Wedded Under Autumn Colors.

The happy couple were Dr. Archibald A. Atkinson of Dorris, Calif., and Miss Clara I. Irvin, of Aurora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Irvin. The bride and groom will locate at the home of Dr. Atkinson, very soon.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank R. Zugg of Albany, Oregon.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Atkinson are graduates of the Pacific University at Forest Grove, where they became acquainted while students. Mrs. Atkinson was a good worker in the church here and will be missed by her many friends.

The Empire for Durability

That cream separator that you are going to buy, ought to be durable. You cannot afford to buy a new one every year. Buy the best; get one that has a record for durability. Read the following:

"I am pleased to say that the Empire No. 5, which I purchased from you 12 years ago has given perfect satisfaction in every respect. I cannot recommend it too highly. It is very simple and has proven durable. I have not paid out a cent for repairs in all the years I have used the machine. I would not trade the Empire for any machine I have ever seen. To my brother farmers I would say: 'If you are thinking of buying a separator be sure and look up the Empire.' Iver Furness, Norman, Washington."
