

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Captain C. H. Thompson returned from Spokane this week.

W. S. Bowers; of Baker City, was among the visitors in Sumpter this week.

Subscribers to the Seattle Times can get their papers by calling at Folsom's news stand.

R. R. Erwin returned from Portland Friday. He is at the mine near Susanville this week.

Dr. E. M. Anderson, a new arrival from Portland, is here with the intention of locating permanently.

Cecil Hoseason has opened a well appointed fish and poultry market on Center street, opposite McEwen's barn.

E. A. Smith, who left here some days since to expert a mine in southern Oregon, is reported to be at the point of death in Portland.

Monday's business at the postoffice was the largest in the history of that office, being $13.73. A number of boxes are being put in and the quarters enlarged.

Dr. J. E. Pilkington, a former resident of Portland, came up Tuesday evening and states his intention of locating here to practice his profession.

T. Culbertson received a few days since the sad intelligence of the death at Portland of his daughter, his only child, his son having died suddenly several weeks since.

Frank A. E. Starr, a shining light of the Portland legal fraternity, was here Wednesday and will return to open an office as soon as he can make the trip to Portland and back.

City Engineer H. K. Wheeler has another new honor to wear, having been appointed deputy United States mineral surveyor for Oregon, he having already filled the position for Washington and Idaho.

Menno Unzicker, the western representative of Fraser & Chalmers, the Chicago mining machinery house, has been in Sumpter and the tributary mining camps in the interest of his company for nearly a week past.

E. C. Steffen went to Baker Wednesday of last week, returning a day later with Mrs. Steffen, who had been visiting there for a week. Mrs. Steffen participated in the lady minstrel performance given by Baker City local talent.

A. M. Kettle has sold his lease of the building now being erected by J. G. Connell next to the First Bank of Sumpter, to Ed Gove, who will occupy it as a cigar and tobacco store. Mr. Kettle will accept a responsible position with W. C. Calder.

I. B. Hammond, of Portland, who is manufacturing the big dredge for W. L. Vinson, H. S. Stebbins, of Seattle, general coast agent of the Erie Dispatch railway, and ex-Governor Black, of Utah, now a resident of Spokane, are in Sumpter, the guests of W. L. Vinson.

Wm. Mayer & Co., formerly of Eugene, Oregon, have opened a new cash market on the corner Sumpter and Center streets.

Sam White, district attorney for the Eighth district of Oregon, with office at Baker City, was here on business Friday and Saturday. Comparing this city with what it was in August last, he says: "This beats any place I ever saw for rapid and healthy growth." Of course it does.

A Card From Mr. Entermille.

The notice published in THE MINER two weeks since, in which I stated that I would not be responsible for my wife's debts, was ordered in the first place under a misapprehension. It was ordered not to be published the next day, but owing to negligence of the Telephone company, the message was not delivered for over forty-eight hours after being filed, after the paper was in the postoffice. My domestic affairs are entirely satisfactory to me and if certain busybodies will refrain from interfering with matters in which they have no concern, they will remain so.

D. ENTERMILLE.

The Cash Market and Grocery, corner of Sumpter and Center streets, a new institution handling fish, poultry and game, also fresh line of fancy and staple groceries, will be open for business on Thanksgiving, November 30. Business handled by an experienced poultry and produce man.

Handsome parlor and bedroom sets at Case, Looney & Co.'s.

Leave your orders at the Cash Market, corner Sumpter and Center, for your Thanksgiving turkeys before November 25.

DR. HENRY BROOKS, DENTIST.

Office, Center Street, opposite McEwen & Sloan's Livery Barn, Sumpter, Oregon.
