Railroads Working to Develop This Country.

connections are making the greatest effort in the history of the West to settle and develop the country through which they pass. General Passenger Agent Hulbert Short Line $5000. and Industrial Agent Judson have for several years past accomplished much in this direction, but they are now working of the registered visitors at the Omaha exon plans for advertising eastern Oregon, particularly, that will dwarf all previous efforts. It is understood that they propose to supplement the literary bureau, under the matchless direction of Colonel Donan, with other methods to attract attention to the splendid resources of this

For several years the company has maintained at its own expense experiment stations along its line in this state, where the results of irrigation have been faithfully recorded; where different grasses and plants have been grown, to determine what is best adapted to the climate and soil; in fact, where all branches of agricultural pursuits have been scientifically and practically studied. The results of all this research will be placed before the eastern farmer, both in reading matter and the actual products. Nor have the mining interests been neglected. The booklet, "Eastern Oregon Gold Fields," by Colonel Donan, has served a valuable purpose in drawing the attention of the mining world in this direction. A revised edition is now in course of preparation, which will receive wide circulation. Along with the agricultural products to be displayed in eastern cities, will be a mineral exhibit, a sort of object lesson, to prove that Colonel Donan's seeming fairy stories are in reality based on fact, that is more wonderful than fiction.

The phase of this great enterprise for which the O. R. & N. deserves greatest credit is found in the lamentable fact that the company has been working practically alone; it has received little aid or co-operation from any other source in the state. It would seem that Portland's apathy, especially, would have been not only discouraging, but irritating. The O. R. & N. will of course, co-operate with the state board at the Pan-American exposition, but will not confine its efforts in that direction; will carry on independent work in other sections.

It looks as if the company is acting in accord with the Oregon Short Line, even if the two roads are not working in closer union. The Salt Lake Herald of recent date quotes D. R. Burley, general passenger agent of the Short Line, as saying:

"We are turning heaven and earth to attract settlers to Utah and Idaho, and you in sight .- Democrat. can say that we have the best propositions for settlers to be found anywhere on the North American continent. Our colonization business is growing every day, we expect to do all that we have claimed to do in the way of building up the country, Line will be compelled to go west of Salt Lake for agricultural lands. But at the present time we are most interested in

"I predict, in fact, I offered to bet a man the other day that within three years. granting a continuance of present conditions, we will double the population of every county adjacent to our line in Idaho. We are going to work with everybody, irrigation companies, land agents and anybody else who is responsible. One-half of the population of Idaho, or 80,500 people, are located on the Oregon Short Line, and to make my prediction good we have got to bring in that many more people in three $1.00 at Henry Finger's.

years. I haven't a doubt in the world that we will do it."

The Herald, continuing, says:

The Short Line has expended immense sums in the way of advertising, and the passenger department is swamped with correspondence on the subject of Idaho, as well as Utah. By May 1, it is expected that the Dunkard population will have increased by 500 in the two states, much of the correspondence referred to being with The O. R. & N. road and its eastern tracted by the letters of the passenger department published in 6000 newspapers prepared by the Western Newspaper Union, a stroke of enterprise that cost the

> They went to an expense almost as heavy to secure the names and addresses position and mail them copies of the publications on Idaho and Utah. As a large percentage of those people were farmers the project has been attended by splendid results.

Electric Plant for the Bonanza.

A 360,000-pound electric plant is now on the cars, and will shortly be installed at the Bonanza mine, supplementing the very complete equipment of that mine. This is the property among whose Pittsburg owners a difference recently arose regarding the speed of development, and is now being settled in the courts. The litigation, however, will not interfere with the work in progress there, the issue not being intended to stop work, but to compel the management to hasten devolopment. The Sumpter Transportation company has contracts for hauling freight to the mines to be executed within the next few weeks. The charges will aggregate $20,000. This means in round numbers that 4,000,000 pounds will be hauled, and the yards are piled with machinery, while more is constantly arriving. A heavy snow fall, which will make the rough mountain roads passable for sleds, and permit the freight cargoes to be transferred to their destinations, is awaited .-Sumpter correspondence in Telegram.

More Rich Ore in the Carroll B.

The Carroll B. mine, the property of W. L. Vinson, situated in the Pleasant Valley district, twelve miles southeast of Baker City, continues to be more of a wonder than ever in the richness of its gold production. The shoot of ore crosscut some weeks ago and which was phenominally rich, has continued as drifting continued and at this time the values in the ore are greater than the first strike reported. The ledge measures fourteen feet in width and is good panning ore clear across. The rich shoot is from eight to twelve inches in width. Specimens of the ore brought to Baker City yesterday by W. L. Vinson show at least one-third gold. This body of ore is continuous from the shaft so feet and is 80 feet from the surface. The rich ore continues as development progresses and from all appearances there are many thousands of dollars
