Possibilities of the Sumpter District.

Colonel E. S. Topping tells the Spokesman-Review about the boom in Sumpter, and of this district says: "Of the mining possibilities of the camp there is no question. The claims on which a good margin can be made on ore after mining and milling charges are deducted will reach this year, I believe, into the hundreds. The beauty of the camp is that it is covered with good roads and fine timber, without underbrush, so that there is no place that can not be reached with a horse and buggy. I heard recently that capital was coming in to put up electric tramways to the mines. I think this will very probably happen, as there is water power everywhere and everything seems to warrant investments of a permanent character."
