Aurora, Or., Thursday, Sept. 18, 1908

Hood River has organized a "University Club" with sixty-three members. There are only two other similar organizations in the Pacific Northwest.

Postmaster-General Meyer has directed all Postmasters to confer with their local school authorities as to the practicability and desirability of delivering to the school children short talks on the postal service. The design is to inform the pupils of the scope of its operations, the methods of delivering the mails, classification of mail matter and registry and money-order systems. Incidentally they are to make known plans for betterment, such as the establishment of postal savings banks and the extension of the parcel post. It is the Postmaster-General's expectatien that the school children will be useful to the postal service in seeing that the letters are properly and plainly addressed.

The Portland Country Club and Livestock Show opens next Monday and continues all week. It will be the largest showing of livestock ever gathered together at one time in the Pacific Northwest, not excepting the marvelous exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The speed contests will be extraordinary; the great mile track is without a parallel on the American continent; the transportation facilities to and from the grounds will be excellent, as both steam and electric roads will carry their thousands. The beautiful ampitheater built upon steel trusses, the first of its kind in Oregon, is already completed.

If We Only Understood.

If we knew the cares and trials,
Knew the efforts all in vain,
And the bitter dissapointment,
Understood the loss asd gain—
Would the grim eternal roughness
Seem—I wonder—just the same?
Should we help where now we hinder?
Should we pity where we blame?

Ah, we judge each other harshly
Knowing not life's hidden force;
Knowing not the fount of action
Is less turbid at its source;
Seeing not amid the evil
All the golden grains of good;
And we'd love each other better,
If we only understood.

Could we draw back the curtains
That surround each others's lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur the action gives,
Often we should find it better
Purer than we judge we should,
We should love each other better
If we only understood.

Could we judge all deeds and motives;
See the good and bad within,
Often we should love the sinner
All the while we loathe the sin;
Could we know the powers working
To overthrow integrity,
We should judge each other's errors
With more patient charity.

CANBY ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. James Myers of Spencer, Nebraska, have bought the Bennett place, formerly owned by E. Mott, and took possession last week. They came to Oregon through an ad they saw in the Pacific Monthly, and they declare that Oregon far exceeds in resources what they expected to find. "It pays to advertise."

Mrs. John Damm of Macksburg was in town on business Wednesday.

Gordon Scramlin of Macksburg was a Canby visitor Wednesday.

J. F. Deyoe went to Portland on business Wednesday, returning in the afternoon.

Conuty School Superintendent T. J. Gary has sold his store at Willamette.

James Adkins was in Oregon City on business Tuesday.

Rev. W. J. Weber was an Oregon City visitor Tuesday.

Ralph Knight spent Tuesday in Portland on business.

Otis Nelson has returned from the hop yard and is helping out in Ralph Knight's store.

J. T. Hoopes left Monday for a hunting trip at Yaquina Bay. He will be the guest of his father while there and will hunt for bears which are quite plentiful in that section.

Hon. Thos. Harlan of Selma, Calif., was the guest of Canby friends a few days last week. Mr. Harlan is a prominent politician and will make speeches in behalf of the republican party.

Earl Latourette of Oregon City passed through Canby Tuesday evening enroute to Eugene, where he will enter the state University. Earl is a crack football player and will make good, both as a student and an athlete.

Misses Ella and Allie Armstrong came up from Portland last Friday for a few days visit with relatives in Canby. Miss Ella returned Tuesday. Miss Allie will remain for the week.

County Clerk Greenman says the registration books will be open Monday Sept., 21 and continue until October 20. Election comes on November 3rd.

Mesdames Chas. Grove, Edna Pennman, and Jennie Eccles took in the State Fair at Salem Wednesday and Thursday.

The Willamette Fruit company started up their dryer Sept. 11, under management of A. R. Cummings. The Italian prunes are almost a total failure in this vicinity, but Petits are a full crop. They will make an eight day run.

Mrs. John Carpenter and son Lowell of Salem, Ore., visited Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Roth, Sat.

For a full line of nursery stock including roses, fruit trees, shrub and ornamentals, call on or address, Chas. J. Roth, Canby, Ore., representing the Russelville Nursery Co., Order early for Fall delivery. Prices reasonable.

Mrs. Cora Walker is staying with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Dedman.

The Canby school building is now as neat and pretty as a new frock. It has been thsroughly renovated, repainted and put in first class condition. The building will be fumigated before school opens September 21.

NOTES FROM LIBERAL.

The new addition to the Liberal school house has been completed and will soon receive a new coat of paint and will compare well with other school buildings in the county when it is finished. A new cloak room has been added, and a bell tower erected and the bell installed therein. A special tax was voted by the district to cover the cost. Mr. V. H. Dunton has been secured to teach the fall term which commences Sept., 14th.

Max Huss and S. Wright are back from the huckleberry patch with their crowd composed of T. S. Stipp, Frank Care, Wm. Heinze and C. Grimn helped to make up a jolly crowd and when S. Wright's horses bolted from a big black bear Wm. Heinze gave a fine exhibition of bareback riding over the hills and down in the canyons for a pull of five miles before he caught them.

Our railroad surveyors on the Oregon City, Liberal and Scotts Mills line, have stopped work and will not resume till some right of way matter is settled one way or another. Some want the road and some do not. All are willing if it goes on the other fellows' property.

John Cole's machine is finishing up the threshing in this section and this week will see the end of the 1908 season.

The rush to the hop fields is now on and most of our neighbors are gone to gather the golden weed.

Mrs. Fred Burns and son are in Portland on a visit to her sister.

D. L. Trullinger is putting in a new dam in place of the one washed out last winter by the big flood and temporary repaired at that time.

A REAL MISER.

With Him the Ruling Passion Was Indeed Strong In Death.

The talk turned on misers, and a tilled Italian in the party said:

"Let me tell you about Arpagnlo, the famous Roman miser, and you will know what a real miser is.

"As Arpagnlo lay dying in his cold, dark, bare palace of stone on the Corso his one thought was that, since he was too ill to eat, a full lira a day was being saved on the food bill.

"The doctor was announced. The doctor, after feeling Arpagnlo's pulse, looked grave.

"'Well,' said the miser, 'how much longer have I to live?'

"'Only half an hour,' was the reply.

"Arpagnlo's eyes flashed fire.

"'You scoundrel!' he cried. 'Why do you let things run on to the last minute like this? Do you want to ruin me? Send for the barber at once.'

"The barber arrived posthaste.

"'You charge,' said Arpagnlo, '20 centisimi for shaving?'

"'Yes, signor.'

"'And for shaving a corpse 5 lire?'

"'Yes.'

"Arpagnlo glanced at the clock. Seven of the thirty minutes left him still remained.

"'Then shave me quickly,' he gasped.

"As the operation finished Arpagnlo died. But with his last breath, smiling happily, he murmured while the barber dried his cold, pale cheeks:

"'How splendid—4 lire and 80 centisimi saved!'"

Witty and Gaustic.

A woman suffrage lecturer, according to the Boston Globe, recently brought down the house with the following argument: "I have no vote, but my groom has. I have a great respect for that man in the stables, but I am sure if I were to go to him and say, 'John, will you exercise the franchise?' he would reply, 'Please, mum, which horse be that?'"

A Variation in Sport.

"What happened when you passed a law against gambling in your state?"

"The bookmakers got right to work making bets on whether it would be enforced or not."—Washington Star.
