

SEVEN DEVILS COPPER.

Mining Men are Becoming Interested There.

It is apparent from the number of arrivals in this city en route to the copper region of the Seven Devils country, that extensive work will be done there this summer.

Those of this city interested in mines and mining have long known of the existence of copper in paying quantities in the Seven Devils, but after investigating the country have come to the conclusion that owing to the inaccessibility of the region transportation facilities would never be obtained to haul the product of the mines to a smelter, so have not interested themselves much in the country.

J. M. Harrison, who owns the Copper King properties, is the latest arrival in this city from the Bay City, and he is highly elated over this summer's prospects.

"More men," said he, "have become fabulously rich from copper mines than from gold, and yet little heed is being given to the Seven Devils copper regions by those having plenty of money to be used as a nucleus for the accumulating of an immense fortune.

"The copper is undoubtedly in the district, and if the proper people become interested in it, its future is guaranteed," said Mr. Harrison.—Portland Telegram.
