Makes One Exception.

"You're always kicking about our having too many laws. I suppose you would repeal the law of gravitation if you could." "No; that's always rigidly enforced. It's only the dead letter laws I'm after."

Point of View.

"What is the use," remarked the philosophical boarder, "of speculating concerning immortality?"

"What's the use," broke in the sports boarder with the turned collar, "of speculating in anything? You lose every time. That's my experience."

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

Needs All or It.
"I never saw anybody so cool, self-possessed, and quick to act in time of imminent danger as that man Globba."
"Chaffeur?"
"No; just a common pedestrian."
Declared Off.
Said He—Darling, we have been engaged for six months. Don't you think it is about time we were getting married?
Said She—Well, I'm willing to be married just as soon as you can provide me with a home.
Said He—That being the case, I suppose I am to consider the engagement broken.
Jumping at a Conclusion.
"What sort of play is this?" asked the man who had just come in and taken his seat.
The question was answered by a man named Olson, who happened to be sitting next to him.
"Ay tank—"
"O, it's a tank drama, is it?"—Chicago Tribune.

Extremely Rare.
"While I was downtown," said Mrs. Lappling, laying aside her wraps, "I saw a wonderful old violin in a music store. The clerk said it was worth $5,000. It was a genuine Sardanapala, and you know that kind is getting very scarce nowadays."—Chicago Tribune.

Wouldn't He?
"Somehow," said the political manager, "I can't help wishing I could get acquainted with the chap that held up those 125 travelers in Yellowstone park a few days ago. Wouldn't he be a dandy collector of campaign contributions?"—Chicago Tribune.

In the Mission Sunday School.
Teacher—And what do you suppose all the animals did during those forty days in the ark?
Smarty Williams—They just loafed around and scratched themselves.

Sandy Toole (disdainfully)—Chuck it, Smarty! What'd they scratch for, when there was only two fleas?—The Bohemian.

Quite the Contrary.
Mrs. Upsome—Is your dentist one of the "painless" kind?
Mrs. Oylwell—Not at all. He's no sympathetic that he says it hurts him just as much as it does me.

Great Objector.
Street Preacher—O, my friends, when Gabriel blows his trumpet what will you be doing?
Voice (from outskirts of crowd)—Waiting for Montgomery Ward to serve an injunction on him!—Chicago Tribune.

Explaining It.
The tortoise had won the race.
"I didn't half try," said the hare, with a yawn. "What's the use? We're not allowed to bet on races now, anyway."
From which it is apparent that the real facts in the case were suppressed.—Chicago Tribune.

Reassuring Him.
"Madam," said the guard on the South Side elevated, "this is the smoking car."
"That's all right, conductor," said the self-possessed matron, taking a seat. "Don't apologize. I know it's dirty, but one can't expect a smoking car to be a front parlor."—Chicago Tribune.

Apartment House Amenities.
Third Floor Renter—When you buy coffee why don't you have the grocer grind it for you?
Fourth Floor Renter—When you get a chuck steak why don't you get the butcher to hammer the daylight out of it for you?

Righteous Resentment.
"You may put that back in the show case!" said the indignant Mrs. Lappling to the milliner. "I wouldn't even wear much less buy, a hat named in honor of that horrid murderess, Charlotte Corduroy!"

None in Evidence.
Mrs. Highsome—Yes, he's the Duke of Hufhouse. In speaking of him, you know, of course, we use the term, his grace.
Mrs. Suddyn-Klymer—His grace? Why, he hasn't any! He's a regular luminal!

Nasty matter.
The timid woman, who had letters of introduction to the great man, had ventured to call.
"You are so busy, judge," she said, "that I—I hesitated about disturbing you. How many—days in the work do you work?"

Collateral Evidence.
His indignant grandmother had given him a half of a custard pie.
"You seem to like it, Tommy," she said.
"Like it!" exclaimed Tommy, taking it away from his face for a moment, "jes' see how I'm mussin' up my ears!"—Chicago Tribune.

Knows Better Now.
"If you wish to have everybody for your friend," counseled her elderly adviser, "don't be a talker; be a listener."
It was not until after she had secured a job as telephone girl in the central office that she found out what a mistake she had made in taking the advice literally.

Parallel Case.
"My observation," said the sage, "leads me to the conclusion that the more wealth one gives away the more wealth one has."
"It's just exactly the same way with kisses," whispered one of his listeners, a demure little miss who was sitting by a big man with a beard.

May Change University Paper.

University of Oregon, Eugene.—The associated students of the university are planning, if finances permit, to make the "Oregon Weekly," the university newspaper, a semi-weekly instead of a weekly. The change, if made, will probably take place about the time of the Christmas vacation. Since the number of students in the university has become so large, news matter is much more abundant and many stories are crowded out each week on account of lack of space. Earl Kilpatrick, of La Grande, is editor-in-chief, and Dean Goodman, of Pendleton, business manager.

Increase Commodity Rates.

Portland.—Important changes in freight rates to and from the Pacific coast will be made by the new transcontinental tariffs that are to go into effect January 1. All points on the Pacific coast between San Diego, Cal., and Vancouver, B. C., will be effected by the changes. It is said that the tendency will be to increase commodity rates under the new tariff. Some increases as high as 10 per cent are intended, although the average will be from 5 to 10 cents on the hundred. Class rates, it is said, will be slightly reduced.

Prosperous Year for Stockmen.

Vale.—With the close of a prosperous year for farmers, cattlemen and sheepmen in southeastern Oregon, there are abundant signs of prosperity reflected in the growth of the towns of the district. As the gateway to the markets for the greater part of Malheur and Harney counties, Vale, the terminus of the Malheur railroad which connects with the Short Line at Ontario, is reaping the benefit of the general prosperity prevailing over the territory, and is showing signs of developing into a modern, progressive and energetic community.

Famine Threatens Klamath.

Klamath Falls.—Flour is now selling in Klamath county at $3.20 a hundred weight, and it is believed from the present outlook that there will not be enough to last until spring. It is probable that grain and flour will have to be shipped into this country before next season's crop is ready. Wheat is now selling at $1.50 a hundred weight, and oats and barley about the same. This price is nearly double that of last year.

Buying Up Light Plants.

Vale.—The Vale Electric Light company changed hands a few days ago. The new purchasers are the Ox Bow people, who are diverting the Snake river, near Huntington, across the "Ox Bow" in order to get power for electric light, electric railways, etc. The new company is purchasing a number of different plants in Eastern Oregon and Southern Idaho. Hope Bros., of Vale, were the former owners of the Vale Light company.

Telephones for McKay Creek.

Prineville.—Fourteen McKay creek ranchers have organized the McKay Creek Telephone company, to connect this valley with Prineville, and Portland on an independent farmers' line. The new line will form part of a general county circuit, which embraces the districts of Bear creek, Beaver creek, Riverdale, Eagle rock, Pilot Butte and Checco. A central exchange will be established in Prineville.

Plans Elaborate Special.

University of Oregon, Eugene.—The class of 1910 of the university of Oregon is planning on an elaborate issue of the "1910 Beaver," the annual issued each spring by the members of the junior class. Oliver Huston of Portland, has been elected editor-in-chief and Cary V. Loosely, of Klamath Falls, business manager.

Buying Big Farms at Vale.

Vale.—The big profits made by the ranchers, combined with the fine climate of Malheur county, is attracting a number of settlers from the cities of the East, and Vale recently has been headquarters for several parties of home seekers for the comparatively wealthy class.

SHIP SUGAR BEETS.

Union.—Within a few days practically all the sugar beet crop of this district will have been gathered and shipped to the factory at La Grande. Last week shipments aggregating 180,000 pounds, or 90 tons per day, were made, and it will require a few days more to clear the fields. With the cold nights of the last two weeks farmers have been hurrying the crop to market with all haste, and shipments have been made regularly. The plant is running at full capacity, and enough beets are now on hand to keep it in operation for weeks.

It is complained generally that the plant at La Grande cannot secure average enough of beets to keep the factory in operation long enough in a season to make the business profitable. Around this town a number of colonies have been established, and the fields are used almost exclusively for beet culture, with good profits to the producer. A number of German families have been brought in this season, and labor is more plentiful than ever before.

Institutes in Klamath.

Klamath Falls.—Klamath county farmers have formed an organization and will conduct local institutes in the various towns of the irrigated district during the coming winter. The first of the institutes was held at Klamath Falls last week, at which Hon. J. W. Bailey, state dairy and food commissioner, was the principal speaker, and gave the farmers some excellent advice as to the importance of dairy development. The institute was under the auspices of the Klamath chamber of commerce, and aroused considerable interest and enthusiasm. As a result, it is the purpose of the active citizens to keep the good work going.

Improve Marshfield Mines.

Marshfield.—Extensive improvements important to Marshfield have been announced by the Spokane, Yakima & West Coast Railroad company, the Spokane corporation which purchased from the Oregon Coal & Navigation company the Libby coal mine at Marshfield, the steamer M. P. Plant and 3580 acres of land near the city. The president of the company, Colonel D. H. Butts, of North Dakota, and M. N. Knappenburg, the secretary and manager of Spokane, have been here closing the deal, and are preparing to improve the property.

Record Building Era.

Brownsville.—Brownsville is assuming metropolitan proportions. Two new brick business blocks have been completed, and fine residences are rising on all sides. There have been more substantial buildings erected during the past year than in any previous ten years. Brownsville's most pressing need is train service. It takes passengers two days to make the trip to Portland and return, a distance of less than 200 miles.

Josephine Irrigation Work.

Grants Pass.—All of the material for the new steel bridge across Rogue river in this city is now on hand, and work of construction will begin at once. The construction company hopes to have the new structure ready for traffic early in 1909. The bridge will have a width of 25 feet, and will be constructed to accommodate both wagons and cars.

S.S.S. NATURE'S PERFECT TONIC

There is scarcely any one, no matter how vigorous and healthy, who does not need a tonic sometimes. Little physical irregularities upset the system, the appetite fails, digestion is poor, the body feels tired and worn out, and other unpleasant symptoms give warning that the system is disordered and needs assistance to ward off, perhaps, some serious sickness or ailment. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the best of all tonics, nature's medicine, made entirely of healing, cleansing, invigorating roots and herbs, a systemic remedy without an equal. S. S. S. has the additional value of being the greatest of all blood purifiers. It re-establishes the healthy circulation of the blood, rids the body of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and brings about a return of health to those whose systems have been weakened or depleted. S. S. S. acts more promptly and pleasantly than any other medicine, and those who are run down in health should commence its use at once. It will thoroughly purify the blood and tone up the system. S. S. S. is admirably suited for a systemic remedy because it is free from minerals; it may be used without harmful results by persons of any age, and no unpleasant effects ever follow.

MAPLEINE A Flavoring. It makes a syrup better than Maple.

Good as Their Word.
"Did those new grocers keep their promise that they would 'cut your grocery bills in half'?"
"They did. They send their bills twice a month."—Chicago Tribune.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Statistics.
In all probability the first administrative act of the first regular government was to number its fighting men and to ascertain as nearly as was possible what amount of taxation could be levied on the rest of the community. As human society grew more highly organized there can be no doubt that a very considerable body of official statistics must have come into existence. We know that such was the case in Greece, Rome and Egypt, but it was not until within the last two or three centuries that systematic use of the information available began for purposes of investigation rather than mere administration.—New York American.

Unlucky Accident.
"What's the trouble back there in the sleeper?" asked the passenger in the smoking car.
"Little mixup between a New England manufacturer and a Louisiana sugar planter," said the agitated conductor, applying his handkerchief to divers and sundry scratched places on his face. "They happened to have berths in the same section, and they got to talking about the tariff."
Going Him One Better.
"Your opponent," they told him, "is going around the country and kissing all the babies."
"That's an old dodge," said the candidate. "Gentlemen, I shall do something a thundering sight better than that!" Here he brought his fist down on the table with a bang.
"I shall cause it to be published broadcast that I will marry the young woman who brings out the biggest amount of votes for me! By the jumping jingo, I'll wipe that baby kisser off the face of the earth!"

Rheumatism Prescription.
The increased use of whiskey for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Compound and one ounce of Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."
Toris compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it is as well as the other ingredients, can be had from any good druggist.
