. While in Europe Father Lane visited the principal cities and was given two audiences with Pope Pius X.—a public and a private audience. The entertainment of the evening was a short program and a dainty lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Marks entertained the Wednesday Embroidery Club on Wednesday afternoon.

The ladies of St. Peter's Episcopal Guild are working overtime in preparing for their annual Xmas bazaar, and every woman in Albany should avail themselves of this opportunity to pick up dainty home made articles. There will also be a most tempting domestic booth besides a booth of home made candies.

A LINN PIONEER IS DEAD IN PORTLAND

Former Mayor of Lebanon Is Called by Death While in Metropolis.

FUNERAL OF LATE C. B. MONTAGUE WILL BE WEDNESDAY

Was One of Leading Citizens of Linn County and Active in Politics.

According to a telegram received by the Democrat at 3 p. m. today, C. B. Montague, a pioneer of Linn county and a well known resident of Lebanon, passed away in Portland this morning, aged 83 years.

The deceased was an Englishman by birth and for a number of years served in the British army, having been a member of the infantry that supported the famous Light brigade.

He located in Lebanon when that place was little more than a trading post on the frontier and engaged in the mercantile business. During his residence there he served as mayor of Lebanon, and later as a member of the state legislature and as clerk of the courts. He retired some years ago from active business and has been in ill health for some time.

He leaves to mourn his death a wife and five children, including a large circle of friends in Linn county, and in fact throughout the entire Willamette Valley. The funeral will be held at the Presbyterian church at Lebanon on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Hodges, prosperous farmers of North Benton county, were in Albany this morning on a short shopping trip. While here they visited with their daughter, Miss Helen, who is employed at the Crest confectionery.

Mayor J. Fred Yates of Corvallis was in Albany yesterday on a short visit with relatives and friends. He was registered at the Van Dran hotel.

Miss Adele Vollandst who is attending the Oregon Agricultural College, passed through Albany this morning to Lebanon where she will spend a few days visiting at her home in that vicinity.

UNIVERSITY COEDS HELP MAKE PROPERTIES OF CLUB

Many Stunts Being Prepared By Glee Club for Concert Here on Friday.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., Dec. 8.—Even the co-eds at the University of Oregon have been enlisted in the work of making properties for the Glee Club which gives its annual concert in Albany next Friday.

There are little doll-like effects which are being artistically dressed in Oregon colors to be used in one of the stunts of Professor Oregonus, "the world-renowned ventrilquist." Wig, a Prince Albert coat, face grease, a collapsible table, a fat man's dress, a football, and a football suit are some of the articles which have been demanded of the manager during the last week.

In addition to the sketches of college life and stunts for which the men have been preparing the main brand of the events programmed is that of up-to-date music, full of life. The boys have been practicing on their songs since the beginning of the semester in September and have them learned. Director Bowman feels that he has a well balanced blub and expects that the rendition of the songs will be most meritorious.

The addition of Bob Farris to the tenor section since the close of football season has been a big help. Farris played guard on the team and was unable to practice until after the season closed with the Thanksgiving game with the Multnomah club in Portland. Farris will take part in a football sketch in which Vernon Vawter of Medford is pictured as the unfortunate who missed the game with O. A. C. in Albany on account of posts for lo vgrades.

TRACKLAYING IS BEGUN ON ALBANY-CORVALLIS LINK

Operations Commenced Last Week at Gray Station, Six Miles South of Albany.

Tracklaying on the Albany-Corvallis link of the Oregon Electric railway was commenced last week and is progressing rapidly with indications of being completed shortly after the first of the year. The tracklaying operations were begun at Gray station, formerly Blevins, and about a half a mile a day is being laid.

Thirty-one new passenger coaches which have been ordered by the Oregon Electric railway for use on its lines in the Willamette Valley will arrive in Portland about February 1st and will be placed in service at once. On next Sunday a new schedule will go into effect on the Oregon Electric, adding another train between Albany and Portland, but leaving the same number of trains between this city and Eugene.

The new schedule will be so arranged that the people of Junction City and Harrisburg and the other local points can come to this city to trade and have several hours to spend in this city. The new train between this city and Portland will probably be known as Nos. 13 and 14.

The Oregon Electric company is now operating its freight trains through the valley with electric motors instead of steam engines. A through freight leaves Portland every night at 8 o'clock, arriving at Albany at 2 a. m. and Eugene at 5 a. m.

DRAINAGE LEGISLATION WILL BE DISCUSSED TONIGHT

Linn County Delegation to the State Legislation Will Attend Commercial Club Meeting.

The Linn county delegation to the state legislature and members of the county court are expected to be present this evening at the regular meeting of the Commercial Club for the purpose of discussing plans for drainage legislation for the Willamette Valley.

The matter of securing an adequate appropriation for the Oregon exhibit at the Panama exposition will also be discussed at the club meeting and some recommendations will doubtless be made to the delegation from this county.

Alice Gerlach of Corvallis spent Sunday in this city.
