As far as natural scenery is concerned Aurora is as prettily located as any town along the S. P. It only remains with her citizens who have the affairs of their town under control to get in and beautify it. Shade trees planted along the road coming to town and a general cleaning up would work wonders. Aurora has a commercial club and boost like every thing for home interest. Wake up Aurora.

Another runaway occurred Saturday morning. Mrs. Potrotz and son while returning home from Aurora met the runaway team driven by Billy Bouer on the long bridge north-east of town, the noise of the running team frightening the Potrotz team so that they backed squarely across the bridge. Mrs. Potrotz found time to jump out and climb to safety but after the collision there was little left of her back, her son was thrown in the air and it was found he had the small bone of his leg broken. Bill Bouer took a header, was much shaken but had no bones broken. One of his horses was badly injured. An Open Letter

Aurora, Nov. 2, 1908.

Editor Borealis:

A word in regard to the Pudding river bridge near Aurora, which the county should have looked after long ago. There have been several accidents on account of the short turn and narrow grade at the foot of the hill at the east end of the bridge and there should be at least one place to turn out on the apron of the bridge so that there might be a little opportunity of dodging in case of meeting a runaway team, an auto, or loose stock, etc. On last Saturday Mr. Will Bauers team got frightened while going down the hill and became unmanageable and another team coming across the bridge turned crosswise and entirely blocked the roadway and caused a very dangerous smashup. Mr. Potrotz's boy suffered a broken bone below the knee and also a severe bruise to the knee. Mr. Baker received only slight injuries, but one of the horses fared badly. This team was always quiet and this is its first runaway.

Now is the time to visit California

When summer has passed in these northern states, the sun is only mild under the bright blue skies of Southern California. This is one of nature's happy provisions—eternal summer for those who cannot endure a more severe climate.

California has been called the "Mecca of the winter tourist." Its hotels and stopping places are as varied as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations, congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.

Southern Pacific Company

Will be glad to supply some very attractive literature describing in detail the many delights of winter in California. Very low round trip excursion tickets are on sale to California. The rate from Canby or Aurora to Los Angeles and return is $55.00. Limit six months, allowing stopovers in either direction. Similar excursion rates are in effect to all California points.

For full information, sleeping car reservations, and tickets, call on, telegraph or write H. N. BROWN, GEO. MILLER, Agent at Canby. WM. McMURRAY, Gen. Pass. Agt. Portland, Oregon
