FLOURISHING SUMPTER

fuse, caps, etc., and his goods are of the very best, in fact, our miners swear by them. Mr. Harrison has been here three years and has established himself firmly in the confidence of the people of this district by his honorable dealings, off-hand, liberal ways and public spirit.

HOTEL GRIFFIN

H. B. GRIFFIN

This is a hotel that gives excellent value for the modest price of one dollar a day, though we know some who charge more and yet are not as good as this. Mr. Griffin, though, is a hotel man of long experience, and by skillful buying, aided by excellent management, he is making a success of his place. Here one is looked after and meals are very satisfactory. Nor can any fault be found with the service. Neatness is a strong point of the house, and Mr. Griffin does all a man can in reason to make guests satisfied. He keeps a watchful eye over everything and no one is ever neglected in any way. His house is well known and is conveniently located, being right opposite the depot, and the only $1 a day hotel here. He retains his patrons and caters to them very successfully. Mr. Griffin is up with the times, always seeking to improve his house and as honest as the day is long. Mr. Griffin has been here five years.

F. A. E. STARR.

ATTORNEY, MINE OWNER.

Mr. Starr is a lawyer of our city who is heavily interested in several valuable mining properties and is very successful in his operations. He sold not long ago the Buckeye for a handsome figure and he is also at present developing other valuable properties on his own account. It is men of his stamp and character who command the confidence of eastern capitalists and are bringing this section to the front so rapidly. Though originally from Illinois, Mr. Starr has spent a lifetime in the northwest and practiced for twenty years in Portland, having been senior member of the firm of Starr, Thomas & Chamberlain, the last mentioned being the present Governor-elect of the State. He stood high at the bar of that city, winning his share of notable cases and he held the important position of chairman of his party for two campaigns. Mr. Starr has been a director in two national banks and was always prominent in the financial, legal, and political circles of the State, though ever declining political honors. Lately, he has devoted all his attention to mining and he has impressed himself very forcibly on the mining world of the northwest. He has made a study of the formations of this district and believes it to be one of the richest in the world. His legal knowledge and wide experience with men and affairs make his judgment specially valuable on mining propositions of various kinds and the different properties with which he is connected, some of which he owns outright, are all in first class shape. Personally, he is a gentleman of quiet manner, yet forceful personality, and of broad views and sound judgement. His financial standing and rigid integrity require no mention from us, they are sufficiently well known to all in this community. More men of his kind would be a vast benefit to our camp.

WILSON & BUCKNUM.

MINES, MINING INVESTMENTS.

Every mining camp has its class of mining men who are a benefit to the district and who conduct all their affairs on such lines as command the confidence of investors and local people, and Messrs. Wilson & Bucknum are of this type. No two operators know more of the mineral resources of this region than they, and they are both practical, of long experience and of proven integrity. When they are connected with a property, one may be sure that it has been thoroughly investigated and found well worthy of development. Their judgment is never at fault and they bear a reputation in this camp which is most creditable. They have been here some time, have a large acquaintance and are putting time and money of their own into the working of their mines. They own the Copper Dyke property on Mackenzie gulch, which will shortly be one of the largest and richest producers we have and at present it makes a fine showing. They are also interested in the Liston Lake company, a co-operative enterprise in which all interested are practical mining men, and this undertaking is in good shape. These gentlemen are succeeding handsomely in their various enterprises and it is men of their kind who are a benefit to a section. They are well known in Eastern financial circles and familiar with mining in all its phases. Messrs. Wilson & Bucknum are persons of sterling character, wide experience and their reputation has always been unquestioned.

McEWEN & WATTERS,

ASSAYERS AND MINING ENGINEERS.

These gentlemen are particularly well adapted for their profession, for not many in their calling have had the advantage of highly technical training, but Mr. McEwen is a graduate of the Royal School of Mines, England, while Mr. Watters is an alumnus of Edinburgh University. They have had a great deal of practical experience and they are recognized in the mining world as experts who are highminded, conscientious and thoroughly capable. They have large mining interests themselves and they are taking a prominent part in the development of the district. Thoroughly familiar with all branches of assaying and chemistry, their reputation is not confined to the state of Oregon by any means. Their establishment here is complete in every respect, the best in the way of appliances, chemicals, etc., being found here and their assays are always thoroughly correct and absolutely trustworthy. Prospectors and mine-owners trust them implicitly. They have made a study of the mineral formations of this region and believe that Sumpter is one day destined to be a vast mining center. Mr. McEwen, we would add, is the superintendent of the California, one of our greatest producers. They are also mining engineers of wide experience and examine mines for investors.

J. L. EVANS.

REAL ESTATE, JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Mr. Evans is a factor to be reckoned with as we note the real estate men of the district for he does considerable business and he is highly esteemed for his worthy character and high principles. He believes that the city has an assured future and that its growth will be very rapid within the next two years and he is undoubtedly right. Our realty men do a great deal for the town as they always sound its praises and they are by the very nature of their calling, far seeing, patient and broad in their views. He has been with us some time and has earned a reputation for fair dealing and righteousness. He is also interested in mines and holds the office of Justice of the Peace. Judge Evans is so well known that he requires no further mention at our hands. We want more men like him for he is a pusher every day in the year.
