

FIREMEN DRILL IS WITNESSED BY MANY

Water Is Thrown From Roof of Three Story Building Three Minutes After Alarm.

MAYOR GILBERT TURNS IN CALL FROM HIS RESIDENCE

Efficiency of the Department Is Clearly Demonstrated by Work Last Evening.

Within a trifle over three minutes from the time Mayor Gilbert sent in the alarm over the Pacific telephone from his residence on South Ferry street last evening, the members of the local fire department had carried a line of hose to the top of the 3-story Oddfellow's temple at the corner of First and Ferry streets and were throwing water into the street below.

The exact time that was required by the firemen to get all the apparatus on the scene and send a stream of water from the top of the building was three minutes and twelve seconds, which is remarkably fast time and proves without doubt that the members of the local fire department are rapidly becoming proficient in their work.

Within a few seconds after the sounding of the alarm last evening the engine drawn by one of the best teams of horses in the state and driven by John Spooner, drove into sight at the corner of First and Lyon streets, and came up First street on a dead run, the horses doing their best.

At nearly the same time that the engine arrived upon the scene the hose wagons arrived and the hose was connected to the engine and taken up the ladders to the top of the building where a minute later water was gushing from the nozzle.

Besides showing the efficiency of the local fire department, the drill last evening also demonstrated to advantage the new system of turning in a fire alarm by telephone. By this method the person turning in the alarm gives his name and telephone number to the operator and the nearest cross street to which the fire is located. The person calling is connected with the chief engineer to whom the information is given direct. He is then able to direct the firemen the exact direction to take, thus saving much time and confusion.

Both of the local telephone companies are now connected with the fire alarm system and subscribers desiring to turn in an alarm should remember to do it thusly: Call central in the ordinary way, giving her your name and telephone number. Then the nearest cross street location to the fire.

For example—"This is John Morgan, telephone number 2345-J or 2433. There is a fire at Ninth and Elm streets." If the residents will remember this it will be of great assistance to the firemen and will promote the efficiency of the department.

Despite the stormy weather, a large crowd witnessed the drill by the firemen last evening and the work of the boys was complimented by many. The new auto chemical recently purchased by the city will arrive here sometime next month and will be placed in commission immediately. It is of the "White" make and 40 horse power.

HUNGRY MAN STEALS FAMILY MEAT SUPPLY YESTERDAY

Residence of Henry Main Was Entered by Stranger Who Had Been Refused a Meal.

Chief of Police Austin reports that yesterday noon a stranger entered the kitchen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Main at First and Main streets in this city and made away with the meat supply of the family. The local police were notified of the theft and made a search of the northeastern section of the city in hope of apprehending the man but were unsuccessful.

The man had applied at the residence during the forenoon for something to eat and had been refused. During the noon hour while the members of the family were in the front part of the house he returned and ransacked the kitchen taking away several juicy steaks with the intention of having a little feed in the woods all by himself.

CHARLEY CLINE SPECIAL ENVOY FOR MALHEUR JUDGE

Delivers Child to Boys and Girls Aid Society; Child Calls Him "Papa" on Train.

While in Vale this week where he was called as a witness in a criminal case, Charles O. Cline of this city, was made a minister plenipotentiary and extraordinary by County Judge George McKnight of Malheur county who is also a brother of D. B. McKnight, county judge of Linn county, residing in Albany.

Cline had transacted business in Vale and was making preparations to start for his home in this city, when he was asked by Judge McKnight if he would take a dependent child to the Boys' and Girls Aid Society in Portland. As it was necessary for Cline to pass through Portland enroute to this city, he consented to look after the infant and accordingly took charge of the youngster.

On the way to Portland, Cline's protegee took quite a fancy to his guardian and before the city was reached was calling him "papa." The other passengers in the Pullman in which Cline was traveling soon became acquainted with the facts in the case, and they, too, began calling Charley "papa."

However, Cline is good-natured and stood the jests of his fellow passengers in the best of spirit and says he rather enjoys acting in the capacity of guardian pro tem.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Liberty of individuals to concentrate money and power to the limit of their ability was advocated here today before the house money trust investigating committee by Jacob H. Schiff, of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

Mr. Schiff declared individuals should be permitted to exert their utmost effort to concentrate fortunes and power until the laws of nature caused the attempted monopoly to "fall of its own weight." He opposed however, concentration through corporation and holding companies. He would not say whether concentration had yet reached the point where it was dangerous from remarrying in this state.

REPRESENTATIVE PORTER OF LINN RESEMBLES LINCOLN

Speaker McArthur Discovers Likeness in Rep. Porter; Keeps Tradition.

The following special dispatch from Salem appeared in last night's issue of the Oregon Journal:

No legislature, taking them by and large, is complete without its Abraham Lincoln. The House has already discovered the Lincoln of this session and is correspondingly soothed and pleased.

Representative F. H. Porter of Linn is the legislative Lincoln in question. The likeness between Porter and Lincoln is quite marked in many respects, notably height. Porter requires a' the space between his chair and his desk, and considerable in addition, for his legs when he sits down. At that he has to double them up under him like two blades of a jackknife.

Speaker McArthur was the first to hail Porter as the house Lincoln. The speaker told the secret to some one else. It spread fast. Now half the membership has detected the resemblance and the other half will see it as soon as everybody is acquainted.

One of Porter's colleagues from Linn, Representative Charles Childs, is probably the youngest member of the house, having just passed his twenty-eighth birthday. Childs is so youthful in appearance that on two occasions he has been shooed away from the speaker's desk and directed to distribute printed bills on the desks of the members, in the belief that he was a page.

A Fine New Station Is Being Erected by the Oregon Electric.

That the officials of the Oregon Electric railway expect the new station of Gray on the main line of the Oregon Electric, to be a point of no little importance, is indicated by the fine new depot which is now in the course of construction at that point. The new building is being constructed on the bungalow order and is nearly completed.

HAIR TONIC DRUNK PROVES FATAL FOR DAYTON BARBER

J. C. Kirkman, Addicted to the Liqueur Habit, Is Dead at Iowa Home.

Dayton, Ia., Jan. 17.—A hair tonic drunk, in lieu of the regulation kind, proved fatal to J. C. Kirkman, forty-year-old barber residing in Dayton. Kirkman had been addicted for many years to the use of liquor. Because he could procure none and was crazed with the desire for it, he has of late been drinking hair tonic in which there is a certain per cent of alcohol. Day before yesterday he had exhausted his certain supply of one make of the tonic and began drinking another kind. He consumed a great deal of it according to reports. Then he became very ill and the work of physicians did not avail to save his life. He died yesterday morning.

Dr. J. L. Hill of this city left this morning for Lebanon where he will spend the day looking after business matters. The Dr. is thinking of selling his Albany houses and taking life easy in the future. At present much of his time is required in looking after nearly fifty dwellings.

An entertaining program will be given at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Jan. 19th, at 5 o'clock. A complete program will appear in Saturday's issue of the Democrat.
