

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

Filling a Want.
"We call this the 'housekeeper's delight,'" said the salesman, exhibiting an other set of china.
"What's peculiar about it?" asked the customer.
"The fact that we have forty other sets just like it, together with any number of odd pieces, and expect to keep the pattern always in stock. Any piece that's accidentally broken can be replaced at half a day's notice without saying a word to the rest of the family about it."
"I'll take it," said the customer.—Chicago Tribune.

Peerless Dried Beef

Unlike the ordinary dried beef—that sold in bulk—Libby's Peerless Dried Beef comes in a sealed glass jar in which it is packed the moment it is sliced into those delicious thin wafers.

None of the rich natural flavor or goodness escapes or dries out. It reaches you fresh and with all the nutrients retained.

Libby's Peerless Dried Beef is only one of a Great number of high-grade, ready to serve, pure food products that are prepared in Libby's Great White Kitchen.

Just try a package of any of these, such as Ox Tongue, Vienna Sausage, Pickles, Olives, etc., and see how delightfully different they are from others you have eaten.

RIOT RULES IN ILLINOIS

Negroes Are Killed in Sanguinary Race War in Springfield.

Number of Whites Hurt—Mob Burns Blacks' Homes and Clubs Them As They Come Forth—Lynch One Colored Man Suspected of Shooting at Whites.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—Springfield is in the hands of a mob of enraged citizens who began last night to wreak vengeance on negro residents for an assault committed yesterday by George Richardson, a negro, on Mrs. Earl Hallam, a white woman. At 1 o'clock this morning the whole east end of town burst into flames, the torch having been applied to several negro houses by some of the more desperate mob members.

A mob of white men at 2:45 o'clock this morning lynched a negro who was supposed to be sneaking under cars on the Illinois Central tracks and shooting at the whites.

The Decatur company of the Illinois National guard arrived at 2:30 o'clock this morning and went to the "bad lands," where 20 huts occupied by negroes have been burned and where the fire is still raging.

Two men are already dead and probably two score others are injured, mostly negroes. The rabble is sweeping through the streets attacking every negro met. All the local militia are on duty, and half a dozen companies from other cities are rushing here on special trains. Still other companies are ordered to hold themselves in reserve. The fire department is helpless to combat the fire in the negro quarter on account of the threatening attitude of the mob toward the firemen.

Eugene Chafin, Prohibition candidate for president, in protecting a negro from death, was struck on the head with a brick and put out of commission temporarily. The negro he saved drew a knife and badly cut several men in the fight.

Richardson and another negro wanted for murder were stealthily taken from Springfield jail last evening and rushed to Bloomington, whence they were later taken to Peoria. It is thought that with the arrival of the out of town troops the streets will be cleared and order restored.

Negroes in two instances have turned with considerable effect upon their assailants. In one mixup a trooper attempted to separate the combatants and was nearly overwhelmed by those in pursuit of several negroes.

Most of the members of Troop B, of Taylorville, are on guard around the jail. The rioters who had gathered in front of the jail after the incarceration of Richardson were enraged by the ruse practiced by the sheriff in removing him.

Finding that the negroes were gone, the mob amused itself for a time by looting negro resorts in East Washington street. The amusement of the rioters was tragedy for the negroes, many of whom were roughly handled and beaten with pieces of their own furniture.

A white man and his son, whose names were not ascertained by the police, were shot, supposedly by negroes. This encounter further enraged the members of the mob and they began a general search for negroes wherever they could be found.

Dozen Probably Killed.
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15, 2:45 a. m.—The mob is still burning houses in the negro quarter and the police believe that a least a dozen people have been killed. No outside troops have yet arrived.

Bloomington Firemen Called.
Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 15.—At 3 a. m. the Bloomington fire department was notified to be in readiness to go to Springfield to assist in fighting the fire.

Give Jewels to Heathen.
Long Beach, Cal., Aug. 15.—Unprecedented enthusiasm for foreign missions was displayed at the morning session of the convention of Christian churches of Southern California and Arizona. When the call came for contributions to aid Rev. Royal Dye and his wife to prosecute their mission work in the Congo, men and women vied with each other in giving money and sacrificing their jewels. Gold watches and chains, gold bracelets, rings and diamonds were cast into the basket.

Rebuke to Spiritualists.
Philadelphia, Aug. 15.—Coroner Jerome today decided not to hold a court Mrs. Fannie Soult and Miss Florence Beckman, who were found praying near the partly decomposed body of Dr. L. Emerson Wheeler yesterday. The coroner issued a certificate of death from Bright's disease. He severely reprimanded the women for their spiritualistic vagaries and warned them against the practice of attempting to restore the dead to life.

Cholera Gaining Ground.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 15.—A death from cholera has been reported from a town in Tula province, close to the estate of Count Tolstoi. At Tsaritsin, where the epidemic has been most severe, 225 cases and 150 deaths have been registered since the outbreak.

ARE LEARNING KALE.

Oregon Farmers Overcome Prejudice of Long Standing.

From the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis.

Kale is one of the best talking crops in Oregon. When the Oregon booster wants to prove that Oregon is the best dairy state in the union he has to talk kale. Unless he knows what kale will do to the milk bucket he has not qualified as a booster. It is called the thousand-headed kale, and the botanist knows it as brassica oleracea, but it is the plain kale of four letters that does the talking. The strange thing is that it has only been during the last two or three years that it has had an audience, though it is nearly thirty years old in the Willamette valley. It has tried to talk all those years, but the people wouldn't listen when it sought recognition. "We never heard it talk," they insisted, "back in Iowa and New York. Back there cows produce milk without kale, and I guess they will have to here." That is tradition. It took thirty years for kale to get an audience in this state and live down tradition.

The dairymen of New York understand what green succulent food means to the dairy cow, and they build expensive silos, buy expensive machinery, and grow fertility-robbing corn, which they irrigate with their sweat, in order that the farmer during the long winter months may have an excuse for milking his cows. The Oregonian needs no expensive silos to remind the cow of the good old summer time. Kale! A thousand blessings on the thousand-headed kale! It is making Oregon the greatest dairy state in the union.

When grown under favorable conditions kale will yield 40 tons per acre as a soiling crop during the fall and winter. Splendid kale and alfalfa secured by feeding results are being secured by feeding kale and vetch hay to dairy cows, without any grain or mill feed. Dr. Withycombe of the Agricultural College, says that 15 pounds of vetch hay and 40 pounds of kale a day is practical; a balanced ration for a dairy cow. Mr. W. L. Wilson, of Banks, Or., says: "I received $207 from 14 cows in the month of December, and fed them nothing but kale, turnips and vetch hay. The man who feeds chop would have to make $237 to clear as much as I do. I have not had a speck of mill feed in the barn all winter."

Mr. Byron Hunter, of Corvallis, has, as assistant agriculturist of the bureau of plant industry, U. S. department of agriculture, made a special study of the forage crops of Western Oregon, and in Bulletin No. 91, published jointly by the Oregon Experiment Station and the Department of Agriculture, has the following to say about kale, which is timely:

Methods of Sowing.—For fall and winter use kale is usually sown in drills on well prepared and drained soil as soon after the 15th of March as the season will permit. This furnishes plants for transplanting in June and July. The land used for transplanting is well manured and plowed two or three times between the first of March and the first of June. With the land in perfect tilth it is plowed again with a 12-inch plow about the first of June, and the young kale plants dropped into every third furrow about two and a half to three feet apart. This places about one plant on every square yard. The roots of the plants are placed where the next furrow covers them, leaving the tops uncovered. The plants that are plowed in during the day in this way are rolled in the evening of the same day to pack the ground. Two or three cultivations are all that can usually be given, for the plants will soon touch in the row, if they do well. Any plants that fail to grow may be replaced by hand. Some growers prefer to plant the seed in hills, and when the plants are large enough thin them to one plant in a hill. Others put kale out just as cabbage is usually transplanted, instead of plowing it in. The time of transplanting must be determined by the size of the plants and the condition of the land. If the land is wet and subject to overflow the transplanting may be delayed until during July. If the land is well drained and the plants are large enough it may be done before the first of June. In transplanting, enough plants may be left for a stand on the land where the seedlings are grown.

A man living at Maud wants to know if he can irrigate his trees by means of a water wagon and barrels. Professor Thornber did not favor the plan, stating:

"This would be rather too complex. I am of the opinion that you will find it too great an expense, considering the value of a team and a man, to haul this water during the summer. The station would advise you to try and conserve this moisture by means of culture. This could be done with good effect during the summer months. I have had considerable experience on the state college campus in hauling water; and have concluded, first that it is impracticable to place water around the tree without a heavy mulch of straw; second, that nothing much less than a barrel of water for each tree at each watering, should be given. This will soak the ground up fairly well, and in our case, I did not need to water the trees on the campus more than twice during the summer. I do not know that it will be possible for you to make use of a heavy mulch, but in order to hold the water, it is necessary to do so. You can use rotted straw for this, or forest leaves."—From the Washington State college, Pullman.

An Affair of Honor.
"Excuse me, ma'am," said the educated hobo, "but would you favor a soldier in the great army of the unemployed with a square meal?"
"I will," replied the good woman, "if you don't mind earning a dollar by doing a few odd jobs about the premises this afternoon."
"Tardon me, ma'am," answered the e. h., "but I am a man of honor and must therefore decline to desert from the army."

One Woman's Wisdom.

Mrs. Oldwed—That's all.
Mrs. Newed—Your husband was delighted, of course?
Mrs. Oldwed—I hope you don't think I was foolish enough to tell him I got such a cheap hat.
Mrs. Newed—Where would the foolish part come in?
Mrs. Oldwed—Why, if I told him what it cost he'd expect me to be satisfied with bargain counter hats all the rest of my days.

Purify These and You Will Be Safe From Contagion

DISINFECTING THE ONLY PREVENTIVE

Borax, a Simple, Safe and Sure Method

Two tablespoonfuls of Borax in a pailful of hot water poured down the grease-choked pipes of a sink, or flushed through a disease-laden drain, cleanses and purifies it, leaving it clean and sweet.

Bed clothing and clothes used in a sick room can be made hygienically clean and snowy-white, if washed in a hot solution of Borax water.

Kitchen and eating utensils, used during illness will be kept from all possibility of contagion if Borax is used when washing them. Pure as snow and harmless as salt, and because it can be used for almost every domestic and medical purpose, Borax must be considered the one great household necessity.

Truth and Quality

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

It acts pleasantly and naturally and truly as a laxative, and its component parts are known to and approved by physicians, as it is free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always purchase the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

There is scarcely any one, no matter how vigorous and healthy, who does not need a tonic sometimes. Little physical irregularities upset the system, the appetite fails, digestion is poor, the body feels tired and worn out, and other unpleasant symptoms give warning that the system is disordered and needs assistance to ward off, perhaps, some serious sickness or ailment. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the best of all tonics, nature's medicine, made entirely of healing, cleansing, invigorating roots and herbs, a systemic remedy without an equal. S. S. S. has the additional value of being the greatest of all blood purifiers. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and brings about a return of health to those whose systems have been weakened or depleted. S. S. S. acts more promptly and pleasantly than any other medicine, and those who are run down in health should commence its use at once. It will thoroughly purify the blood and tone up the system. S. S. S. is admirably suited for a systemic remedy because it is free from minerals; it may be used without harmful results by persons of any age, and no unpleasant effects ever follow.
