Dawson Quiet This Season.

George Richards arrived in Sumpter a few days since direct from Dawson, and is visiting Eugene Bartholf. He says that the erstwhile greatest placer gold camp on earth is quiet this season, compared with former years, there having been a stampede from there last spring to Tanana, where good ground is being worked. In coming to the coast from Dawson Mr. Richards paid twenty dollars fare for 110 miles on the Alaska railroad. He will leave here in a few days for Denver.
