DUN'S WEEKLY REPORT ON BUSINESS CONDITIONS

The following is the weekly report on business conditions as reprinted from Dun's Review:

"Trade in most important branches continues to show a satisfactory gain over last year in volume of transactions. Business sentiment, however, while confident, is conservative. A notable development is the marked increase in railroad activity. While track construction is at low ebb, the railroads are, with conspicuous energy, adding to their rolling stock and extending their terminal and other facilities for handling both freight and passengers. This creates a notable demand for iron and steel, which now constitutes the most important factor in that trade. Railroad earnings continue large, the record of gross earnings for the first week of January showing a gain of 11.6 per cent.— the largest increase in over a year —but this in part is accounted for by the weather conditions, which are exceptionally favorable for railroad traffic. The copper trade is the only great industry which does not report current improvement. The dry goods market is not only more active than last year, but enjoys a satisfactory outlook for the coming months.
The shoe trade also improves, with a prospect of still larger business. Bank clearings this week increased 7.5 per cent. and 12.6 per cent., respectively, over the preceding two years. The wheat and cotton markets displayed considerable irregularity. Foreign commerce statistics continue to make a remarkable exhibit of expansion in our trade with other countries. During the latest week the exports from New York totaled the large sum of $24,499,388, which was not only $7,000,000 more than the corresponding weeks of 1912 and 1911, but was nearly $6,000,000 in excess of the imports.

In the iron and steel trade the feature is the demand for rolling stock and other railroad necessities. The scarcity of crude material is pronounced and premiums are paid with increasing frequency. Numerous inquiries have been made for steel plates for delivery in the last half of the year, but makers are reluctant to contract far ahead, owing to the congested condition of the mills. Official quotations for steel bars, shapes and plates are not changed, but market prices for available tonnage show an upward trend, with a range as high as $1.75 for prompt shipments. Common iron bars rule at $1.75 and $1.80, Pittsburgh; black sheets No. 28 at $2.35, and galvanized at $3.50, while tin plate is strong. Shipyards are well employed and fair activity prevails in structural material. Merchant pig iron is sold well ahead, but considerable business is being figured on for the second and third quarters. In eastern, Pennsylvania conditions are quieter, while in the West weakness in southern foundry iron is reported. Production of coke barely equals the demand and spot coke is very firm at $4 for the furnace grade."

The Parcel Post and Newspaper.

Twenty years ago newspaper advertising was regarded as a luxury in which only the largest mercantile establishments might indulge. Today it is universally regarded as a necessity and is figured by the average business man as an essential part of his operating expenses.

That the parcel post will stimulate newspaper advertising and impress upon every merchant the absolute necessity of purchasing space in the local newspapers, is indicated by the following editorial which is reprinted from the San Francisco Examiner:

"Now that the government has established the parcel post the opportunity of the country editor and his value to the national and to the local advertiser are multiplied by ten.

"With the parcel post properly developed, properly understood, and properly utilized, every small storkeeper in the country possesses to all intents and purposes a delivery system as complete as that of the great city merchants.

"And what is infinitely more important to the local editor, every local editor is the center of a great national distributing agency. He is the owner and controller of his own 'zone.'" The parcel post divided into zones is a bad idea. There should be only one zone, and that should be the nation.

"But the individual zone of the individual editor is a very good thing, a fortunate thing for him, since it means that he alone possesses the power to put manufacturers, merchants, and all that advertise in immediate contact with a certain class of readers whom he alone can address personally every day or every week and to whom the United States will immediately deliver parcels, or order as a result of intelligent advertising."

"With a parcel post working thoroughly, with the national advertiser, concerning the value of the rural press, the prosperity of country editors will be increased vastly. The net annual profit from every copy of a well managed country newspaper will be at least $6.

"And before ten years shall have passed, the man who owns a country newspaper with a thousand circulation, who possesses the confidence and the approval of his several thousand readers, will make as the selling agent of the nation, the personal representative of the manufacturer in one thousand families, a net annual profit of at least six to ten thousand dollars a year. That is what we hope for and confidently predict."
"The local press thus well rewarded will be the permanent safeguard of republican government and the educator of the people."

Herman Wise.

In our judgment, no man in the state is better qualified for the position of Collector of Internal Revenue than Herman Wise of Astoria.

The following from the Astoria Budget so nearly expresses our own views on this subject that we reprint the same in full:

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant! This is what all Oregon says about our fellow townsman, Ex-Mayor Herman Wise, whose position in the ranks of democracy has reached a point wherein he becomes the logical successor for the office of Internal Revenue Collector under the administration of President Wilson.

"Our good friend Colonel Dunne has served long and faithfully in the capacity of internal revenue collector.
He concedes that there will be a change and the rightful person to be his successor is Herman Wise of As-toria."

"Big of heart, energetic in action, prolific in wisdom, wise in counsel, good to his friends and full of resolute ideas for the state and nation, Herman Wise has become a personal resource in Oregon.

"The rank and file of democracy is behind this man for appointment to the office he seeks and has earned.
By precept and example he has lived a long and useful life, served the public interest with zeal and capacity as mayor of Astoria, postmaster under the Cleveland administration, and was with the Oregon delegation in the Baltimore convention straight in the Wilson column until the report echoed around the world—success."

"Oregon needs live men. Wise is a live one by instinct and profession.
No other single individual has done more to advertise Oregon and paid the expense out of his own pocket, than Herman Wise. He is a thoroughbred, whether at work or at play.
He can see an idea through a four-inch plank, and then knows how to apply it. He is one of the biggest little men in the West. Whenever he has held a public office he has always shown capacity enough to not only do his own duty but aid those under him to earn their pay. Because of his mental activity and foresight he has accomplished much good for the state; he can do more. He is willing to serve the people and the great state of Oregon will profit by his influence.
Being in the prime of life, and knowing men and measures so well fits him particularly for the position of internal revenue collector."

"The commercial interests of the state can well afford to go behind Herman Wise and secure his services.
In the federal position which he seeks, there is no man better qualified to serve the national government, the state he represents and the people he is to serve."
"Let Herman Wise be the one candidate for the office in Oregon and let the solid business men of the state stand back of him. His service to the state will be worth more toward the development of the commercial interests than the salary he receives."

Tom Cummings, a former resident of Albany, arrived in Albany this morning from Los Angeles, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. D. Bussard to this city. After leaving here several years ago, Mr. Cummings and family moved to Texas. They are now enroute to Albany and will again make this city their home.

GOVERNOR GIVES HIS ULTIMATUM

Will Set Deadline on What the Legislature Can Spend; Veto Will Protect Treasury.

CHARTER WITH RED INK LIMITS FOR SOLONS' EYES

State Will Stand With Him, He Thinks, in His Fight for Economy.

Salem, Oregon, January 24.—
"I am going to draw a deadline
on appropriations. Above a certain amount nothing will receive my approval and I will stand up to that line to the end of the session. Let the legislature do what it will to the bills it has before it. My fun is yet to come."

Governor West this morning laid out the course he is to pursue in dealing with the two houses, and the plan of his opponents in trying to organize the two branches with a two-thirds majority to pass bills by wholesale over his veto. Such a combination is to be attempted, but it is far from certain that it will succeed.

He explained that he will place a chart drawn, which will be placed in a conspicuous place in the state house, on which a line will be drawn at the top. That line will be in red ink, and it will carry in figures the limit he is willing to go on appropriations at this session.

This chart will be prepared by next Monday, and each day the money bills will be chucked up on it. As the bills become laws, the total will be shown, and after the deadline is reached, the veto ax will fall, whatever it may hit.

The governor indicated that he is ready for any move that may come. If the legislature is organized against him, he is prepared to slash right and left, and he is confident that the people of the state will stand behind him in what he conceives to be his duty to their interests.

The governor gave the lie to many of the stories that have been circulated. He denied he ever said that he would be satisfied if the legislature would sustain his veto on certain bills and then pass new bills in identical form out of the same effect.

He likewise denied that he had ever approved the Thompson swamp land bill as a member of the land board, declaring he always stood for the principle of sale in small tracts to actual settlers. And as to that Thompson bill he said: "If it were entitled, 'A bill to give so many acres to the Warner Valley Land company,' do you think it would be passed?"

"I have asked no member to sustain my vetoes, and I don't care what they say," he said. "I have told some members that if they wanted to play with a certain crowd when interests vital to the state are concerned, they need not expect the most favorable things from me when little bills of theirs come into my hands."

"I have drawn a number of bills dealing with public morals and regulation of vice and liquor interests. Let the legislature make its record. I will make mine. The credit for those bills is mine, whether they win or lose, and I believe the people of the state want that sort of legislation enacted. That is all I can say."

The battle is clearly drawn, and from now on there is to be no quarter.
This is the indication given on both sides.

But the fact remains that in the legislature are many non-combatants, who have voted for many of the vetted bills, but stand ready to support him on legislation demanded by the public opinion of the state.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS HELD MEETING LAST EVENING

Newly Elected Officers Were Installed Followed by Fine Social and Banquet.

The members of Camp Phillips, United Spanish War Veterans of this city, met last evening in their handsome clubrooms in the armory where the newly elected officers were installed, followed by a social session and banquet. The officers installed were: R. C. Churchill, commander; Alvin C. Baker, senior vice-commander; W. A. Salisbury, junior vice-commander; Frank C. Stuart, officer of the day; Titus Bierly, officer of the guard; Dr. M. H. Ellis, surgeon; Joseph E. Torbet, chaplain; Fred Westbrook, adjutant; and William W. Merrill, quartermaster. These officers were elected at the last meeting in December.

The local camp of veterans is one of the strongest organizations in the state and during the past year have been active in all matters of interest to the "boys of '98." Last year the local camp was successful in landing the state convention of the Spanish veterans and entertained the delegates in royal style, giving them automobile rides about the city and closing the sessions with a banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Richards of this city left Thursday for Laramie, Wyoming, upon receipt of a telegram announcing that Mr. Richards' father was seriously ill and not expected to live.

EMPLOYMENT OF ADDITIONAL NIGHT MAN IS URGED

Epidemic of Crime in Albany Alarms Business Men; Catlin Suggested.

An epidemic of crime which appears to be sweeping over Albany is causing no little uneasiness in local business circles and the demand is becoming urgent for the employment of an additional night man who understands all of the crooks and turns of an office of this character.

That the night force is unable to cope with the situation is admitted on all sides and many of the local merchants are advocating the employment of John Catlin as night policeman.

Catlin held this office for eight years and it is claimed that during that time Albany was the best policed city in the state.

While the mayor and members of the city council have authorized no public statement, it is understood that the situation is causing them no little concern.

RECEPTION WILL BE GIVEN NEW PASTOR WEDNESDAY

Albany People Will Meet Rev. F. W. Emerson and Members of His Family Next Week.

A public reception will be tendered on next Wednesday evening to Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Emerson at the First Christian church. Rev. Emerson recently accepted the pastorate of the Christian church of this city, and delivered his first sermon last Sunday.

Rev. Emerson who came to Albany from California, was for many years pastor of the First Christian church of San Francisco and also of that church in Topeka, Kansas. He has been prominent in religious work throughout the country and comes to this city well recommended as a pastor, preacher, lecturer, scholar, and citizen, and the members of the local church expect to experience a large growth under his leadership.

The reception on next Wednesday evening which will be held at the church, is given to give the people of this city an opportunity to meet the new pastor and the members of his family.

HOTEL HAMMEL WILL SOON BE READY FOR OPENING

Rooms Are Now Being Furnish- ed with Rich Furniture of Attractive Design.

The new 5-story Hammel hotel at the corner of Second and Lyon streets will soon be ready for the formal opening which will probably take place during the month of February.
The beautiful rooms of the new hostelry are now being furnished with rich furniture of mahogany, Circassian walnut, curly maple, and solid oak.

The rooms have been attractively tinted, some of them being in blue, others in brown and cream, and many other delicate and pleasing combinations of colors. The carpets are of the highest grade and of beautiful design and blend nicely with the woodwork.

The beds are of various designs in brass, Circassian walnut, oak, and maple and are more expensive than those in many of the leading hotels in Portland. The curtains and tapestries are of special designs and colors and the lighting fixtures are the best that money could buy.

Electric elevators, fire escapes on every floor, and many other modern and up-to-date innovations are features of the new hostelry that will soon be opened to the public. During the recent merchants' convention, sixty of the rooms in the new Hotel Hammel were in use and nothing but words of praise were heard from the people who had the pleasure of stopping there at that time.

WELL KNOWN ALBANY WOMAN PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Fuller Will Be Buried Here Tomorrow; Left Husband and Daughter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ellen Fuller, a well known resident of this city, passed away at her home in this city yesterday afternoon after a lingering illness at the age of 59 years, leaving to mourn her death, a husband, A. Fuller of this city; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Neely of this city; two step-sons, Walter and Robert Fuller of this city; and a step-daughter, Mrs. Robert Watson of Jefferson. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Gatts, of Lebanon.

The deceased was born in Hancock county, Illinois, and has been a resident of Oregon 38 years. She was formerly Mrs. Thomas Roberts of this city. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the family residence, 225 S. Calapooia street, and interment will take place in the City cemetery.

John M. French of this city left this morning for Portland where he will spend the day looking after business matters.

WYOMING MAN WILL MANAGE GOLDEN RULE

Concern Owned by J. C. Penny of Salt Lake City Will Locate Here.

That Charles H. Baker, manager of the store operated by the Golden Rule Syndicate at Cumberland, Wyoming, is slated for the same position when the concern opens its store in this city, became known today through parties who are close to the management.

The headquarters for the Golden Rule Merchantile company are at Salt Lake and J. C. Penney, a capitalist of that place, owns the controlling interest in the stock. This company now operates a chain of thirty stores in various western towns, and according to present plans, will be conducting forty-five by the first of April.

Just when the new establishment will be opened could not be learned but the negotiations for a building are said to be practically settled.

JURORS APPRECIATE JUDGE P. R. KELLY

They Pass Resolutions Ex- pressing Gratitude for Con- siderations Received.

The following resolutions were passed by the jurors serving the circuit court expressing thanks for kindness shown them by Judge Percy Kelly, says the Salem Statesman:

"We, the undersigned jurors, wish to express to Percy R. Kelly, judge of the circuit court, our sincere thanks for his kindness to us during the term of court just finished.

It is resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Judge Percy R.
Kelly.

Also that a copy of the same be sent to each of the daily papers for publication.

IDAHO MAN HELD UP IN DEPOT AT EUGENE LAST EVENING

Eight Dollars Secured by Bold Highwayman Who Is Caught Later at Springfield.

An exceedingly bold highwayman last evening robbed J. D. Forsythe, an Idaho man, as he was waiting for a Southern Pacific train, and escaped, says the Eugene Register. He was captured a few hours later at Springfield by Sheriff Parker, Deputy Sheriff Croner and a railroad detective.

The bandit, who goes by the name of "Shorty," because of his stature, entered the smoking room at 6:30 and after engaging Forsythe in conversation for a few minutes, pulled a short gun and demanded money. Forsythe immediately handed over his pocketbook.

"Is this all you've got?" demanded the holdup man.

When assured that it was, the bandit bucked hurriedly out of the room and escaped. There were two other men in the room, but they were not molested, neither did they attempt to tackle the man with the gun.

While the Eugene police searched the city, Sheriff Parker and Deputy Croner went to Springfield, taking with them a Swede who said he could identify the robber. And this he did very few minutes after reaching Springfield. The robber attempted to draw his gun, but the officers were too quick. He had been working fit-tfully at a Springfield cafe and had a room in a lodging house there.

Mr. Forsythe went on to Creswell where he is visiting friends.

HARRISBURG MAN PLEADED GUILTY TO ASSAULT

Arrested by John Catlin and Arraigned Before Justice of the Peace Swan.

Charged with assault and battery on the person of John J. Brown, Leslie Perkins of Harrisburg was yesterday arrested by Constable John Catlin and brought to Albany where he was arraigned before Justice Swan and entered a plea of guilty to the complaint. He was fined five dollars and costs.

It seems that Perkins was employed by John Gosser of Harrisburg and that the latter and John Brown had an altercation over the removal of some cordwood. Perkins engaged in the controversy and the assault followed.

MANY ROBBERIES IN THIS CITY LATELY

Four Residences Entered Here Within Two Weeks and Many Valuable Articles Taken.

POLICE APPEAR POWERLESS TO COPE WITH SITUATION

No Arrests Have Been Made in Any of the Cases and People Talk of More Policemen.

During the past few weeks, a wave of crime has swept over this city and many homes have been entered during the absence of the owners and articles of wearing apparel and jewelry to the value of several hundred dollars taken, and so far the local police force seems powerless to handle the situation. That the thefts are being committed by a gang of idle men that are now passing through the valley is the opinion of many local people, and steps are now being taken toward securing protection to the residents of this city. All of the robberies have been daring ones and no arrests have been made so far in any of the cases.

Within the past ten days there have been two daring burglaries in the city and on both occasions the thief made good his escape after looting two homes in Albany and carrying away articles valued at many dollars.

The first robbery occurred on Tuesday at the residence of Prof. E. L.
Wilson on Ferry street, while the family was away from the house attending the concert given by Miss Olga Steeb at the armory. The thief forced an entrance to the residence and after ransacking the place and turning everything topsy-turvy, left the place taking with him a suit of clothes, a raincoat, a razor, and several pieces of jewelry belonging to Mrs. and Mr.
Wilson. The police officers were notified of the burglary but were unable to apprehend the thief who has made good his escape.

On the same night or early the next morning, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Senders at 418 West Fifth street was broken into while the members of the family were in Portland visiting friends. When Mr. and Mrs.
Senders returned home on Thursday evening they found everything in the house in a state of disorder, various articles being strewn about the house and indicating that the thief or thieves had made a thorough search of the entire house.

As far as Mr. Senders was able to ascertain, the only articles that are missing are a revolver and case and a safety razor, the latter being a present to him from his wife. This robbery has also been reported to the police and although forty-eight hours have elapsed, no results have been obtained and the thief is still at large.

Two weeks ago today, the residence of Fred Harris at the corner of Hill and First streets was entered while Mr. and Mrs. Harris were absent during the evening at the theatre. They were returning home shortly after 9 o'clock and after entering the house by the front door, heard someone walking about on the second floor.
Mr. Harris sent his wife to the home of a neighbor to turn in a police alarm, intending to prevent the thief from escaping until assistance arrived.

The thief, however, made good his escape through the kitchen window, jumping to the ground several feet below. While attempting to scale a back fence he left behind a pair of trousers belonging to Mr. Harris. The burglar made good his escape carrying away with him a ladies gold watch, three rings, an Ellis pin set with a diamond, some cuff links, a suit of clothes, some underwear and several dollars in money. The police have investigated this case but have been unable to make any arrests in connection with the theft.

Less than ten days ago, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Main at the corner of First and Main streets was entered at noon while the members of the family were in the front part of the house, and the family meat supply was stolen from the kitchen. The police were notified and were on the ground soon afterward but after making a search of that part of the city were unable to find the thief.

The residence of James Coon in the vicinity of this city was also entered this week and several articles taken.
Besides these robberies, many residents are also complaining of having their milk taken from their porches and many bicycles have disappeared during the past few months.

This unusually large number of robberies is causing the people of this city to become alarmed and the inability of the local police to cope with the situation is causing talk among the residents of petitioning the council to employ the services of additional police. The people of Albany are warned to keep their doors securely locked at night and to keep articles that they don't want stolen under lock and key, for there is a large number of idle men floating through the valley right now, committing all kinds of thievery.

Dr. J. A. Donaghe, one of the leading veterinary surgeons of Pendleton, is in Albany looking the field over with the idea of locating. He is exceptionally well impressed with the city.
C. H. Stewart left this morning on a short trip to Portland. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Kate, and the Misses Lucille Hart and Teller of this city.
H. E. Hodges, editor of the Silverton Appeal, is transacting business in Albany today. While here he paid a visit to the Democrat office.
